Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, May 23. [To the Editor of the Times:] We finally got the real low down on the intelligence of the Senate. The Capitol Building put in dial telephones, and out of ninety-six members only two knew enough to work 'em. And both these members were men who had been defeated at the last election, showing they knew entirely too much to be in there. Carter Glass thought it was a rat trap and baited his with cheese, so they are going to have them taken out. There is nobody to put the blame on but yourself if you get the wrong number. They want nothing connected with the Senate in any way where the responsibility can't be shifted.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

P.S.—Los Angeles census is not out yet. Our surveyers are still annexing more territory. We had Mexico City and the League of Nations made us give it back.

Favorable Action Likely on Appropriation and Work Then Will Start

Wilbur Promises Revision of Contracts Regarding Power Details

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT

WASHINGTON, May 23. (Exclusive)—Boulder Dam hearings before the House Appropriation Committee were concluded today with Secretary Wilbur and friends of the project confident favorable action will be taken on the request for $10,660,000 to get work started this summer.

Arizona foes of the project agreed, privately, that they have failed in their fight to block the appropriation. They said they realized from the start that they were confronted by an uphill proposition in their efforts to convince the committee that the power contracts signed at Los Angeles are basically unsound

CHICAGO HAS 3,335,000

Population Gain 21 Per Cent

Suburban Increase Gives County Estimated Total of 5,000,000

BY JOHN P. GALLAGHER
"Times" Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, May 23. (Exclusive)—The 1930 population of Chicago, based on census figures so far reported—thirty-four of fifty wards—was estimated today by census and civic leaders as approximately 3,335,000, an increase of something in excess of 500,000, or about 21 per cent over the 1920 census figures, which were 2,701,705.

The figures of the thirty-four wards officially announced show a total of 2,215,179, a gain of 301,926 over the last census figures for the same wards. A check-up of the nearly completed returns of the remaining sixteen wards indicates their total will be about 1,183,800.

On the basis of census returns so far reported in Cook county, it is estimated that what is known as the Chicago metrolopitan area will show a gain of approximately 60 per cent since 1920, which would bring the county population to the 5,000,000 mark, compared with 3,300,000 in 1920.

CITY TO CELEBRATE

A city-wide celebration of Chicago's growth during the last decade will be held in June, the Chicago Association of Commerce announced today. June 11 has been set as a tentative date with the neighborhood and community jubilations reaching their climax in a luncheon to which representatives of Chicago's 300 community associations will be invited.

By that date, Joseph E. Vesley, chairman of the Chicago census advisory committee, declared the local census will be completed—at least to the point where the preliminary figure of 3,350,000 for the city will be verified.

SUBURBS GAIN

The towns in Cook county close to Chicago or actually a part have shown a remarkable growth. With a 1930 population of 47,005 compared with but 14,150 in 1920, Berwyn, which adjoins Chicago, was proclaimed by Census Supervisor Vesley, the fastest-growing suburb with more than 10,000 residents in the Middle West. The increase amounts to 240 per cent.

A population increase of 24,532, or almost 66 per cent since 1920, was shown by Evanston returns which have been officially released. The 1930 population is 61,766, as against 37,234 in 1920. Evanston also adjoins Chicago.

An increase of 23,961, or 60.1 per cent, was shown by Oak Park. The population as officially announced is 63,819.

Winnetka shows a 1930 population of 12,084, compared to 6694 in 1920, while Lake Forest, also a millionaires' colony, shows a similar increase from 3567 in 1920 to 6137 in 1930.

NEWARK LOSES FIFTEENTH POSITION

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—Newark, N. J., fifteenth city in size in 1920, entered the 1930 list with so small a percentage of increase as to lose her position.

Already Newark, present population 439,506, a 6.02 per cent increase, has been passed by Minneapolis, eighteenth city in 1920, with a 1930 showing of 462,611, a 21.5 per cent increase.

Ten years ago, the tenth to fifteenth cities in order of size were: Buffalo, San Francisco, Milwaukee, Washington and Newark.

Today the ratings run: San Francisco, 625,974; Buffalo, 572,913; Milwaukee, 568,962; Washington, 465,716; Minneapolis, 462,611; Newark, 439,506.

Cincinnati and New Orleans, both of which rated ahead of Minneapolis last census, have not yet reported.

SEAMEN TO BE LISTED IN BAY CITY POPULATION

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23. (Exclusive)—Thomas A. Maloney, one of San Francisco's two census supervisors, today announced the consent of Washington to include in this city's population the seamen on ships which make this their home port. The increase will be about 7000, bringing the city's population to approximately 632,974. The

CHEAP OLYMPICS HAILED

Delegates at Berlin Congress Amazed at Low Cost Set for Trip to Los Angeles

BERLIN, May 23. (AP)—Word from Los Angeles that Olympic athletes will be able to travel from Europe to California for the Olympic Games of 1932, stay two weeks and return, all for $375 each, proved a sensation among Olympic Congress delegates today.

The lowest estimate previously expected was around $1200 per athlete and European commentators consequently had been pessimistic as to participation.

Now that Los Angeles has solved the problem, however, enthusiasm has increased. Interest has been greatly augmented also by showing of films before the International Olympic Congress depicting the actual equipment available at Los Angeles.

"If we hadn't brought the films along," remarked Gen. Charles H. Sherill, one of the three American members of the committee, "they would never have believed us."

Berlin sports writers are drawing heavily on exclamation marks in their efforts to describe the splendor and breadth of the Los Angeles preparations.

"They offer us fifteen complete training fields!" remarked one commentator. "At Amsterdam there was only one."

CAFETERIA IDEA STUMPS COMMITTEE

BERLIN, May 23. (AP)—The International Olympic Committee today approved the proposal of the Los Angeles group to build an Olympic village to house the athletes in the 1932 Games, but paused over the idea of a cafeteria-food service.

The committee, unfamiliar with American habits, voiced misgivings over the idea of self-service.

"Would it not lower the dignity of the athletes to ask them to stand in line for meals?" they asked. Their fears were smoothed away finally with the explanation that even wealthy Americans eat at cafeterias.

BOXING FEDERATION DECISIONS ANNOUNCED

BERLIN, May 23. (AP)—The International Amateur Boxing Federation, convening here, today decided that referees hereafter must officiate from inside the ring instead of outside and that the point judges must be neutrals.

It also decided to send to the Los Angeles Olympic Games in 1932 only eight competitors from Europe, namely the European champion in each class.

The federation instructed its two delegates to the Olympic Congress to oppose "broken time," the term applied to reimbursement for time lost from work.

Eleven nations were represented at the meeting, the delegates including Daniel J. Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union, and Murray Hulbert, former president of that organization, representing the United States.

SUN FELLS FORTY-SIX CHILDREN

New Jersey Program Has to be Called Off Due to Dire Effects of Heat

NEW YORK, May 23. (Exclusive) Forty-six school children, ranging from 8 to 14 years of age, were prostrated by the heat this afternoon during the annual pageant and drill of 4000 pupils of the Kearny (N. J.) public schools in the stadium of Kearny High School. So severe was the heat in the glare of the sun that the program had to be cut short and the rest of the children dismissed.

While approximately 2000 parents and other relatives of the children gathered in the streets the youngsters marched out in columns directly into the sun's glare and began a series of May pageants and gymnastic drills. With the thermometer standing at 90, the children quickly began to show the effects of the heat.

Within a few minutes children all over the field had collapsed unconscious. They were carried by spectators to a classroom, which was converted into a temporary hospital. Doctors and nurses were summoned and after first-aid treatment all of the stricken children were revived and went to their homes, apparently with no serious after-effects.

Here in the greater city the mercury soared to 89 deg., a new high level for the year.

Withuhn Ready to Meet Any Oratory Demands; Finals on Tonight

Orations of the first, second and third-place winners in the finals of the Seventh National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution, which will be held in Washington, tonight, will be broadcast in Los Angeles at 11 a.m. tomorrow by KHJ, the Don Lee station, through a hook-up with the Columbia Broadcasting System.

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 23. (Exclusive)—A four-minute extemporaneous oration, a requirement included in the National Oratorical Contest this year for the first time, holds no terrors for the Pacific Coast representative, V. L. Withuhn, Seattle high-school senior.

His subject for the prepared oration is "John Marshall and the Federal Constitution." Considering that the decisions of the famous Chief Justice had great weight in giving form to our basic law, and that the judges would most likely call on him to speak on some one of Marshall's decisions, young Withuhn has studied thirty of the more important decisions of the great justice. He told contest officials today that he feels he can speak extemporaneously on any one of these thirty if asked to use them as a topic.

All seven of the contestants are now in Washington. One of the unusual features of the contest, the seventh, is the extreme youth of the participants. Three of them are but 15 years of age.

ZEPPELIN ON HER WAY TO RIO JANEIRO

Dirigible Will Pass Over German Colonies on Trip from Pernambuco

RIO JANEIRO, May 24. (Saturday) (AP)—The Graf Zeppelin, en route from Pernambuco to Rio Janeiro, passed Maragogy at 1:25 a.m. (8:25 p.m. P.S.T. Friday.) Maragogy is about seventy-five miles south of Pernambuco, from where the ship departed.

PERNAMBUCO (Brazil) May 23. (AP)—The Graf Zeppelin winged her way into the tropical night at 11:55 p.m. (6:55 p.m. P.S.T.) for a voyage of 1250 miles to Rio Janeiro and Southern Brazil.

The commander of the Graf is planning to fly over the German colonies in the far southern states of Santa Catherina, Parana and Rio Grande do Sul. He may attempt a landing at Sao Paulo.

Two of the airship's crew were burned during the operation of replenishing the gas supply. Their injuries are not dangerous, however.

The Graf slowly rose and within five minutes from the time the mooring ropes were cast off she was off for the south.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, accompanied by the German Consul, Brazilian functionaries and members of the German colony, arrived at the field at 10 p.m.

VETO FACES BOX BILL

Hoover's Views Disclosed

Four Federal Departments Will Advise Against Mexico Measure

President's Attitude Given Erroneously by House Proponent

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 23. (Exclusive) — President Hoover will veto the Harris or Box bill excluding Mexicans from entry into the United States if it ever reaches him. Four departments of the Federal government—State, Agriculture, Interior and Commerce—will recommend to him this action. In addition to this the Federal Farm Board will also recommend a veto.

Speaker Longworth, Republican House Leader Tilson and Chairman Snell of the House Rules Committee are adverse to granting a rule or permitting the passage of this bill under the suspension of the rules at any time before the adjournment of the present Congress.

MEXICO RESENTFUL

This together with the protest of the Mexican government informally made by Ambassador Tellez and the outstanding opposition of the United States Chamber of Commerce and other bodies means that no bill to limit Mexican immigration will become a law in spite of the efforts of Senator Harris of Georgia, and Albert Johnson of Washington, chairman of the House Committee on Immigration.

It became certain today that Chairman Johnson misrepresented the position of President Hoover in order to force the Box bill, which is identical with the Harris bill, out of the House committee by a vote of 12 to 2. He called at the White House early yesterday morning and told several Senators and Representatives that he had seen the President and that he was assured that if the bill passes the House it will be approved by President Hoover.

HOOVER'S ATTITUDE

Instead, it is known that all President Hoover told Chairman Johnson was that he could not sign a bill which would be an insult to Mexico alone, and that if no legislation of this character was enacted he would guarantee through the State Department that Mexican immigration would be kept down to the lowest possible mark under the visa system, which has been more than satisfactory to both nations in the past several months.

In view of the early adjournment of the House it now seems certain that there will be no legislation at this session excluding Mexican immigrants from the United States.

Wet Opponents of Pinchot Seek Ticket Leader

PHILADELPHIA, May 23. (Exclusive)—Wet opponents of Gifford Pinchot, who have already determined to put a ticket in the field against him at the Fall election, today began casting about for a candidate to lead them.

Among those mentioned are some of the State's most eminent men. The new Personal Liberty party, the name of which was pre-empted in Harrisburg Wednesday, is reported to be considering three outstanding men for Governor. They are Justice Keppart of the State Supreme Court, Chief Justice Von Moschzisker and Ralph Beaver Strassburger of Norristown, publisher and former diplomat.

NORTHCOTT END NEAR

Death of Slayer Expected

Doomed Wineville Rancher Suffers Appendicitis But Rejects Operation

San Quentin Doctors Declare Illness Fatal Unless He Submits to Surgery

SAN QUENTIN, May 23. (Exclusive)—Steadfastly refusing an operation Gordon Stewart Northcott, condemned slayer of three boys on a Wineville chicken ranch, is in a critical condition in the prison hospital here tonight with an attack of acute appendicitis which the physicians fear may cause his death before many more hours pass.

Taken to the surgery ward of the hospital from the condemned row yesterday Northcott, although in extreme pain, has refused doctors permission to operate. The State law says that a prisoner must give his consent to any major operation.

ICE PACKS ORDERED

Last night he was in a semiconscious condition, and Dr. F. Edwin Garfinkle, assistant prison physician, ordered ice packs applied to the man's abdomen in an effort to thwart the increasing pain.

This is the second attack of appendicitis suffered by Northcott since he came to the prison from Los Angeles. Shortly after arrival fifteen months ago he was stricken—and refused an operation—but recovered after several days in the infirmary.

While the 21-year-old Canadian is suffering from the constant intense pain, a high fever, which shows no sign of abating, developed today, and Northcott practically is "given up" by the surgeons.

Northcott was sentenced to death in a Riverside county court in February, 1929, for murdering with ax and rifle three young boys whom he held prisoner on the "murder farm" and mistreated.

His mother, Sarah Louise Northcott, in an effort to aid her son pleaded guilty to complicity in one of the killings and is confined for life in this prison.

When Northcott went to trial he created a sensation in court by summarily dismissing his attorneys and proceeding with his own defense, wherein he practically admitted the crimes as charged. After hearing his case the jury retired but a few minutes and returned with a verdict that sent him here to face the gallows.

WOULD CHEAT NOOSE

During his incarceration in condemned row, Northcott is declared by fellow-prisoners to have expressed several times the wish that he might die from disease—and escape the noose.

The children he killed, according to the charge and verdict, were Nelson and Lewis Winslow of Pomona, and he also was suspected of shooting and decapitating an unidentified Mexican.

JUDGE ENGS CANDIDACY FORFEITED

Jurist Still Missing as Time Limit Runs Out on Chance to File for Race

OAKLAND, May 23. (Exclusive)—Whether he is missing on his own initiative or involuntarily, Superior Judge Engs tonight lost his chance to succeed himself on the Alameda county bench.

As the legal time limit for declaration of candidacy expired the disappearance of the jurist remains a greater enigma than at any time since he dropped from sight the 15th inst., and every logical clew to his whereabouts exhausted without a sign of promise.

As the last hours approached for filing declarations and it became apparent Judge Engs would not reappear or his body be found, there was a rush of candidates for the position. Early tonight, fourteen had placed their applications on file.

Dragging of Lake Merritt, 150-acre body of water in the heart of the city, was completed today without result and Chief of Police Drew turned again to the assistance of trailing dogs.

TOAD-TOTIN' TADS EGGED ON

Little Rascals Who Carry Frogs and Snakes Into Schoolroom Find Champion

DENVER, May 23. (AP)—Bad boys who take toads, mice and snakes into the schoolroom may be a terror to the teacher, but they are voicing the trend of modern education, in the view of their champion, Dr. Randall J. Condon, Friendship, Me., fifth vice-president of the national Congress of Parents and Teachers and speakers at their convention here.

"We should bring the life of the community into the schoolroom," says Dr. Condon. "For years we thought we would shut the school and teacher off in a corner where they would work out their problems in a separate nook set aside for them. That is not progress.

"The boy who takes a toad into the schoolroom is all right. We should have more such boys. They are getting life into the schoolroom."

Speaking of the increasing tendency toward vocational education, Dr. Condon believes that vocational and so-called cultural education are not at loggerheads, and that ideal instruction strikes a medium ground.

A dinner honoring Mrs. Hugh Bradford of Sacramento, Cal., newly elected president of the national congress, and other officers, was given tonight, which will close the convention proper.

The site of the 1931 convention, with Hot Springs, Ark., and St. Louis as the principal contenders, will be made known after a meeting of the board of managers Saturday.

ARMY AIR MAN TALKS OF BASE

Bay City Fog Discussed at House Naval Hearing

Maj. Hickam Fails to Give Northerners Lever

Admiral Moffett Will be on Stand Monday

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 23. (Exclusive)—Maj. H. M. Hickam, Army Air Corps officer attached to the general staff, appeared before the House Naval Affairs Committee today in the San Francisco-San Diego dirigible base controversy, despite the high hopes of the northern contingent favoring Sunnyvale, did not damage the case for the southern site.

Sunnyvale adherents were hopeful that Maj. Hickam would testify before the committee so that they could use it as a leverage in gaining not only the naval lighter-than-air base, but also an Army heavier-than-air base in the San Francisco area.

Maj. Hickam gave them no comfort. He admitted that the Army would be able to protect a lighter-than-air base in the San Francisco area, but in his explanation of how it could be done gave the committee a rudimentary lecture on the primary principles of organization of the Army Air Corps.

MEANS OF TRANSPORTATION

"The airplane and the airship are not new weapons," Hickam said, "it is a means of transportation."

The witness stressed the mobility of the air corps and the fact that it would certainly not use the fields now in use during a conflict. Should war be declared, he said, the air corps would concentrate at critical points using other bases than the present ones.

For these reasons the Northern California group were unable to pin him down to a recommendation that San Francisco should have an additional Army heavier-than-air base.

Maj. Hickam attempted to refute the testimony of previous witnesses who stated that fog on the coast around San Francisco offered a screen for enemy attack by air on the dirigible hangars. He said that such fog would at the same time aid the dirigible in its work of scouting. Later he admitted that these conditions would be advantageous to an enemy launching an air attack on the base.

EXPLAINS USE OF "EGG"

He upheld his position that fog would aid the dirigible in scouting by explaining the use of a one-man "egg," a container for an observer, which could be swung at the end of a long cable from the dirigible. The dirigible capable of flying through fog, could remain hidden in fog or clouds, drop the "egg" and its observer into the clear atmosphere, where he could carry on scouting observation, reporting to the airship by phone.

Observers at the hearing later pointed out that Hickam's testimony that a dirigible is a long-range scouting ship, and that the fog "cover" is local, do not fit together.

Representative Evans of Glendale, committee member, forced an admission from the witness that the airship should operate with the fleet. Previously Hickam had said that very close contact with the fleet is not necessary, but his admission undid the work of his earlier "smoke screen" and evened the score between the Sunnyvale site and the San Diego base site at Camp Kearny.

OKLAHOMAN'S QUERIES

Only Chairman Britten's cross-examination of the witness in an attempt to prove that San Francisco is the logical base for the fleet was missing from the routine of today's hearing. The witness being an army man the chairman apparently did not feel justified in trying to obtain his indorsement for a San Francisco naval base.

Representative McClintic of Oklahoma, who believes the base should be in Oklahoma City, received a shock today when the witness told him that the base must be on the coast if it is to be in California because of the mountains behind the chosen site which might cut off the ship from the coast if the base goes further inland. McClintic's favorite way of cross-questioning is to ask the witness if the base would not be safer from enemy attack if moved 100 miles or so inland and then indicating how much safer it would be if it was placed in Oklahoma. This form of cross-examination was cut short when Hickam said the base would not be moved inland without interference from the mountainous terrain.

The committee adjourned until Monday when Admiral Moffett, chief of naval aviation and strong Sunnyvale proponent, will go on the stand.

EQUALITY RULES IN FAMILY VOTE

Husband and Wife Tied in Race for Comitteeman at The Dalles, Or.

THE DALLES (Or.) May 23. (Exclusive)—The situation in the family of Chris Peterson here is delicate, to say the least.

Both Peterson and his wife, Elvina, ran for Republican precinct committeeman and both received exactly the same number of votes. Now they must decide between them which will assume the office.

Friends are placing bets on whether Chris will say: "After you, my dear Elvina," or whether Elvina will say: "After you, my dear Chris." One other candidate for the office received a single vote and diplomats in the Republican party suggest that this candidate be allowed to cast that vote, thereby settling the matter for the Petersons.

Kilborn Estate Will be Used for Sanatorium

AUBURN, May 23. (Exclusive)—To perpetuate the Kilborn name for all time, the bulk of the estate of George D. Kilborn, a former Nevada politician and Reno publisher, will eventually find its way into the George D. Kilborn Sanatorium Fund, which is to support a sanatorium where any Kilborn, no matter where he lives, may regain his health.

This is according to the terms of a will filed for probate in the County Clerk's office by the attorneys for Mrs. Katherine Kilborn, the widow. Mrs. Kilborn will have the use of the Kilborn fortune as long as she lives.

The proposed sanatorium will be located on the old Kilborn homestead in Jefferson county, New York; if there are not enough Kilborns to fill the sanatorium, the needy residents of Jefferson county, New York, may be admitted.

GERMANY'S MILITARY BUDGET BILL PASSES

BERLIN, May 23. (AP)—The military budget of the Bruening Cabinet was passed on second reading in the Reichstag tonight. The second installment for Germany's 10,000-ton armored cruiser "A," was approved by 207 votes to 184, but the first installment for the proposed cruiser "B" was rejected, 270 to 129. The proposal for the construction of a second 10,000-ton armored cruiser was reintroduced by the Nationalists, only to be defeated for the second time.

ARIZONA PRELATE'S CONDITION IMPROVES

PHOENIX, May 23. (AP)—The condition of Bishop Daniel J. Gercke, ranking prelate of the Catholic Church in Arizona, is slightly improved today, hospital attendants reported, but he still is critically ill. Bishop Gercke developed pneumonia Tuesday night following a cold contracted while on a trip through Northern Arizona.

EMBARGO ON RUSS MATCHES

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—Secretary Mellon has issued an anti-dumping order against safety matches from Russia, importation of which he found would be likely to injure the safety-match industry in the United States. The action of the Secretary places an embargo on the matches from Russia.

work of listing the sailors remains to be done. The 7000 figure is merely an estimate based on shipping registers.

SOUTHERN TOWNS COUNT NEARS END

The census count of the smaller towns near Los Angeles is nearing completion, according to the census supervisors, who yesterday predicted that most of the tabulations will be completed within the next ten days. Yesterday Monrovia township was the only figure released in the district with a total of 12,365 inhabitants and 294 farms.

During the past week the five districts in the Los Angeles area started the work of paying the enumerators, which when completed will leave only the task of tabulating returns.

Census Supervisor Kincaid has set June 2 as the day when the totals for Los Angeles will be released and has planned a meeting of the five supervisors on that date. He said the time of the meeting had not been definitely set.

The names of 268 persons who returned absentee blanks to the census officials without supplying addresses were given yesterday by the census committee of the Chamber of Commerce with an appeal that those listed furnish their correct address either to the chamber committee or to their census supervisor.

BYRD SHIP ARRIVES AT CANAL ZONE

Admiral Greets Aides as Eleanor Bolling Ties Up at Balboa Harbor

BALBOA (Canal Zone) May 23. (AP)—The sturdy little steamship Eleanor Bolling came to port today bearing homeward the famous second in command of the Byrd Antarctic expedition, Prof. Laurence Gould, geologist, of the University of Michigan.

Also among her passengers are the intrepid Bernt Balchen and Harold June, who, with their distinguished commander, made the unprecedented flight from Little America to the South Pole and back.

Rear-Admiral Byrd greeted his comrades of the history-making exploration personally. It was a warm, brotherly reunion that took place on the deck, after a separation in which the returning travelers had continued to experience excitement and hardships due to severe weather on the voyage.

SENATE G.O.P. TO MAP COURSE

Party Conclave for Monday Called by Watson

Navy Pact and Rivers and Harbors Bill, Topics

Whether to Go on With Them to be Decided

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—A conference of Senate Republicans was called for Monday by Senator Watson, the party leader, today to determine whether the London naval treaty and the rivers and harbors bill shall be disposed of at this session.

Watson said he believes the conference will favor threshing out both propositions now.

President Hoover has asked for prompt consideration of the treaty but has not expressed himself on the $120,000,000 rivers and harbors legislation.

Senate foes of the treaty are urging that its consideration be deferred until next session. Chairman Borah of the Foreign Relations Committee, who is in charge of the pact, intends to press for quick action.

Advocates of the treaty believe they have a substantial majority in favor of immediate consideration.

While serious Senate difficulties face the rivers and harbors bill, its proponents claim a majority. Most of the controversies were settled in committee.

Senator Watson believes it would take at least one week for disposition of the rivers and harbors bill and not less than two weeks to reach a treaty vote. A full week of debate is ahead also on the tariff bill. If the full program is determined on, adjournment before the first of July is believed unlikely.

MENACE IN FLOOD ON INCREASE

Waters of Red River in Louisiana Sweep Over Additional Areas

SHREVEPORT (La.) May 23. (AP) As the rush of water moved down Red River, levee officials today were inclined to discount damage predictions, while the Weather Bureau stood by its original forecast that it would reach a serious stage.

While the Shreveport section still bore the brunt of flood waters, mainly from bayous and overflow, the Red spilled over today on both sides in Red River parish and was moving into Natchitoches parish with telling effect. The overflow in Red River parish is estimated by B. W. Marston, plantation owner, as being ten miles long and fifteen miles wide, affecting property of some fifty families.

To the northwest of Shreveport Cross bayou spread its overflow farther out over the countryside. On the Red south of Shreveport at Shreve Island the main levee was holding late today with levee officials predicting it would stand the pressure. Workmen labored on in the construction of a protection levee around the spot in the bend of the river that has been crumbling for two days. More than a third of the levee was reported caved in.

RIVER IN ARKANSAS SETS THREE-YEAR RECORD

ELDORADO (Ark.) May 23. (AP)—The Ouachita River rose above its record level of the 1927 flood at Calion, Ark., north of here today, reports said, inundating more lands and compelling further evacuation of homes. Already 500 of this town's 900 residents have left their homes, and are sheltered either in private homes or in approximately 100 box cars under the care of the Red Cross.

such a ratio is necessary for the "safety" of this country.

Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, one of the delegates to London, brought from the witness statements that the treaty allows a greater ratio than now exists between America and Japan as well as between America and Great Britain in cruisers built and building.

Rear-Admiral H. H. Hough and Rear-Admiral George C. Day of the Navy General Board, gave similar expressions before the Naval Committee.

Senator Swanson, Democrat, Virginia, pressed Admiral Coontz and Capt. Andrews to say whether they would take the British or American cruiser fleets allowed under the treaty. Capt. Andrews said he would take the fleet with the larger number of eight-inch cruisers. The American fleet is allowed eighteen of these ships to fifteen by Great Britain. Admiral Coontz asked time to consider.

Senator Johnson read the speech of Prime Minister MacDonald of last September outlining the British and American proposals on fleets. Commander Train said Great Britain got all that was then proposed but that the American demands were cut down.

About six more witnesses are to be heard by the Foreign Relations Committee next week.

A LIMONY FALLS ON WIFE NO. 2

Husband Cited in Court By Former Mate Borrows from New Spouse

SALEM (Or.) May 23. (AP) Borrowing $100 from his present wife to pay back alimony to his divorced wife kept Lucas G. Vogt out of jail here today.

The divorced wife accused Vogt of failure to pay $25 a month for the support of their child. It was agreed in Justice Court that he pay $100 to clear up back accounts and then pay $20 a month.

"Can you pay the $100?" the court wanted to know.

"Not this minute," Vogt answered, but my present wife has it in Portland and I'll send it just as soon as I get back there. I don't have to support my second wife. She has a job."

Mr. Forbes was Minister of Agriculture in the United Liberal party Ministry under the Premiership of Sir Joseph Ward, which came into power after the 1928 general elections. Sir Joseph, who is 74 years of age, resigned the premiership and the leadership of the party a few days ago on account of ill health. Mr. Forbes was elected party leader.

BOULDER DAM HEARING ENDS

and inadequate. They will carry their fight to the floor, when the second deficiency measure comes up for consideration, but again with little prospect of success.

CONTRACTS REVISED

To satisfy minor doubts created by the Arizona criticism, Secretary Wilbur promised the committee that by Thursday of next week he will lay before it revised contracts specifically binding the power contractees to take and pay for the entire amount of electrical energy allocated to them and guaranteeing that the price of 1.63 mills per kilowatt hour stipulated in the contracts will be the "minimum" rate to be paid the government.

It was learned that the Metropolitan Water District, the city of Los Angeles, and the Southern California Edison Company and associated private power companies have wired their willingness to sign the suggested changes in the contracts and although secrecy surrounds this as it did the hearings before the Appropriations group, it is understood the revision is being handled by air mail and telegraph. At any rate, Secretary Wilbur declared that the adjustment will be attended to with such dispatch that it will not hold up the committee in reporting the deficiency bill to the House the latter part of next week. He said the matter could be completed "within forty-eight hours if necessary."

MITCHELL SCANS DEAL

Wilbur also plans to send to the committee next week along with the amended contracts an opinion by Attorney-General Mitchell giving a general interpretation of legal points to prove that the contracts fully safeguard the government's $165,000,000 investment in Boulder Dam and provide for reimbursement within the fifty-year amortization period.

Secretary Wilbur told the Appropriations Committee today that there is a 25 per cent margin of safety for the government in the financial set-up arranged through the Los Angeles power contracts. There has been a 17½ per cent margin all the time, he declared, and to this has now been added 3½ per cent by the decision to build the power plants on both sides of the river and feed water for their operation through tunnels, and another 4.2 per cent saving from increased water storage made possible by adding twenty-five feet to the height of the dam. His figures showed a total safety margin of 25.2 per cent.

AMOUNT EXPECTED

He reminded the committee also that the amount which the government is interested in recovering under the Swing-Johnson Act is $82,674,000, including interest, or only about half of the entire outlay for the project. This is chiefly because purchasers of power are to repay the cost of the power plants, and the fact there is no charge at all for the flood-control features of the development.

Asked how soon actual work at Boulder Dam can be started after Congress provides the initial funds Secretary Wilbur answered:

"In five minutes."

He explained that the Interior Department is prepared to proceed immediately with construction of the town to take care of workers and their families, the highway to lead from the town to the dam site, and the railroad spurs to carry provisions and other operations which must precede tackling the dam itself.

In this connection it was announced this afternoon by Commissioner of Reclamation Mead that Walker Young, designated as chief construction engineer on Boulder Dam, will report on the job June 1, next.

FALL PUSHES FIGHT ON TAX

Income Question Carried to Board of Appeals

Amounts from Doheny and Sinclair Involved

Money Declared Received Merely as Loan

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—The government effort to collect income tax on money Albert B. Fall and his Tres Ritos Cattle and Land Company of Three Rivers, N. M., received from E. L. Doheny and Harry Sinclair, whose companies were awarded leases of naval oil reserves, has been appealed to the United States Board of Tax Appeals by the former Secretary of the Interior.

The Internal Revenue Bureau assessed Fall and his wife a total of $158,127 in deficiency taxes and $77,198 in penalties for failing to report a total of $403,000 as income. The bureau assessed the deficiency and penalties on $100,000 Fall received from Doheny in 1921, and a total of $303,000 paid by Sinclair to Fall and M. T. Everhart, Fall's son-in-law.

BUREAU'S STAND

The bureau held that the $100,000 Fall received from Doheny in 1921, which he said was a loan, was income. Fall was convicted of accepting this amount as a bribe to influence the award of the Elk Hills Naval Oil Reserve to Doheny's Pan-American company, but Doheny later was acquitted of giving Fall the money as a bribe.

During the trial of Sinclair on charges of conspiring with Fall to defraud the government out of the Teapot Dome Naval Oil Reserve, which resulted in his acquittal, it was brought out that Sinclair had paid Everhart $233,000 in Liberty Bonds for a one-third interest in the New Mexico ranch owned by Fall and Everhart. It also developed that Sinclair had advanced the company $35,000 additional in two payments of $10,000 and $25,000.

FURTHER ITEMS

During the oil trials it also was brought out that Fall had received $25,000 in bonds from Sinclair, which he maintained was a loan, and $10,000 in cash which he said was expense money advanced to finance a trip to Russia as counsel for the Sinclair Exploration Company.

The Internal Revenue Bureau, however, held that all of the sums were personal income of Fall on which he had failed to pay tax.

Fall in his appeal contends the money received from Doheny and Sinclair was not personal income and argued that no fraud had been committed in failure to report it.

Y TELLS VIEW MELLON ZEAL

Reported Efficient Law Enforcement

Lobby Committee to Bishop Cannon

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—Continuing its investigation of the League, the Senate committee today received testimony from F. Scott McBride, general secretary of the organization, that Secretary Mellon has gone as far on prohibition enforcement as his superiors wanted him to go.

The dry leader emphasized he was referring to the Coolidge administration and added it was "different" from the present one. He said yesterday the Hoover administration is "making good" on prohibition enforcement.

LETTER PRODUCED

The testimony resulted when Senator Caraway produced a letter written by McBride last January to J. G. Brown of Port Huron. Brown had written that McBride was "very much mistaken regarding the sincerity of Hoover."

"If he is not a hypocrite on this question, why does he not immediately fire Mellon who, with Cal's help, has made such a farce of prohibition?"

Replying, McBride wrote:

"I am convinced you are wrong in your attitude. There was a time when I had something of the same feeling, but on thorough investigation I have reached the conclusion that Mellon has gone just as far on prohibition enforcement as superiors wanted him to go and I do not believe he is now standing in the way of effective prohibition enforcement."

"That doesn't say how far he went, but so far as his superiors wanted him to go," Caraway commented. "That is the President?"

"That referred particularly to the previous administration," McBride said.

"Was the previous administration different from the present?" asked Caraway.

"I think so," McBride said.

Responding to another question from Caraway, the witness said:

FEELING CHANGED

"There was a time when a good many people thought Secretary Mellon was in co-operation with the interests of the country and was not going as far as he should have gone in prohibition enforcement."

"There was a time when you had that feeling?" Caraway inquired.

"Yes," said McBride.

McBride was followed by Edward B. Dunford, attorney of the league, who testified the organization had complied with the law in reporting political expenditures to Congress.

The committee adjourned until Monday when Dr. Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, is expected to testify.

Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, may appear Wednesday. Senator Caraway today wired him to ascertain if he could testify at that time.

The list of contributors to the Federal Council of Churches, made public today by the lobby committee, showed that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., had given a total of $138,117 for 1926, 1927, 1928 and 1929. Other contributors for this period included Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., $500; Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, $1500; Mr. and Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, $6000; Arthur Curtis James, $15,000; Jesse H. Jones, $11,250; Dr. Sherwood Eddy, $4000; Julius Rosenwald, $3000; Felix Warburg, $3000; Mortimer L. Schiff, $2000; Paul M. Warburg, $2125; Gold Golden, $1250; Alanson B. Houghton, $500; Otto Kahn, $1750; Mrs. Thomas W. Lamont, $2000; Prof. and Mrs. Irving Fisher, $500, and Winthrop Ames, $500.

THE PRICELESS INGREDIENT

IN THE CITY OF BAGDAD lived Hakeem, the Wise One, and many people went to him for counsel, which he gave freely to all, asking nothing in return.

There came to him a young man who had spent much but got little, and said: "Tell me, Wise One, what shall I do to receive the most for that which I spend?"

Hakeem answered: "A thing that is bought or sold has no value unless it contains that which cannot be bought or sold. Look for the Priceless Ingredient."

"But what is the Priceless Ingredient?" asked the young man.

Spoke then the Wise One: "My son, the Priceless Ingredient of every product in the market place is the Honor and Integrity of him who makes it. Consider his name before you buy."

In this spirit is our business conducted.

PRICE OF WET PLEA JUMPS

Modification League Charges $1 in Chicago Drive, Against Referendum Group's Dime Rate

CHICAGO, May 23. (Exclusive)—The price of petitioning your Uncle Sam for relief from the "perils of prohibition" was jacked up from one dime to $1 when Leonora McAninch, a vice-president of the Congressional District Modification League, set up temporary offices and dispatched paid solicitors to gather in members for the organization at $1 each and signatures on a petition to Congress asking a prohibition referendum.

The Congressional District Modification League now is operating in fourteen States, according to Miss McAninch, has 70,000 members and more than 2,000,000 signatures on its petition. It is a District of Columbia corporation and is represented on the joint executive and legislative committee of anti-prohibition organizations organized the 10th inst. at Washington. Its purpose, besides circulating the petition, is to step on dry candidates wherever found.

W. J. Lawless and his American Prohibition Referendum Association were selling chances to sign a letter to Uncle Sam at 10 cents a signature, 4 cents of which went to the "association" and 6 to the salesman, almost bargain rates as matters turned out. It may be that he still is in business, but all efforts to locate him since he and his "association" vacated their suite have failed.

For those who think a dime or even $1 is too cheap, M. Louise Cross of New York, national chairman of the Women's Moderation Union, will sell de luxe voting memberships in her organization for $5 or common ordinary non-voting memberships for $1. The only catch is that there is no opportunity afforded members of the union to sign a letter to Uncle Sam.

Miss Gross arrived here yesterday from New York to get the Illinois division of her union under way.

BOY LIQUOR RUNNERS TO FACE DRIVE

Drowning of One Youth in Niagara River Results in Federal Campaign

BUFFALO (N. Y.) May 23. (AP)—With the drowning yesterday of a boy rum runner, Federal officials of the western New York district have revived a campaign against liquor barons who hire youths to row liquor across the Niagara River from Canada. Boys have been employed extensively in this practice during the past year. Their presence alone in boats leads to less suspicion on the part of the border patrol.

The boy drowned yesterday was Roman Pridomerski, 18 years of age, whose ale-laden rowboat capsized opposite the foot of Austin street, this city.

Authorities placed under arrest William (Red) Strassner, whom they accuse of conspiracy to smuggle. They said he went to Bridgeburg, Ont., supervising the getting away of the boy and his cargo and then returned to the American shore to await the arrival of the youthful rum runner. He was indicted a year ago on a charge of conspiracy to smuggle liquor but did not go to trial because of the failure of two principals to appear.

U. S. Dist.-Atty. Templeton said today a grand investigation of boy-smuggling ramifications will be started at once.

Ex-Judge Loses Damage Action as Precedent Set

LONDON (Ky.) May 23. (AP)—Granting of $5000 damages in United States District Court here against former Circuit Judge A. T. W. Manning for keeping a man in jail seventeen days because he refused to answer a question, was said here today to be the first such damages ever awarded by a jury in this State. It was understood that an appeal will be taken.

In 1924, when Manning was Circuit judge here, he ordered L. A. Ketchum, a field worker for the Ku Klux Klan, to jail for contempt of court because Ketchum refused to give the names of Klan members in this county. He finally was released on a wirt obtained in Federal court.

The Kentucky Court of Appeals held that Judge Manning had acted illegally and Ketchum sued for $50,000. A jury awarded him $5000 Tuesday.

Films Alarm Latin America

MEXICO CITY, May 23. (AP)—The newspaper La Prensa today attacks American motion-picture distribution in Latin America, charging that above all the American motion picture is the arm of propagandists tending to "Saxonize" the Latins and is essentially political.

CAUTION URGED IN KEG SEIZURES

Doran Warns Dry Agents on Recent Court Decision

Mere Presence of Articles for Sale No Crime

Intended Use to Break Law Must be Provable

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—With drives against malt and hop stores in progress in several sections of the country, Prohibition Commissioner Doran cautioned administrators and agents today that the recent Supreme Court decision under which such action is being taken does not permit seizure merely because the various articles are offered for sale.

In seizing kegs, bottles, labels and other paraphernalia, the commissioner warned, the government must be able to prove they are intended for use in violating the prohibition law.

G. A. Youngquist, assistant Attorney-General in charge of prohibition prosecutions, who will have executive direction of the Prohibition Bureau when it is transferred to the Department of Justice, concurred in Doran's instructions.

Since the decision in the Danovitz case, prohibition officials in various cities, including New York and Chcago, have started drives against stores handling malt, hops, kegs, bottles and other such paraphernalia.

Doran said the court in that case concluded that bottling, labeling, etc., were part of the process of manufacture and that as a consequence the property involved might be usable in the manufacture of liquor.

The commissioner told the agents that all paraphernalia used in manufacture of liquor can be seized wherever found with unlawful liquor.

RADIO TANGLE IN HIGH COURT

Hotel Liability on Broadcast to be Decided

Station Has No Defense on Copyright Violation

Composers-Authors Group Sues for Damages

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—The Supreme Court was asked today to decide whether hotels which pick up radio programs broadcast in violation of the copyright laws and make them available to their guests are liable for damages.

The controversy came from the Circuit Court of Appeals in three cases.

Gene Buck, as president of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, and De Sylva, Brown & Henderson, Inc., publishers, of New York City sued Wilson Duncan, operating radio station KWKC at Kansas City, Mo., and the Jewel-LaSalle Realty Company operating the La Salle Hotel there for an injunction and damages for infringement of copyright.

They asserted the broadcasting station without the consent of the copyright owners had broadcast a musical composition of theirs and that the hotel proprietors had reproduced the broadcast.

America Conquers Britain

THE major cause of modern war is economic rivalry. At the present time that rivalry is especially virulent between America and Great Britain. Will the struggle between us for world markets lead to armed conflict? Here we have in acute form the problems with which the lovers of peace must wrestle. Sentimentalism will not solve them. Is there a solution or is the world doomed to a series of ever-more destructive wars? E. Burdette Backus will speak on this subject at the First Unitarian Church, West 8th Street, just east of Vermont, Sunday at 10:50 a.m. A special invitation is extended to the delegates of the National Foreign Trade Council.

The Making of America

Mr. Robert Whitaker will continue his series of lectures on the Story of Man, Sunday at 8 p.m. Organ recital at 7:30 p.m.

Buy a Six of Course but be Sure
it's a Super-Six

The Essex Challenger is a Super-Six. By its patented principle the ability of the 6-cylinder type is freed to the limit. It is responsible for a performance and smoothness that belong exclusively to the Essex Challenger. And it so thrilled engineers with its possibilities that a whole series of remarkable inventions and improvements have followed in its train. These go to make the brilliant New Essex Challenger of today. That is why we say—and more buyers every day are saying—"not just a Six, but a Super-Six."

The New ESSEX Challenger Gives Sparkling Performance

Essex owes its performance to its completely balanced motor and power line. It has four-ring aluminum pistons, balanced with crankshaft and flywheel; driveshaft balanced with clutch and universals, and the Lanchester Balancer for smooth pickup. More power results, with smoother acceleration, higher speed and low fuel consumption.

New Oil System Adds Long Life

More and cooler oil to all bearings mean a cool motor with less wear on moving parts. Roller valve tappets and adjustable front end timing chain aid quiet operation.

Plenty of leg and head room are built into Essex bodies. Front and rear seats are adjustable and bodies are silenced and insulated, with larger windows.

Interior appointments carry the same motif as fenders and lamps. Upholstery is of finest quality. There is a graceful three-spoke steering wheel, and the instrument panel holds starter, electric fuel and oil level gauge as well as motometer.

Roadability and Safety

Longer wheelbase, larger tires and patented spring suspension make Essex the most roadable of cars. High speed with safety is possible because of the positive action of four wheel brakes.

This is the finest, best performing Essex value ever built. It holds scores of records established during continent-wide Challenger Week. See it and drive it. You will need no other proof that this is not just a six, but a Super-Six.

ENGLISHMAN ARRESTED IN LIQUOR PLOT

Director of Distillery Indicted on Charge of Importation Conspiracy

NEW YORK, May 23. (AP)—Edward Tatham, socially prominent and a director of the noted English distillery firm of Justerini & Brooks, Ltd., was arrested today on an indictment charging him and his concern with conspiracy to import liquor into the United States and to solicit orders here.

A sealed indictment was returned in the Federal Building yesterday and a bench warrant was issued by a Federal judge, who fixed bail at $20,000 in advance of arraignment.

Tatham's idea, assistant Federal Attorney, Watts said, was to import the finest European liquors and whiskies into New York, distributing them at high prices among wealthy people.

"There are indications," Watts said, "that a financially strong American syndicate was backing the scheme."

Watts added that Tatham has the highest social connections on both sides of the Atlantic and had just concluded a stay of several days at the home of socially prominent persons whom the assistant United States Attorney declined to name.

He was arrested in the drawing room of the Toronto Limited as that train was about to pull out of the Grand Central Terminal.

Student presidents of Pacific Coast colleges and universities, in convention here this week, have entered the discussion.

John Reynolds, president of the University of California student body, answered that "all the girls at Berkeley smoke, and not behind the barn, either. The question of smoking by co-eds is no longer whether they should or not, but what brand and how much!"

"We haven't any rule at all," said Bob Allen, student president at Fresno State Teachers' College.

PULPIT REMAINS FOR MEN ALONE

Methodist Women Fail to Get Preaching Right

Majority Vote in Support of Proposal Insufficient

Southerners Back Plan for Church Supreme Court

DALLAS, May 23. (AP)—Southern Methodist women desirous of having the right to preach, today received an expression in their favor from the general conference of their church, but they are no nearer their goal than formerly.

The quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, voted 174 to 150 to grant equal rights to clergy to women. However, the bishops held that the proposal was a suggested change in the constitution and that as such, it would require a two-thirds vote in the general conference and a three-fourths vote of the local conferences for adoption.

SURPRISING RESULT

The result of the vote apparently came as a surprise to those who opposed the movement and they did not make the contention that the change was constitutional instead of legislative until after the balloting. Women who had drafted the equal-rights memorial at the meeting of the Women's Missionary Council at Amarillo this spring, plan to carry on the fight. They hope to obtain the two-thirds vote necessary to submit the proposed amendment at the next quadrennial convention.

This is the first time the matter ever has been submitted to the general conference. Mrs. Nat G. Rollins of Abilene, one of the leaders in the movement, was enthusiastic today over the outcome, recalling that it had taken twelve years for women to gain the privilege of being conference delegates.

SHULER FIGHTS IT

Another determined effort to authorize a referendum in the local conferences on the question of licensing and ordaining women as preachers was unavailing this afternoon. A two-thirds vote would have been necessary.

In an impassioned speech against the proposed referendum Rev. R. P. Shuler of Los Angeles, said:

"I come from the very center of women preachers. Last Sunday the women preachers advertising in the papers of my city lacked only one of being as numerous as the men. More than half of these women preachers were divorcees.

"The normal American woman is not going to preach. She is going to stay in the home, which is more important than the church. The preachers will be freaks and old maids. Old maids are all right, but they become very eccentric before they get through with it."

Mr. Shuler charged that the women are not behind the movement notwithstanding the fact that the women leaders are.

The budget for the ensuing quadrennium was finally adopted. The assessment for the quadrennium is $2,040,000, compared with an assessment of $2,130,000 for the past four years. The voluntary subscription quota was set at $1,150,000, most of which will be used for mission work.

COURT PLAN WINS

By a vote of 293 to 10, the conference voted to submit a proposed constitutional amendment to establish a judicial council, a supreme court for southern Methodism. Proponents of the court plan pointed out that it is unwise for any one body to have both the supreme executive and judicial authority, as the College of Bishops has. The council would consist of five clerical and four lay members.

Having voted to adjourn tomorrow noon after nearly three weeks of labor, the conference speeded up its deliberations by working longer hours and cutting the length of speeches in half.

The Board of Temperance and Social Service tonight re-elected Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Washington, D. C., as chairman.

Postponement was necessitated by illness of Husted, which has delayed progress of plans for seven weeks, the announcement said.

INDIAN BUREAU UNDER HOT FIRE

Eight-Year-Old Death Case Basis of Charges

Mass Floggings Also Come to Fore at Hearing

Arizona Senators Stand Up for School Heads

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—The charge that "somebody in the Indian Bureau has been inconceivably careless or inconceivably determined to hide the truth" in an 8-year-old case of an Indian boy who died following his escape from a government school, was made today before a Senate committee.

The accusation was made by John Collier, secretary of the American Indian Defense Association, before a subcommittee of the Senate Indian Affairs Committee. Chairman Frazier of the committee began the inquiry into assertions of mass flogging and other mistreatment of Indian pupils after both Senators Hayden and Ashurst, Arizona Democrats, protested.

REPLY PROMISED

Charles J. Rhoads, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, who has been summoned by the committee, asked and was granted permission to reply next week after studying the record.

"We are appreciative of all the information we can get—that's what we're here for," Rhoads commented calmly as the session closed. He added he did not think it wise to respond in detail at the time as he had "only memory" to depend on.

Collier also charged that four of ninety-nine cases of flogging had been verified by an inspector. He said Commissioner Rhoads wrote to the school at Phoenix, Ariz., that the disciplinarian be urged to use "more self-control."

RHOADS CLEARED

Exonerating Rhoads, Collier said that the case of Toole Escallante, an Indian pupil of the Phoenix school, has been dismissed by the bureau after H. H. Fiske, bureau inspector, made an investigation last year.

The bureau letter dismissing the case was signed by Rhoads, the witness said, but he added "there are some things a man of a certain character does not do," and that the dismissal of the charges was "out of character" as far as Rhoads was concerned.

Collier said that his testimony was based on a voluminous record which he had obtained from the Indian Bureau. He read from the record which he said covered corporal punishments in connection with which the bureau had dismissed three employees, transferred another and expelled a student.

RESOLUTION OFFERED

Senator Ashurst of Arizona said none at the hearings, including himself, was in a position to say what the facts really are; that Collier has "nothing but mountains of ignorance" on the subject; and he wouldn't "hang a yellow dog on such evidence." Senator Hayden of Arizona declared the complaints came from disgruntled employees and the hearing "merely is to get newspaper publicity."

When Senator Pine of Oklahoma suggested that Rhoads be permitted to testify, Ashurst asked: "What does he know about it?"

Hayden presented a resolution signed by 104 employees of the school denying charges students had been mistreated, and Chairman Frazier remarked:

"It has been my experience that an employee who complains gets fired. In order to hold his job he has to sign resolutions."

Both Ashurst and Hayden maintained the place to hold the investigation is in Phoenix, and Frazier said the committee plans to go there this summer.

One Out of Every Four of City's 1000 Growers Signs Control Contract

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23. (Exclusive)—One out of every four of the 1000 vineyard owners in the Fresno city district has signed the grape-control contract of the Federal Farm Board program for the grape industry, according to advices to local headquarters today.

A duplication of the Fresno city campaign will be conducted in Los Angeles under the auspices of the agricultural committee of the Chamber of Commerce to obtain the support of the 500 vineyard growers resident in that city.

The drive will be started with a mass meeting Monday evening, to be addressed by Dr. Theodore MacKlin, expert on co-operative marketing for the Federal board.

C. C. Teague, member of the Farm Board and formulator of the industry plan, in a letter to Donald D. Conn, managing director of the California Vineyardists' Association, lays the responsibility for the success or failure of the campaign on local leadership.

The letter indicates that the Farm Board, which has four men assigned to the industry campaign under M. J. Newhouse, its direct representative, will do nothing more, even to prevent the campaign from failing.

NATIONALIST ARMY BEATS REBEL FOES

Loyal Chinese Capture 20,000 Prisoners and Put Northerners to Flight

SHANGHAI, May 23. (AP)—The Nationalist government forces have severely defeated the northern alliance rebels with heavy casualties, said, government dispatches today, and are driving them in general retreat toward Kaifeng, Honan Province. The Nationalists took 20,000 prisoners.

Defeated in a series of engagements which began the 8th inst., in Northern Kiangsu and Honan provinces, Gen. Yen Hsi-shan, Governor of Shansi Province and head of the revolt against the central government, is said in government dispatches to be planning flight to a foreign country in anticipation of the collapse of the insurrection. The Nationalists, advancing northward on the railway beyond Hankow, are reported thrusting the rebel armies before them on another front to converge on Chengchow.

Thus the Nationalists are engaged in a pincers movement, westward in Northern Honan and northward in that Province to catch the rebel armies at Chengchow or Kaifeng, near by. A decisive battle is expected in this area. The Nationalist forces in Eastern Honan alone were estimated by a missionary who returned here to number 70,000, while the opposing rebel troops have 100,000 men.

BROTHER OF W. D. TAYLOR IN ASYLUM?

Man Who Looks Like Lost Relative of Slain Picture Director Held in East

NEW YORK, May 23. (Exclusive) Is the unidentified man who repeats endlessly the name "William Taylor" in the psychopathic ward of Bellevue Hospital, the long missing Dennis Deane Tanner, brother of William Desmond Taylor, film director, whose mysterious murder eight years ago rocked Hollywood?

There is a resemblance between the two men which is almost photographic. The age of the nameless derelict, an amnesia victim, is estimated by hospital attendants at nearly 50.

Dennis Deane Tanner, declared legally dead by the California courts in 1924, two years after his brother's murder, was born approximately fifty years ago. The stranger speaks with the accent of culture. Dennis Deane Tanner and William Cunningham Deane Tanner known in later years as William Desmond Taylor were scions of a fine old Irish family, sons of a major in the British army.

No trace ever has been found of the younger brother, who left his employment and his family in 1908. In 1924 Mrs. Ada Deane Tanner, at that time a resident of Monrovia, Cal., applied to the courts to have her husband declared legally dead.

Gang Murder Weapon Found

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23. (Exclusive)—The weapon with which Vincent Lucich, peg-legged ex-convict, rum-runner, gangster and admitted murderer, killed Melville S. Sturtevant, government liquor-ring witness, and wounded his companion, Mrs. Grace Berri, is said by police to have been found today by two school children near Two Rock, Marin county, eight miles from the scene of the double shooting of Wednesday. Its finding, according to authorities of Marin county, does much to break down Lucich's alibi of self-defense.

His story was that Sturtevant and Mrs. Berri tried to kill him so he "beat them to the draw." He took Sturtevant's automobile, he said, fled to Sausalito, abandoned it, boarded a ferry to San Francisco and dropped the pistol overboard while crossing the bay. He said he fired three or four shots out of the gun.

HORDE MARCHES IN INDIA REVOLT

Bombay Has Most Exciting Day of Salt Drive

Two Hundred Thousand in Protest Procession

Woman Leader Sentenced; Another Chief Held

BOMBAY, May 23. (AP)—Today was more exciting in Bombay than any time since the opening of the civil resistance campaign, with the imprisonment of Mrs. Sarojini Naidu coupled with a great procession of Indians.

The procession of upward of 200,000 persons was organized by the leaders of various Indian commercial bodies and started marching from the bullion exchange.

The paraders went through the main portion of the Indian quarters, to Victoria Terminus, the junction point of the five principal streets in Bombay, and attempted to enter the fort area. Here they encountered a solid wall of policemen ranked four deep from curb to curb. Thereupon the demonstrators sat down, singing Nationalist songs. For nearly four hours this study in passivity continued, the Nationalist, sitting calmly and the police standing stolidly.

ALLOWED TO ENTER

Finally the authorities announced the demonstrators could enter the fort area provided they agreed to obtain from violence. This suited the demonstrators and with a great roar and the shouting of revolutionary slogans the mob surged down Hornby Road, which turns through the center of the fort, filling the street from curb to curb for half a mile.

Mrs. Naidu, who was leader of the civil disobedience campaign after the arrest of Mahatma Gandhi and Abbas Tyabji, was sentenced to nine months simple imprisonment, as a result of her activities in the recent salt raids at Dahrasana.

She will be treated as a Class A, or favored prisoner, but Mahatma Gandhi's son, Manilal, and his secretary, Pyarelal, were not so fortunate, each of them being sentenced to one year of rigorous imprisonment.

IMPORTANT ARREST

Thus the three sons of Gandhi have been imprisoned and the three outstanding leaders of the civil disobedience movement also have been placed in jail. The leadership now has fallen to V. J. Patel, former president of the legislative assembly.

An important arrest today was that of Narhari Parick, who was taken in custody at Untadi Camp. He was acting as leader of those volunteers who returned to the old haunts of the Dharasana salt raiders after the police clean-up yesterday.

The rest of the country apparently passed a quiet day, although police were on guard at Dacca following riots between Hindus and Moslems yesterday, in which several on both sides were injured and shops were burned.

CONFEREES END TASK ON TARIFF

Measure Finally Ready for Action by Senate

Compromise Plan Adopted on Flexible Clause

Commission Given Power to Recommend Changes

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—[illegible] and a half months from the time it began to take form, the Republican tariff bill carrying the highest farm duties in history and scores of industrial rate advances was whipped into final shape by the congressional conferees today and made ready for Senate action early next week.

A complete agreement was reached by adoption of a compromise flexible clause broadening the rate-making powers of the Tariff Commission and sharply curtailing the powers of the President.

BACKED BY HOOVER

Under the new plan, which is understood to have the approval of President Hoover, the Tariff Commission would be empowered to "recommend" to the President increases or decreases in rates to the extent of 50 per cent and the President would be given sixty days in which to approve or disapprove the recommendation. In the latter event, it would be returned to the commission for restudy.

The agreement will be submitted to the Senate Monday, but will lay over a day before it is taken up on the floor. At least a week of debate is expected by Republican leaders with final action in the Senate set for early June.

NEW PARLEY LIKELY

It is probable that the measure will have to be returned to conference again before final Congressional action, however, as points of order are being prepared contending the conferees exceeded the bounds of the Senate and House bills on rayon, cherries, cheese and watches and clocks.

These rates are embodied in the first conference report already adopted by the House and now lying on the Senate table.

The agreement today will be embodied in a supplemental report and will cover only the six major points of controversy which the conferees were asked to settle after the House had gone on record regarding them.

It will provide for the new flexible clause, elimination of the debenture amendment, free silver, a duty of $1 a thousand feet on softwood lumber, elimination of the Senate amendment exempting from duty cement intended for State and municipal public works, and for a bi-partisan Tariff Commission of six members as at present.

CHANGE EXPLAINED

The commission's authority would be extended in that it would "recommend" rate changes or reclassification of articles. Now, the fact-finding body merely reports to the President the differences in costs of production and the President determines the rate.

The differences in production cost formula would be retained under the new plan, although invoice prices and other factors could be utilized where foreign costs were not readily ascertainable.

Many features of the present flexible clause are retained under the new plan but the conferees eliminated the House provision authorizing the commission to equalize differences in competitive conditions where foreign costs could not be found.

West Virginia Bandits Obtain Two Cash Bags

WHEELING (W. Va.) May 23. (AP)—Bandits held up an automobile in which money was being taken from the Citizens' Mutual Bank of Wheeling to a Benwood bank today and escaped with two bags, one containing currency and the other silver. The amount taken has not been determined, but J. W. Johnson, cashier, said there was several thousand dollars in the bags. The bandits wrecked Johnson's automobile by crashing into it with their own machine. A tear-gas bomb was thrown into the cashier's machine and while Johnson and others of his car were suffering from the effects of it, the robbers seized the money bags and fled.

CHEAP BOOK PUBLISHERS FIND ALLIES

Dollar-Per-Volume Move by Group, However, Stirs Up Some Dire Predictions

NEW YORK, May 23. (AP)—Three Henry Fords of the book business—youngsters, comparatively, in years and publishing business—sat back with quiet grins today, listening to comments and arguments evoked by their launching into mass production of books that can be bought at drug stores for $1 apiece, and, like magazines, be read and thrown away.

Four publishers are participating in the price cuts made public yesterday, but one of them, Coward-McCann, went down only to $1.50, and that solely for works of new or less-known authors, and Coward-McCann will sell only through regular book stores.

The other three, Doubleday, Doran & Co., Farrar & Rinehart and Simon & Schuster, acquired two supporters today, even as some of the older houses expressed misgivings and predicted a price war.

Arthur Brentano, Jr., president of Brentano's, and until yesterday of the American Booksellers' Association, prophesied that by June 10 not four but ninety-four publishers will have made severe reductions.

Although the association in convention here yesterday protested against the sale of books for 75 cents and $1 in drug stores, Mr. Brentano said:

"If the bookseller cannot compete with the drug stores he'll have to open a drug store himself."

Asserted Aide of Rothstein Pleads Guilty

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23. (AP)—Jack Sieman, asserted Pacific Coast associate of the late Arnold Rothstein, New York gangster, pleaded guilty in Federal District Court here today to two counts charging violation of the Federal narcotic acts. He will be sentenced June 16.

He was arrested here in April, 1929, by narcotic agents, who asserted they found forty ounces of narcotics in his possession. He was charged with violating the Harrison Narcotic Act, the Jones-Miller Act and with conspiracy. Released on $10,000 bond pending trial, Sieman fled to Canada.

Government authorities apprehended him in Vancouver, B. C., recently, and after litigation in the Canadian courts obtained an order releasing him for return to San Francisco.

Senators Stand Pat on Crashes

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—The Senate today reaffirmed a previous decision calling on the Commerce Department to make public all its information on recent airplane accidents.

By 42 to 28 it rejected a motion by Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, for reconsideration of the resolution by Senator Bratton, Democrat, New Mexico.

(AP)—The Swing bill to authorize an appropriation of $40,000 to reimburse property owners of the Bard unit, Yuma reclamation project, California, for damages resulting from the breaking of a government detention reservoir in August, 1926, was passed by the House today and sent to the Senate.

The basic wage for miners at Butte under the new scale will be $4.75 a day.

MALTA PREMIER ESCAPES DEATH

Lord Strickland Fired on by Nationalist

Was at Court to Testify Against Party

Accused Said to be Native Englishman

VALETTA (Malta) May 23. (AP)—An unsuccessful attempt was made today to assassinate Lord Strickland of Sizergh, Prime Minister of Malta, as he was entering the Court of Appeals to hear a case against the Nationalist party. Three shots were fired, but all missed.

The assailant, who gave his name as Miller and his age as 38, is a supporter of the Nationalist party and is understood to be a native Englishman. He was arrested for rioting in 1919 and was accused of having torn the British flag. He has only one arm.

The Prime Minister was attending the court as plaintiff in a case wherein the Nationalists are attempting to invalidate all laws passed by the government.

He was accompanied by a police sergeant and as they entered the court a revolver shot was fired from a range of six feet. Lord Strickland appeared momentarily dazed, but the police acted immediately and seized Miller, whose other two shots went into the air.

Lord Strickland quickly recovered composure and smiled as the assailant was led away. Crowds assembled and gave him an ovation.

The residents of Malta, which is an important British naval base, were greatly excited by the incident and news of the attempted assassination brought them flocking from all parts of the island. Indignation was expressed widely, and a former Nationalist Minister escaped rough treatment only by the arrival of police.

Police remained on alert duty all day, with mounted men patrolling the streets, but no disorder was reported and the city was quiet by evening.

STRICKLAND CENTER OF QUARREL WITH VATICAN

LONDON, May 23. (AP)—Lord Strickland, Prime Minister of Malta, against whose life an attempt was made today, has been the central figure in an eighteen-month controversy between the Maltese government and the Vatican.

The controversy recently reached an acute stage when the Roman Catholic hierarchy forbade the Maltese Catholics to vote for the government party in the forthcoming Maltese elections.

Recent dispatches have told of trouble between the state and Catholic church on the island. It was said in debate in the House of Commons in London that the Catholic archbishop of Malta had announced that anyone voting for Lord Strickland, or any members of the constitutional party during the forthcoming elections, would be committing a moral sin.

Lord Strickland, himself a Catholic, was said to have refused to allow a Franciscan priest, who was a British citizen, to be transferred against his will to Sicily on orders of the superior of the community in Malta. The government asserted that the transfer was ordered on political grounds.

At the time it was understood the Maltese archbishop of Malta made an airplane visit to Rome, presumably to confer regarding the matter.

Recently, however, a concordat between the British government there and the Holy See defining questions affecting relations between the church and state in the Maltese Islands had been put in draft form and is expected to settle the long controversy.

MERGER OF RAIL LINES UNDER FIRE

Northwestern Group in House Presents Petition to Interstate Board

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—A group of northwestern representatives today presented a petition to the Interstate Commerce Commission setting forth their unalterable opposition to the merger of the Great Northern, North Pacific and Burlington railroads.

The petition stresses their opposition to the proposal to make St. Paul and Minneapolis the eastern terminus of the Merged system. It contends that if the consolidation is effected the lines should include a "direct line as far east as possible, and certainly as far as Chicago."

"This is essential," the petition says, "if the system is to have the benefit of a diversity of traffic and is to be one well-balanced within itself."

A consolidation at the present time is not practical, it continues, for the reason that the commission has not completed a valuation of the lines in conformity with the recent decision of the Supreme Court in the O'Fallon case.

The petition is signed by Representatives Clague of Minnesota, chairman of the special committee; Burtness, North Dakota, Williamson, South Dakota; Leavitt, Montana; French, Idaho, Summers, Washington, and Butler, Oregon.

PHILIPPINES BILL GIVEN APPROVAL

Senate Committee Favors Plebiscite in Five Years on Independence

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—The Hawes-Cutting bill to grant the Philippine Islands a plebiscite on independence in five years was approved today by the Senate Territories Committee.

The vote was eight to four with two Senators not voting. Those favoring the bill were Senators Nye, North Dakota; Cutting, New Mexico, Republicans, and Pittman, Nevada; Harrison, Mississippi; Broussard, Louisiana; Hayden, Arizona; Tydings, Maryland, and Hawes, Missouri, Democrats.

Those voting against were Chairman Bingham of the committee; Robinson, Indiana; Metcalf, Rhode Island, and Goff, West Virginia, Republicans.

Senators Johnson, California, Republican, and Vandenberg, Michigan, did not vote.

The bill provides for calling of a convention of the Philippines to draft a constitution and for a gradual increase of tariff duties of Philippine exports to the United States for five years, at the end of which time the products coming into the United States would pay the same duties as from other countries.

Hawes said he probably will request action this session on the bill.

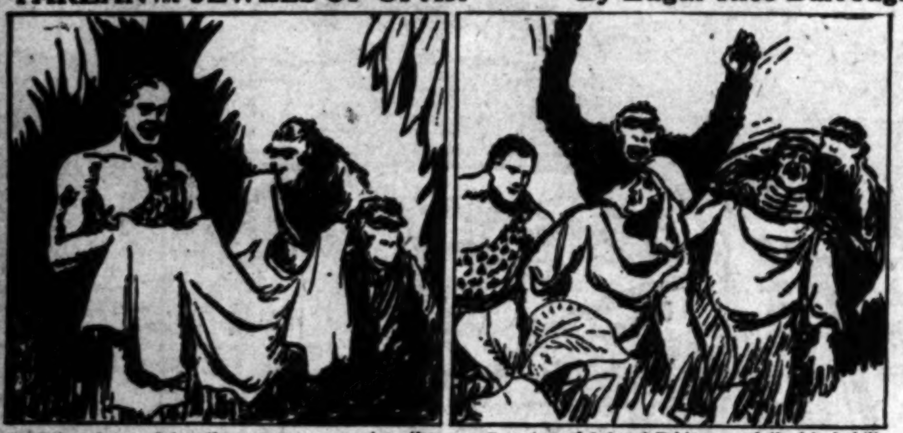
POSTMASTERS NOMINATED

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—George A. Welshar of Hanford, Cal., and Coveston K. Ryerse of Las Vegas, Nev., today were nominated as postmasters.

A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE JEWELS OF OPAR

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Ten minutes later the ape-man carrying the outer garments of an Arab bundled beneath an arm rejoined his companions. He exhibited his trophies to them, explaining in low gutturals the details of his exploit. Chulk and Taglat fingered the fabrics, smelled of them, and, placing them to their ears, tried to listen to them. Then Tarzan led them back through the jungle to the trail, where the three hid themselves and waited. Nor had they long to wait . . .

Soon two of Achmet Zek's men, clothed in habiliments similar to their master's, came down the trail on foot, returning to camp. One moment they were laughing and talking together—the next they lay stretched full length, three mighty engines of dstruction bending over them. Tarzan removed their outer garments as he had removed those of his first victim, and again retired with Chulk and Taglat to the greater seclusion of the tree they had at first selected.

Here the ape-man arranged the garments upon his shaggy fellows and himself, until, at a distance, it might have appeared that three white-robed Arabs squatted silently among the forest branches. Until dark they remained there, for from this point of vantage Tarzan could view the enclosures within the palisade. He marked the position of the hut in which he had first discovered the scent spoor of the "she" he sought. Also he located Achmet Zek's habitation.

Chulk and Taglat, were, at first, greatly interested in their wonderful raiment. They regarded each other intently with every mark of satisfaction and pride. Chulk, a humorist in his way, stretched forth a long and hairy arm, and, grasping the hood of Taglat's burnoose, pulled it down over the latter's eyes, extinguishing him, snufflike. The older ape recognized no such thing as humor. He was a born pessimist. "Creatures lay their paws on me," he reasoned, "either to search for fleas or to attack."

Ernie Triplett Cheats Death

INDIANAPOLIS, May 23. (AP)—Ernie Triplett, Los Angeles driver, entered in the 500-mile automobile race at the motor speedway here next Friday, escaped uninjured late today when he lost control of his racer on the northwest turn. It was the season's first accident here. Triplett, practicing for the qualifying trials, which start tomorow, estimated he was going 100 miles an hour when his car struck an oil-streak, turned around three times and knocked a chunk out of the concrete retaining wall on the outside edge of the track. Bert Williams, his mechanic, riding with him, also was unhurt. The rear of the racer was damaged, and will require slight repairs.

Twenty Athletes Prepared to Display Wares

Thirty-eight Pacific Coast track athletes boarded trains last night and set forth to Boston, where they will attempt to bring the I.C.4-A. championship to this section of the country for the ninth time in ten years.

FRANK WYKOFF

Twenty runners wearing the Cardinal and Gold of the University of Southern California climbed aboard the Golden State Limited here, and almost at the same time eighteen brawny Stanford men left Palo Alto in quest of their fourth national college crown.

Coaches Dean Cromwell and Dink Templeton were confident, and each paid the other the compliment of having the "team to beat." Cromwell ha ahis strength equally distributed between the track and field, as he has taken ten athletes of each variety with him.

Frank Wykoff and Milt Maurer, sprinters; Vic Williams and Art Woessner, quarter-milers; Bill McGeagh, half-miler; Cliff Halstead and Lee Hansen, milers; Jeddy Welsh, high hurdler, and Bill Carls and Ernie Payne, low hurdlers, make up the track contingent. The field men are Bob Hall, shot and discus; Capt. Jess Mortensen and Jim Snider, javelin;

OPEN-AIR BILL ON TONIGHT

Curtis Makes Debut at Ball Park

Joe Peregrina

CARLO CURTIS will make his debut as an open-air boxing show impresario at White Sox Ball Park, tonight when he stages a forty-round card topped by two ten-round bouts in which Jack McVey, colored middleweight, battles Joe Peregrina, local Mexican favorite, and Andy Martin, one of the game's outstanding featherweights, tackles Benny (Kid) Carter, the best of the Mexican featherweights.

McVey and Peregrina should furnish a great middleweight battle. The colored boxer is a dangerous body puncher, fast and clever. At the same time he is aggressive, always moving slowly ahead to keep an opponent off balance. He is a good body puncher and slipping and blocking punches is an art with him.

Peregrina has trained for an aggressive fight. He can't box with the colored boy and it will take a lot of aggressiveness and a lot of hard punching to get through McVey's strong defense. On the strength of his boxing McVey will be the favorite.

Martin and Carter box along similar lines. Neither makes any strong claims to cleverness. Martin is an aggressive fellow who throws a lot of punches, just a bit busier than Carter in each department. Both have boxed the best of the featherweights. Carter has met Shea, Farr, Taylor, Zorrilla, Wildcat Carter and Benny Bass. Martin has defeated Taylor, Shea, Bushy Graham, Bass and Chick Suggs. Fidel La Barba and Kid Chocolate are about the only top-notchers missing from the list.

Abie Miller, national bantamweight champion among the amateurs, makes his first pro start against Danny Robles in a six-round bout. Augie Curtis, holder of the far western and Pacific Coast amateur titles, meets Phil Villanueva in a four-rounder. It will be the first time either youngster has been scheduled to step more than three rounds. They are a classy pair of kids who are out to follow in the footsteps of Fidel

Hudkins Chafing at Bit at Training Camp

BY KAY OWE

Dave Shade yesterday placed a bet of $5000 on himself to defeat Ace Hudkins. They clash at the Olympic next Tuesday night in the most important middleweight contest since Hudkins fought Mickey Walker at Wrigley Field last October.

Dave Shade

It is said the bet was placed at 9 to 10 odds with Hudkins the favorite. Shade has an opportunity to build his purse for the bout up to the $12,500 guarantee which the Wildcat is getting from Promoter Jack Doyle.

Shade, who took the bout on the short margin of 20 per cent, is confident he will win handily. Few fighters bet on themselves in these days of modern referees. Tommy O'Brien is about the only recent local fighter who occasionally wagered on himself.

The two fighters—Hudkins at Murietta Hot Springs and Shade at Soper's ranch—are at the end of their long training grind. Shade will box Sunday and return to town Monday afternoon. Hudkins will close down at Murietta after today and come back to Los Angeles tomorrow.

SENATORS WIN OVER ANGELS, 8-3

Sacramento Increases Lead in Coast Race as Oaks Lose Game

SACRAMENTO, May 23.—Art Delaney's curves were no match for the saliva ball of the canny veteran Pudgy Gould, and, as a consequence, the Senators won today's game from the scrappy Angels by a score of 8 to 3. As the Oaks lost the Senators increased their hold on first place.

In fairness to Delaney, it is only right and proper to say that the reason the Los Angeles run total was held down was some extraordinary fielding on the part of young Merle Hoag in center field and Jimmy McLaughlin at third.

Hoag pulled down five balls that were labeled for extra bases and he made the sensa-

Walters Gets Credit for Second Victory

Summa Hits Two Home Runs for Visitors

BY BRAVEN DYER

Eight ball players masquerading as pitchers took part in yesterday's tedious tussle at Wrigley Field and when the curtain had finally been rung down after two hours and thirty-five minutes of so-called baseball, Portland was in possession of a 12-to-11 victory, scored in ten innings.

LARRY WOODALL.

Portland employed six pseudo-hurlers. There are only nine so-called pitchers on the Duck staff. Three of them worked in Thursday's double-header, one is sick and somebody had to be saved for today's game, so it's easy to see that Manager Larry Woodall had his entire corps on parade.

They appeared and disappeared in this order: Chesterfield, Cascarella, Posedel, Walters and Ortman. Walters, who went in to save the second game of Thursday's twin bill, only to be charged with the defeat, got credit for yesterday's victory, although he had to be relieved by Young Freddie Ortman in the tenth. Strange to say, Emil Yde, who pitched one-third of an inning against Walters Thursday, but received credit for the win, was the losing pitcher yesterday. The big southpaw followed George Hollerson and Vance Page to the mound for Hollywood. It was the

SINGER WHIPS FERNANDEZ

Mandell's Challenger Soundly Thrashes Only Man Who Ever Knocked Him Out

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, May 23. (AP)—Sleek Al Singer wiped out the last obstacle in his path to a shot at the lightweight championship tonight and battered up the only warrior who had ever knocked him out.

IGNACIO FERNANDEZ

The dark Jewish boy from the Bronx made a mess of Ignacio Fernandez's features, dropped him once for a count of two, and hammered him steadily for ten long rounds, but he could not finish the Filipino.

Fernandez deadened Singer with a single right to the chin in three rounds here less than a year ago. By whipping Fernandez, Singer now is assured of a title match with Sammy Mandell in one of the open-air extravaganzas of the summer.

Singer, the favorite at any price the gamblers could get, gave the crowd of 12,000 the biggest thrill of the night in the opening round. Sliding from his corner, the boy the Bronx prays will be another Benny Leonard, fiddled and fussed for a moment and then crashed his right hand full on Fernandez's chin. The Filipino landed on his shoulders, shook his head, and bounced to his feet at the count of two; then he marched full into Singer's heaviest guns, snorting, wagging his mop of stringy black hair, and absorbed everything that came his way without flinching.

Singer couldn't put the Filipino down again in that round, nor could he budge the sturdy little brown man, scarcely bigger than a featherweight, in the nine punishing rounds that followed. The Jewish lad ripped and tore with both hands, closed Fernandez's left eye, and sent him rocking back on his

Buster Fails to Set Record; Mickey Riley and Olive Hatch Cop Swim Titles at L.A.A.C.

Buster Crabbe, Mickey Riley and Olive Hatch won Southern California A.A.U. aquatic championships last night in a meet at the L.A.A.C. pool. Miss Hatch represented the Mercury club, while the other two champions performed unattached.

Crabbe failed in his attempt to break the 500-yard record, covering the distance in 5:46 1-5s. This time is better than the official mark for a long course, but isn't up to the short course mark. The Mercury pool is an odd-sized distance.

Frank Walton of the Hollywood A.C., and Robertson of the L.A.A.C. chased Crabbe to the tape.

Miss Hatch defeated Marjorie Lowe, swimming unattached, and Georgia Coleman, Mercury diver, to take the 100-yard free style in 1:05 2-5s.

Mickey Riley, who, like Crabbe, is attending U.S.C. but performs unattached, took the 10-foot diving title to add that crown to his long list of championships. His brother Johnny and "Dutch" Smith, both of the L.A.A.C., were second and third.

In a special 100-yard handicap race, Lendegin, of Long Beach High School, covered the distance in 57s. Bivens of the Pacific Coast Club was second, and Callahan of Hollywood High School third.

JUNIOR TENNIS TOURNEY UNDER WAY AT MIDWICK

The fifth annual Southern California junior tennis tournament got under way inauspiciously on the courts of the Midwick Tennis Club yesterday, nine preliminary matches being played. Walter Wesbrook has scheduled plenty of action for today and tomorrow, however, with the finals being scheduled next week-end.

Nathan Bundy, Marvin Woodside, Boyd Georgi and other favorites won as expected in yesterday's matches. Carolyn Babcock, seeded No. 1, opens her camapign this afternoon, meeting Gertrude Shulze, and Helen Marlowe, No. 2 player, will face Elizabeth Lee earlier in the day.

YOUNG SPORT LOSES TO DADO IN HOLLYWOOD GO

Speedy Dado made it two straight victories over Young Sport when he defeated the Pasadenan in a fast 10-round bout at the Hollywood American Legion stadium last night.

SPEEDY DADO

Dado beat Sport in Pasadena a few weeks ago, and last night won six of the ten rounds to take Referee Duke Kenworthy's verdict. Sport took three chapters, and one, the eighth, was even.

Dado's best round was the fourth when he shot out a powerful left hook that sent Sport into the ropes. The Brown Doll was after his foe like a young tiger, but he couldn't put him down. Sport came out with a burst of energy in the sixth, showering left hooks to the face to gain a shade in that canto.

The last round was a furious one, Sport getting away to a fast start, and Dado coming strong in the last minute. Dado weighed 112 pounds and Sport 114.

Referee Billy Ferrier suffered a lapse of memory at the end of the semi-wind-up, and raised Sammy Offerman's hand after Teddy Palacios had won five of the six rounds. It was a good, fast fight, with Palacios having the better of every exchange, and he seemed to have earned the verdict handily. The fans gave the referee a roasting for his judgment.

Johnny Romero was down for a nine count in the first round, but back to win the next four rounds, and won over Joe Bell by a knockout in the fifth round of the special. Bell suffered a cut over his nose in the second round, and Romero pecked away at it violently thereafter.

Steve Hayden won over Jack McFarland by a technical knockout in the second round of the second bout, the referee stopping the battle when the right side of McFarland's face was hammered into a beefsteak-like effect by Hayden's slugging.

Ray Rodrigues outpointed Russell Beach in the opener.

MICKEY WALKER CHALKS UP WIN OVER BELANGER

DETROIT, May 23. (AP)—Mickey Walker of Chicago, king of the middleweights, won an easy ten-round decision over Charlie Belanger, Canadian light-heavyweight champion, at Olympia tonight. The hard-hitting and aggressiveness of the middleweight title-holder gave him all but two of the ten rounds.

Walker weighed 164; Belanger, 175.

Although the bout was not announced as a championship contest, it was part of Walker's campaign for the light-heavyweight title and he will claim that honor in Canada.

Walker demonstrated marked su-

Hundreds of Young Athletes Compete Today in Five County Junior Olympic F

LARGE DAY FOR JUVENILE STARS

Redlands Scene of Big Meet This Morning

Four Other County Finals to be Held

Parochial School Boys Meet at Loyola High

BY BRAVEN DYER

This is a big day in the lives of several hundred youngsters entered in the Junior Olympic Games of Southern California for no less than five county finals are scheduled to be held, with a like number of outstanding district meets which are crucial tests prior to the Los Angeles county finale next week.

JOE COLLEY

County meets will be held at Redlands, Riverside, Santa Ana, San Luis Obispo and Ventura, with district championships at Long Beach, Pomona, Glendale, La Canada and Loyola High School, the latter being the scene of the parochial school finals.

HALEY FAVORED

Unless something unexpected happens—and this, of course, is always possible—Louis Haley of San Bernardino should win the senior title at Redlands. He has scored 651 points this year and is coached by Joe Colley. Haley is a good bet in the Southern California finals. Among the juniors, Toots Taylor of Highland has been going well as have a number of youngsters from the San Bernardino Y.M.C.A.

At Riverside the Thompson brothers of University High are labeled the outstanding contenders in the senior division, while competition should be exceptionally close and spirited among the juniors.

Scores of Orange county youngsters have not come to this writer's attention and he therefore is in the dark as to the probable outcome at Santa Ana. Robert Ruiz of Anaheim is likely to place among the seniors.

At San Luis Obispo the Lones brothers of Paso Robles made a strong showing last year and are likely to repeat. Ventura, Fillmore and Santa Paula have strong contenders in both divisions for the Ventura county finals and competition should be close in each class.

Long Beach always turns out a number of strong young athletes and when Messrs. Hunt and Peniwell get through with today's district meet the enterprising beach city is likely to have several promising candidates for the Southern California championship.

In the county meets the first five seniors and juniors automatically qualify for the Southern California finals. The same goes for the district meets today, except that winners here go into the Los Angeles county finale.

Competition is much closer in both divisions than it was last year when Vane Baker, Jerry Deal, Bob San Jose and Fernando Ramos were all carryovers from the season before.

At this writing Haley, Clark Crane of Huntington Park, Ord Shoults of San Pedro, Sam Waxman of Los Angeles and Frank Takeuchi of San Pedro look like the outstanding seniors, but this is prior to the various county finals billed for today. These five have been within 10 or 15 points of each other in meets this year.

Among the juniors, Joe Andrade of Calexico is off to a flying start with 640, followed by T. Okura of San Pedro with 608 and Jimmy Montgomery of El Monte with 592.

Following today's competition only two meets are left on the Southern California schedule, namely, the Los Angeles county finals June 1 and the grand finale June 7. After these events the four winners will leave for the nationals at Atlantic City and then take that wonderful twenty-eight-day ocean cruise to Latin America, all expenses being paid by The Times.

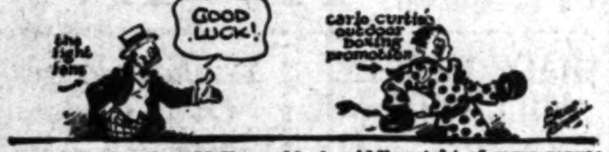
THE SECOND TRIAL

THE fistic spotlight switches tonight to White Sox Park, where Carlo Curtis, the boy promoter, takes his second fling at outdoor promotion.

A few weeks ago Carlo, who but a few years back was a Times newsie at the corner of First and Broadway, was rained out in his maiden attempt to go outside with a fight show.

But the setback was only temporary and he has bounced right back with a card that overshadows the first one he put together.

He hasn't got Bert Colima, the perennial Mexican favorite, but he has Jose Peregrina, a hot-tamale boy of a younger generation, in the main event.



the fight fans
GOOD LUCK!
Carlo Curtis' outdoor boxing promotion

And he has Sam McVey, a black middleweight of some repute, fighting Peregrina.

And Carlo has Andy Martin, a good boy Dan Carroll brought West from Boston.

And Able Miller, one of the famous Miller trio, which includes Hymie and Benny.

And Augie Curtis, young brother of the promoter himself. Augie has been some pumpkins in the amateur ranks and makes his professional debut tonight.

It's a good card and the boy promoter deserves a cheer for the hustle he has displayed. He may be the Jack Doyle of the town twenty years from now. Who knows?

A CROMWELL MATTER

"DO ME a favor," writes a Trojan rooter, "and find out why J. Wakefield Burke is not going to Boston with the Trojan track team. I think his record warrants it, and with that name, they might think he's from Harvard and give him the pole."

Sorry to inform my correspondent that Mr. Dean Cromwell, who has the secret locked in his heart, slipped out of the city before he could be questioned on the matter.

However, one gentleman with an ear to the ground explains that Vic Williams is better than Burke and Woessner is stronger than either.

Williams has been anchor man on the relay team all year and drew the first assignment. There was one more to go and the selection, so the story goes, was Woessner.

There are heats in the 440 in the I.C. 4-A's and Woessner can stand the going better than any of the other Trojan quarter-milers.

THE BIKE SITUATION

BUD THORPE, son of the former Harvard sprint star of a quarter century ago, wants some attention called to the pre-Olympic bike race to be staged in the north June 1.

Bud is a bike racer instead of a hoof racer like his dad and recently won a test held at Venice.

The northern race is 128 miles long, starts at San Jose and ends at Santa Cruz.

Bike racing will be a part of the Olympics here in 1932 and some of the boys are in diligent training already for the classic. Bud cites some dozen local riders who are training for the northern race:

Russell Allen, George Antribus, A. Goebels, Buck Ingraham, Geary May, Herbert McCoy, Sebastian Schmidt, Freddy Schultz, Alvini Rivera, Niel Davidson and Thorpe himself.

WHY NOT LACROSSE?

WHY not a little lacrosse in Los Angeles with the Olympics coming in 1932?

Mr. Thomas M. Marson asks the question, and points out that the climate and sturdiness of our youth are an ideal combination for the success of the game.

I can only answer Mr. Marson's question with the statement that it never "took."

Years ago Percy Hagerman, known to his intimates as "Haig" at Occidental, brought a bunch of sticks from his home in Canada and tried to graft it on the Tigers.

Some little temporary enthusiasm was stirred up, but it soon died out, and I have heard of no further attempts to revive the art.

is said. He has been in almost steady training for six weeks—half of it was put in for Pete Latzo fights in Chicago and Detroit which never materialized.

Shade has been a contented trainer. He believes he is in sight of the rainbow which he has chased for the last five years. He has been recognized in the east as Walker's superior for a long time. But Walker wouldn't fight him as a middleweight.

The referee question is still unsettled. Commissioner Jim Woods is in town, but declines comment except that the official will be named next week—probably Monday.

The fighters will weigh in privately at the offices of the commission Tuesday afternoon with the ceremony of a championship bout. Neither is expected to scale over 158.

Activity at the Olympic box-office indicates the show will probably be a sellout. The arena is scaled to gross $37,000 the same as it was for the Hudkins-Lew Tendler turnaway a couple years ago.

Hudkins and Shade have come through the camp work without injury. Hudkins looks stronger than he has been for a long time, but Shade doesn't miss as many punches. Last minute betting is expected to send the men into the ring at even money.

BELMONT NINE SHUTS OUT GARFIELD, 9-TO-0

Although already assured of the Minor City League title, Coach Sid Witherow's Belmont High nine failed to let up in their diamond efforts yesterday afternoon, and Garfield suffered a 9-to-0 shut-out defeat yesterday afternoon on its own diamond. The stellar hurling of George Matsura allowed the Bulldogs but three hits, while the Hilltopper bats were garnering ten from the offerings of Ray, including timely doubles by Hetzel and L. Frankovitch. The Bulldogs committed five bobbles in the field to one for Belmont.

their superiority over the English girls who had been rated as leading contenders for the title.

Taking the court during a momentary rift in the rain clouds, Mrs. Moody and Miss Ryan appeared eager to wind up the matter in hand before another downpour. They attacked incessantly and won seven games in a row after dropping the first game of the match.

Mrs. Moody showed to much better advantage than in the quarterfinals yesterday, winning all four of her service games without being carried to deuce and teaming well with her veteran partner. Miss Ryan's chop strokes were highly effective.

The Californians now are favored to win the championship by defeating Mme. Simone Mathieu and Mlle. Yvette Barbier of France, who reached the finals through an unexpected victory over Mrs. Phoebe Watson and Doris Round of England.

Paired with Jean Borotra, "the bounding Basque" of France, Miss Ryan advanced to the quarter-final round in mixed doubles by defeating Mme. Desloges and Antoine Gentien, France, 6-3, 6-3.

In the quarter-finals of the men's doubles competition, Harry Hopman and Jim Willard of Australia upset the veteran English combination of J. Colin Gregory, and I. G. Collins in five bitterly contested sets at 3-6, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2, 10-8.

A second Australian team consisting of E. F. Moon and Jack Crawford disposed of two more of England's best players, H. G. N. Lee and G. P. Hughes, at 6-2, 4-6, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3, to gain the semifinals.

Michigan, with Eddie Tolan as the star, appears to be a real threat with Harvard, Cornell, Penn and New York U. as the East's best.

SET TIME LIMIT ON MARATHON

Runners Must Finish in Four Hours to Receive Bronze Medals

Rules for contestants in the second annual Times pre-Olympic marathon, which will be run here June 14, will be practically the same as those which governed the first running of the classic. The only main change is that a time-limit has been established so that the race will be officially finished by 4 o'clock.

The contestants will be sent on their way exactly at 12, noon, from in front of the City Hall. The finish tape actually is only a scant two blocks from the start, but the runners will cover a circuitous route of twenty-six miles and 385 yards—the official Olympic marathon distance—before they cross the finish line on the First-street side of The Times Building.

The winner probably will run the distance in a little more than 2h. and 30m. However, the remaining runners will be given every opportunity to earn one of the many medals which will be awarded. There are ten gold medals for the first ten men to finish, and every other athlete who lasts out the entire grind, before the end of the four-hour time limit, will be given a bronze medal.

Other rules include that of not being followed by friends in automobiles, wearing of numbers, being checked at the official stations along the route, doctors' examinations and the like. They are the same which governed the race last year.

Seven Bouts for Benefit

Entries of the seven outstanding gymnasts and tumblers of the East and South for the National A.A.U. championships at the Olympic Auditorium June 6, were received here last night.

The men are Al Jochim, Frank Haubold, Herman Witzig and Robert Job, Union City, N. J.; Philip Garris, New York City; Billy Herrman, Philadelphia, and F. J. Villera, New Orleans.

Jochim, Haubold, Witzig and Job will defend the team championship representing the Swiss Turnverein of Union City. Garris is the metropolitan tumbling champion, while Herrman won the national title last year. Villera is the champion all-around man of the Southern Association.

These men leave the East Monday and will arrive in Los Angeles May 30.

ANGLERS MAKING GOOD CATCHES AT RAINBOW

Several hundred limits of nicely sized trout were caught this week by members of the Rainbow Angling Club, who fished during the evening at the club's Azusa branch recently opened. Night fishing was started some days ago and has been one of the biggest features manager Leigh Garnsey ever has put on. The branch is opening evenings for fishing until 9 o'clock. This gives those members who can't fish during the day plenty of time in the evening.

SAN DIEGO, May 23. (AP)—Young Harry Wills, San Diego Negro welterweight, knocked out Dick Ramies, Mexican, in the first round of a scheduled ten-round bout here tonight. Wills caught Ramies with a right to the chin to end hostilities one minute and fifty-two seconds after the bout started.

ROUGHRIDERS COP

Taking advantage of the wildness of the Fairfax pitchers, Coach "Coney" Galindo's Roosevelt Roughriders blanked the Fairfax Colonels by a score of 12 to 0, in a game played yesterday at the victors' diamond. Sixteen walks were issued by the four Fairfax hurlers during the melee. Emil Mansat and Harold McHenry led the Roosevelt bludgeon wielders, each garnering two hits in four trips to the plate. Meet Captured by Notre Dame

MARQUETTE STADIUM, MILWAUKEE (Wis.) May 23. (AP)—Netting 69 points, Notre Dame crashed its way to victory under the floodlights of Marquette University's stadium at the annual central intercollegiate track meet held here tonight. Michigan State was second, with 36 points, and Marquette was third, with 33.

It was the third time in five years the South Bend team has won the championship. Notre Dame athletes set three of the six new meet records established tonight.

Big Six

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The three National League members had a chance to get their share of the glory yesterday as the schedule kept their American rivals idle and they did it in a most satisfying fashion. Babe Herman, the leader, had a perfect day at bat, hitting three times in three official trips to the plate to increase his batting average 14 points, stopping at .432. Paul Waner also made three hits, going to the plate five times, and lifted his mark 8 points to .423. Frank O'Doul got two hits in five tries and remained at the .398 mark.

CALIFORNIA TO HAVE NEW TRACK NEXT YEAR

BERKELEY, May 23. (Exclusive) Razing of houses to make way for the new University of California track and tennis courts is making swift progress on the "southwest athletic development," with a large wrecking crew working feverishly toward clearing the area for athletic expansion. Plans for the new track, which is expected to give California a tremendous boost in this major sport, have not been finally accepted. With the completion of the wrecking in the near future, however, the plans will be approved, it is predicted. Assurance is given that California track men will have their new field for the 1931 season.

SOCCER GAME HOLDS INTEREST AT BEACH

A soccer game between the men of the H. M. S. Dauntless and the Douglas Aircraft eleven is the main object of interest among the Santa Monica sport fans this week-end. The game is scheduled for the local high-school field and starts at 2:30. The fact that both teams are strongly represented should insure the fans a lively contest.

Bands from the two outfits will furnish the entertainment for the large crowd which is expected to be on hand.

LINCOLN VICTORIOUS IN POLY BALL GAME

Lincoln High's baseball nine yesterday collected its third victory of the season when it trimmed the Poly High nine, 14-3, in a game held on the Mechanics' diamond. The Mechanics made a bid for the game in the first stages of the encounter when they disposed of the Tigers without a run in the first canto while they collected a run. However, the Tigers came back in the second and third innings to score eleven runs off of Ybarra, Mechanic chucker, and consequently put the game on ice. The Mechanics' other two runs were scored in the second canto.

Joe Aprato, Tiger third baseman and Andy Lombardo, Tiger outfielder, were the heavy sluggers of the winners, both the boys having good days at the plate. Alex Kallonzes, Mechanic catcher, did the heavy hitting for the losers, collecting three safe hits out of four trips to the plate. The Tigers used three different teams, and Frank Mallete, Lincoln mentor was about set to insert his waterboy when the affair came to a close.

Mello Almada hurled a nice game for the Romans, holding the opposition to but six hits, and in addition secured three singles in five times at bat. Other leading L. A. High batters were "Biff" Morrow, who knocked out four singles in five times at bat, and Ferraris, whose achievements included a home run, a triple and a double in five times at the plate. Jordan of Jefferson got two hits in four chances.

YACHTING RACES ON AT HARBOR

Summer Sailing Season Scheduled to Get Under Way Today

Opening of the summer racing season for eight-meter, six-meter and R-class sloops will be held off the breakwater by the California Yacht Club today and tomorrow, the races having been postponed from last Saturday and Sunday. This will be the first racing since the week of the midwinter regatta in March.

The eight-meter sloop Monidah, purchased by Roger Marchetti from Stewart Haldorn of San Francisco, will be an entry, making her first appearance as a Southern California craft. Ted Conant will be at the helm of the sloop.

Owen Churchill, owner of the eight-meter Babe, who recently purchased the new eight-meter sloop Angelita from the syndicate which built her for the March regatta, will be at the "stick" of that craft. The Babe and Marin also will race, making four of this class in races today and tomorrow.

Incidentally Churchill plans to invade the East this summer with the Angelita, and will ship the craft to New York on June 10 to enter her in the Larchmont and Marblehead regattas, in which the R-class sloop Pirate participated last year. It also is possible that the Angelita may be entered in international eight-meter events if her showing in other events is satisfactory.

The six-meters, represented by the Caprice, Clio, Harpoon and Synnove are scheduled to race today and tomorrow.

Latest word on the situation among the sixes is that Al Christie, who recently sold his R-class sloop Heather to Newmark Brothers, has purchased the famous six-meter sloop Lanai from New York owners, who raced her very successfully on the New England coast and in European waters for a number of years.

The R-class sloops Friendship, Heather, Pirate and Patricia are scheduled to put in an appearance for the week-end races.

The events are to start at 1:40 p.m. from the red buoy in the outer harbor, with a course around the Point Fermin buoy to the Long Beach red buoy and return.

Gymnast Stars Send Entries

Five boxing matches and two wrestling bouts have been scheduled for the big benefit program to be given by Second Division Association of the A.E.F. at Hollywood American Legion stadium Monday night, Eddie Schafer, in charge of the show, announced.

The boxers who will appear on the program being held to raise funds for the June convention here of the survivors of the Chateau Thierry outfit, are Ace Hudkins and Dave Shade, who are scheduled to meet in a ten-round battle at the Olympic the following evening; Joe Bitto, Homer Sheridan and Frankie Campbell. The fight program for that night has been arranged by Tom Gallery.

Two wrestling exhibitions, featuring Nick Lutze, who is signed to clash with Champion Gus Sonnenberg here in July, and Don George, the newest heavyweight sensation, will also be given, Lou Daro, local wrestling promoter, promised. He will referee these two bouts. Lutze and George will tangle at the Olympic Wednesday night.

Schafer announced that the sports program will precede the other attractions, which will feature many of the highest-paid stars of the stage and screen.

HOLLYWOOD DEFEATS MANUAL NINE, 4 TO 2

Capable pitching by Capt. Fernando Collins and some excellent work in the field gave the Hollywood High nine its first victory in the City League this season yesterday afternoon on the Sheiks' field, the Manual Arts team succumbing 4 to 2. Sass hurled good ball for the Toilers, but his mates committed four errors in the field.

The Manual ball club got off to an early lead, scoring runs in the first and fourth innings to lead, 2 to 0, until the last half of the sixth frame. In the sixth, the Foothillers added two hits and some clever base-running to errors by the Toilers to score three runs, and added another digit to the total in the eighth on a single and a long double into left field.

Dr. Harry H. Wilson, prominent Southland sportsman, will be at back for Pedley's Uplifters' team. Clair Brunson will be back for Boeseke's Whites. At No. 2, Lionel Pedley will bear his brother's colors, while Hal Roach will ride for the Whites. At the forward No. 1 berth, T. Lyell Puckett goes in with Boeseke and Scott Hackley with Pedley. Judging from early season performances, the two sides are evenly matched both as to players and mounts and a hotly contested match is predicted.

Missions Shut Out Seattle

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23. (AP)—The San Francisco Missions not only defeated the Seattle Indians, 6-0, today, but dished up a snappy triple play for the benefit of the customers. The triple kill came in the ninth inning, just when it appeared Bert Cole, Mission left-hander, was due for trouble. Dave Barbee, Seattle right fielder, walked and went to second on Holland's single. Bill Lawrence, center fielder, drove a liner to Rodda, shortstop, who threw to Monroe, doubling Barbee, and Monroe relayed to First Baseman Burns. The Missions had their rally in the fifth, scoring four runs on five hits and a walk. Cole kept the Seattle hits well scattered. Score:

YANKEES TRIM MEXICAN TEAM

Texas youth and the dark-haired East Orange (N. J.) boy, Van Ryn, tore through the first two games without the loss of a point. Allison grimaced and hopped about the court when he netted a ball a minute later. In all, the Mexicans gained but 5 points in the entire first set. Only in the third set did Llano and Unda seriously attempt to challenge the Americans' supremacy at the net. Exciting and extended, rapid-fire interchanges often resulted, but the Latins were no match for the close-range, hair-trigger play of Allison and Van Ryn.

EDGREN WINS TOURNEY

FATHER WATCHES SHARKEY

Boston Gob's Sire Sits Through Workout at Orangeburg Training Camp

ORANGEBURG (N. Y.) May 23. (Exclusive)—A little old man, gray-haired and bespectacled, who looked to be well past 60, sat off in the far corner of Gus Wilson's sun-baked open-air arena this afternoon with a weather-beaten grey fedora pulled down over his eyes.

He watched every move made by Jack Sharkey, introduced to the crowd as the coming world's heavyweight champion, in the ring below him with eager eyes.

Whenever Sharkey, moving swiftly and with grace, happened to move into a position where he faced that little old man, the latter ducked behind the broad protecting shoulders of one of six friends he brought down here with him from Sharkey's birthplace, Binghamton. He was Jack Sharkey's Lithuanian father, Benjamin Cuckoshay, getting his first peek at his son with the gloves on.

"I have never seen Paul (that is Jack's Christian name) box before," he said.

The workout concluded, Sharkey, dripping with sweat, was petting one of his kid admirers when he suddenly looked up and discovered his dad standing in front of him.

"Pop!" exclaimed Jack as he leaped to his feet, gathered the smiling old man into his bear-like arms. "Gosh, it's great to see you."

UNPLEASANT SURPRISE IN SCHMELING'S MAIL

BINGHAMTON (N. Y.) May 23. (Exclusive)—Max Schmeling, the Teuton heavyweight title contender, did no training beyond eighteen holes of jerkily swung and often-sliced golf today, but he encountered an unpleasant surprise in his fan mail. His letters, incidentally, now average 100 a day, numerous of them inclosing photos of tow-headed Ottos and Fredas in diapers waving American and German flags or toy boxing gloves.

But one, today, from Carlstadt, N. J., which is about as German-American as Hoboken or Milwaukee, had a little circular inclosed, a booklet advertising a cemetery at Rutherford, N. J. Accompanying, in a feminine script, and signed "Miss Grace Walmach," was a note advising Max he was due to die June 12 (the date of his battle with Jack Sharkey) and advising him to pick out his burial plot while he is able.

The German is a favorite with the caddies despite his unorthodox game, for he tips decidedly liberally and is easy to please.

Usually he approaches a green by devious routes and foreign fairways, but he had an honest 102 today and is parring a few, much to our mutual amazement.

DUCKS DEFEAT SHEIKS, 12-11

second win of the week for Walters.

The exhibition merely served to substantiate a rather universal feeling among Wrigley Field critics, namely, that Coast League pitchers are a pretty sour lot this year.

At that, it wasn't Yde's fault that he lost. A break of the game put him in a hole. Here's what happened in that tenth frame. What went before hardly matters.

Otis Brannon retired Hillis, Cronin's bounder to Brannon took a terrific hop and bounced over Ote's head into right field for a double. Palmisano's single to center scored Cronin, the former taking second on the throw-in. Catina bobbled Walters's grounder and all hands were safe, Palmisano going to third on the play. Chatham walked and then Johnson singled the Duck catcher home with a blow that went through Gazella. With Walters on third and Chatham at second Yde fanned Orwoll and retired Ken Williams after first throwing him three balls.

ALMOST TIED IT

The Stars tried desperately to tie in their half of the frame. Yde drew a hit when Cronin couldn't handle his roller. Gazella fanned, looking at the last strike. Severeid, batting for Catina, sent Yde to second with a timely single to center. Cook went in to run for Hank. At this point Manager Woodall introduced Ortman to the crowd and Manager Vitt sent Frank Shellenback in to hit for Brannon. The big pitcher responded with a single to center, scoring Yde.

Homer Green, Hollywood's strong man, whiffed vigorously. Duke Marlowe, recruit outfielder, was sent in to see what he could do against Ortman's slants, the youngster taking Carlyle's place at bat. Duke hit the first ball pitched down to Hillis who threw to Orwoll and it was all over.

Homer Summa lived up to his name by blasting a pair of circuit clouts for the Ducks. The first came in the opening frame off Hollerson and scored Orwoll ahead of him. The other arrived in the fifth when Portland, trailing 9 to 3, tied the score with six markers. Hollerson's hand went bad on him in this frame, a thumb injury forcing him to retire, but before Vitt could rush Page to the rescue most of the damage had been done. Summa contributed the rest when he appeared as the first hitter against Page and hit the ball over the right-field screen, scoring Orwoll and Williams ahead of him.

RAN BASES BADLY

Bad base running hurt Hollywood's chances of victory when the game had tightened up. The fans jumped on Vitt, coaching at third base, because Oscar waved down Bassler and Rumler on separate occasions, both moves resulting in outs. Oscar generally waves 'em on in from third on practically any kind of a hit, and his switch in tactics seemed to get his men balled up a bit. However, neither Bassler nor Rumler is a Charley Paddock on the paths.

Looks like Curt Fullerton for Portland today with Frank Shellenback for the Stars. Hollywood leads, three to two, in the series. The box score:

HITLESS GAME RUNG UP BY LEGION HURLER

Albert Pearson, hurler for the El Monte American Legion baseball team, stepped into the pitchers' Hall of Fame yesterday afternoon when he held the San Gabriel Legionnaires hitless. The final score was 17 to 1, the San Gabriel nine gaining one run on a walk, two stolen bases and a sacrifice to spoil an otherwise perfect contest.

The game marked the fifth straight victory for El Monte, and broke San Gabriel's winning streak that had extended to eleven straight triumphs.

SENATORS WIN FROM SERAPHS

tional plays when a long hit would have proved extremely disastrous to Gould.

The Senators were materially aided in their drive on Delaney by home-run clouts contributed by Dolph Camilli and Ray Rohwer, the latter's coming in the fifth with two men on. The Angels certainly concentrated their attack on Gould as Schulmerich, Jacobs, Haney and Statz, batting in order, got all their hits, the first three each got three blows in four times up and Statz got one.

The Angels threatened in the second inning when Schulmerich and Haney singled, but Jacobs ruined their chances by bunting into a double play.

Delaney was nicked for two runs in the third. French opened with a single through the box and was caught off first. McLaughlin followed with a single and then Camilli put the ball over the right-field wall.

With one away Rohwer started the Solons on a three-run rally in the fourth by singling to right. Wirts fanned and Gould surprised all hands by doubling to the scoreboard to count Rohwer. French tripled, scoring Gould and he crossed the pan on McLaughlin's infield tap. The ball took a bad hop and hit Sigafoos in the face.

Schulmerich doubled for the Angels in the fifth and he scored on singles by Jacobs and Statz. A walk to Hoag, Osborne's single and Rohwer's homer gave the Solons three more in the fifth. Horne and Skiff became the Los Angeles battery in the sixth, Delaney having given away to a pinch hitter. Singles by Schulmerich and Jacobs and Haney's double netted the visitors two runs in the seventh. The score:

Bell High School won its fourth straight shut-out and its fifth consecutive victory yesterday, defeating the Torrance nine in a game held on the winner's diamond. GEORGE MAY GET BIG BOUT

Former Amateur Seeking to Upset Lutze in Main Wrestling Tangle

When Don George meets Nick Lutze in a finish mat battle at the Olympic Wednesday night, he will be competing for the possible right to replace the Venice lifeguard as "Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg's opponent here in a title match early in July.

The former University of Michigan mat star was practically given this assurance yesterday with Promoter Lou Daro's announcement that he would give George serious consideration as a title contender if he beats Lutze. The latter is to get his first chance at Sonnenberg only in case he wins all of his matches up to the date he is scheduled to clash with the titleholder.

That Lutze, who is in training at Venice, considers George a serious threat to his chances of getting his first title bout in almost two years is seen by the fact that he is training for the match in much the same manner that he did for those with Everett Marshall. He is going through two workouts daily, giving more attention to his workouts on the mat than ever before.

In preparing for matches with opponents he feels almost certain of beating, Lutze's training is confined almost entirely to training with weights and exercises. He works out on the mat but a very few times in getting ready for these matches. When he trained for bouts with such men as Ed Lewis, Joe Malcewicz, Joe Stecher, Marshall and a few others, he usually has two or more trainers to work with. He has two trainers helping him get in condition for this match.

Lee Wycoff, an outstanding amateur of several years ago who has run up an impressive record as a pro, will clash with Buck Olsen in the special event. Al Baffert has been signed for the opener. His opponent will be named today.

SIMPSON SEEKS RECORD

Runs 9.7 Seconds Century in Rain; Hopes to Shatter Record Against Tolan Today

DYCHE STADIUM (Evanston, Ill.) May 23. (AP)—Flashing through a driving rain, George Simpson, Ohio State's great sprint star, served warning today he intends to establish a new world's record for the 100-yard dash tomorrow and make it stand up without reservation. The Ohio comet, competing in the preliminaries of the Western Conference outdoor track-and-field championships this afternoon reeled off the century in 9.7 seconds.

Simpson threw away his starting blocks, which caused the International Amateur Athletic Federation to rule out his performance of 9.4 as a world's mark. The Buckeye star will not use the blocks in the finals tomorrow when he races Eddie Tolan, University of Michigan Negro speedster, whose performance of 9.5 established in the Big Ten meet a year ago, was recognized by the federation as the world's record for the century.

Tolan had no trouble in winning his qualifying heat today in 9.8s.

Michigan and Illinois were ranked as favorites to win the team championship as a result of performances in the preliminaries.

Central Buys Stock Interest in Lackawanna

NEW YORK, May 23. (Exclusive) New York Central Railroad through its subsidiary Securities Corporation has purchased 77,225 shares of Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company capital stock for $10,794,150 or about $140 per share. Although the New York Central holdings in this road amount to only 4.6 per cent of the 1,688,822 shares of outstanding Lackawanna stock, working control is held by friendly interests.

New York Central has long contended that it is in need of an interior route through Central Pennsylvania to New York City to relieve its main line via Buffalo. It now ha sa line from Ashtabula, O., terminating at Williamsport, Pa., and desires a carrier that in addition to affording a connection between the latter point and New York City would be an originating anthracite line.

In view of the allocation of Lackawanna to the Van Sweringens' Chesapeake and Ohio Nickel Plate system by the Interstate Commerce Commission, it remains to be seen how New York Central proposes to overcome this obstacle. However, there is a possibility that a joint ownership would satisfy both interests.

AIR NEWS STILL BEARISH

Operating Losses and Lower Profits Continue to Depress Stocks; New Lease Expected

BY EARLE E. CROWE

About the most constructive comment that can be made on the airplane stocks is that the supply of bearish news must some day run out. Not much worse can happen than a steady stream of unfavorable reports on sales, inventories and profits, which should indicate, at least, that air stocks should quickly react to bullish news when it does materialize.

Before the stock market broke last fall the boom in airplane manufacturing had already been punctured, sales estimates sharply reduced and most hopes of profits forfeited. Naturally the aviation stocks, having energetically discounted the rosy dreams of air-minded speculators, quickly collapsed to reflect the general disappointment.

STILL SLUGGISH

Except for a handful of companies better situated than the others, the aviation stocks have registered little improvement since the awakening. They are at least fortunate in having plumbed the depths of depression in advance of stocks on other industries, and perhaps are now in better shape to advance when the news turns more favorable.

First-quarter reports have not contributed any to the happiness of airplane stockholders except for meager comfort from the thought that nothing better was expected. Aviation Corporation, for example, reported a net loss for the March quarter of $954,000. This company controls both manufacturing units and passenger and air-mail lines.

Yesterday Curtiss-Wright Corporation disclosed a net loss for the first quarter of $1,620,920, mostly due to losses from flying activities and also from lower inventory values. Curtiss-Wright is one of the largest units in the industry, numbering among its activities several manufacturing companies, equipment makers, etc.

UNITED EXPANDS

Even United Aircraft and Transport, strongest and most aggressive of the aviation companies, reported a decline in profits in the first quarter compared with the same period a year ago. United, however, is generally rated as one of the companies standing a good chance to benefit materially when the aviation business starts to look up.

United recently strengthened its hold on the air-mail business by the purchase of controlling interest in National Air Transport, holding the air-mail contract from New York to Chicago. How this expansion step will react with the postoffice authorities is a point, however, not yet settled.

DEAL STILL ON

Unofficial advices intimate that Western Air Express will be awarded the Los Angeles-El Paso mail contract, probably after the close of the government's fiscal year in June. It is also understood that conversations are still on between Western Air and T.A.T.-Maddux, which look to the consolidation of the two under the Western Air banner. Combination of the two would give the single line a chance to earn a profit on passenger operations eastward, and also eliminate competition on the Los Angeles-Kansas City mail contract.

Under Western Air control the eastern line would also be expected to use Western Air equipment, the new Fokker F-32. Fokker, then, would be numbered among the beneficiaries from a Western Air-T.A.T. deal.

A few consolidations and the awarding by the government of mail contracts on new lines might furnish the airplane industry with the kind of news necessary to a new lease on life, marketwise.

CUT IN REALTY TAX TOPIC

National Movement Discussed at Building and Loan League Round-Table Breakfast

SAN DIEGO, May 23. (Exclusive)—A national movement to reduce taxes on real estate was discussed by delegates to the twenty-fifth annual conference of the California Building and Loan League at a round-table breakfast in Hotel Del Coronado this morning.

The discussion was led by Walter R. McDowell, Los Angeles, immediate past president of the United States Building and Loan League; R. Holtby Myers, Los Angeles, first vice-president, United States Building and Loan League, and Fred Bullock of San Francisco, certified public accountant.

J. M. Abbott of Santa Barbara, president of the league, submitted his annual report at the opening session, attended by about 400 delegates. Assets of associations in the State increased $79,000,000, from $422,000,000 to $501,000,000 during the past year, he stated.

"From all over the country," said Mr. Abbott, "comes a demand that the tax upon real property be lightened. It is generally admitted that the owner of a modest home is paying more than his just share of taxes. The question of reducing the tax is of great importance, and should demand our attention."

MANY MERGERS

Charles A. Whitmore of Los Angeles, State Building and Loan Commissioner, said that since 1927 there had been forty-nine mergers, with assets of $167,873,000. Attributing the movement to the necessity of keeping in step with economic business evolution and "need for curtailment of expense through volume operation," he said that more mergers can be expected. The speaker emphasized the stability of building and loan associations. "With billions of the people's money handled over a period of years, there has been no loss of principal to any investment certificate holders to date," he asserted. Only two failures of associations have been recorded in thirteen years, according to the commissioner.

LEGISLATION NEEDED

Referring to legislation, the speaker said it is "apparent that some constructive legislation is badly needed. Our laws originally were intended for the purely mutual association. Since the innovation of the guarantee association new laws constantly have been added and existing laws changed in an attempt to make them applicable to the new form of association." He characterized the result of these changes as "a set of patched-up laws which are ambiguous and confusing."

In theory, he said, "it would be best to redraft the law, but from a practical standpoint it probably is safer to correct mistakes in the legislation." He expressed belief that all "laws designed to regulate building and loan associations should be made as flexible as possible, so that they will be applicable to the exceptional as well as to the ordinary case."

One of the main changes suggested by him is extension and clarification of the commissioners' power.

Little Change in Conditions of Trade Noted

Aside from a slight further easing in the general level of prices, this more particularly in evidence in iron and steel lines and speculatively dealt-in products of farm origin, there are strikingly few changes to be observed in the general trade and industrial field. Whereas, in a number of surplus crop-producing areas, rains have retarded planting and restricted rural buying, something like an offset calculated to make for cheerfulness is found in the apparently good start, mainly in the shape of copious supplies of moisture given the bulk of the spring-sown acreage.

At a few markets there are signs of a closer approach to a year ago than in recent months in the volume of day-to-day buying, which tends to strengthen the impression that the purchasing tendency has found levels at which new buying may be made with a shade more confidence than existed for some time past. Perhaps aiding this idea has been the wider scope of employment in outside occupations, which tends to more than offset the slight reduction indicated in factory operations from earlier periods.

Weekly bank clearings $10,446,287,000, a decrease of 13.2 per cent from a year ago.

Stock Broker Loses Permit

Testimony at a hearing to the effect that stock of a company had been sold on more than one occasion after an order to cease and desist selling the security was followed yesterday by the announcement at the State Corporation Department that the broker's license of Bernard Sargen, a Los Angeles broker doing business as Sargen & Company, has been revoked.

Sargen contended that the stock was personally owned. The order to cease selling the stock was issued by the Corporation Commissioner on February 13, last.

Firestone Tire Reports Profit

CLEVELAND, May 23. (Exclusive)—Net profits of the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company and subsidiaries for the six months ended April 30, last, today were reported at $2,320,118 after all charges, including interest, depreciation, Federal taxes and liberal development expenditures.

Harvey S. Firestone, president, stated that the rubber industry is just entering the summer buying season and that the company's dealers expect heavy tire buying by the public, which makes the outlook favorable for the company.

BUSINESS HAS SLIGHT UPTURN

Federal Reserve Board Sees Increasing Activity

Industrial Production Shows Small Improvement

Output in First Four Months Falls in All Lines

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—A slight increase in industrial activity in April over that of March was described today by the Federal Reserve Board in its monthly review of general business and financial conditions.

The board found that factory employment declined by the usual seasonal amount, while factory pay rolls showed a smaller reduction than usual.

Wholesale prices, the board said, continued to decline in April and the first half of May, while there was a further easing of open market money rates.

INDEX POINTS UP

In the basic industries, April production was slightly larger than in March and the board's index, which makes allowance for the usual seasonal changes, showed an increase of about 2 per cent offsetting part of the decrease in March.

The output of automobiles showed the usual seasonal expansion, while steel output declined in April and the early part of May and the silk textile production was considerably reduced with woolen mills curtailing operations. Cotton mills were found to have been more active in April, but in the first part of May a program of curtailment was instituted in that industry.

TOBACCO HOLDS PACE

The board found that the first four months of the year showed smaller production in all major branches of industry except tobacco when compared with the first four months of 1929. In comparison with the four months of 1928, however, the output was larger in the automobile, petroleum and silk industries, slightly smaller in steel and coal and considerably smaller in cotton and wool textiles, flour, meat packing, automobile tires and lumber.

The board reported that loans and investments of member banks increased by about $160,000,000 in the latter half of April, but declined by almost that amount in the first two weeks of May. The volume of Reserve bank credit declined by $125,000,000 between April 19 and May 17 due chiefly to the addition of about $65,000,000 to the stock of monetary gold and of a further substantial reduction in the volume of money in circulation, which reflected chiefly smaller volume of pay rolls and decline in retail prices.

At 2 o'clock July was ruling around 16.28 and the new October contract to 14.85, or 6 to 8 points net lower.

BRANCH-BANK FOE HEARD

Ex-Governor Stokes of New Jersey Hits Policy in Address Before Pennsylvania Bankers

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, May 23.—Ex-Gov. Edward C. Stokes, the Trenton (N. J.) banker, after saying that thirty-tw. States either forbid or restrict branch banking, told the Pennsylvania Bankers' Association yesterday that chain and branch banking were "Unamerican and destructive to individual effort."

He contrasts the twenty-three banks of the British Isles with their 9476 branches, with the 24,000 independent American banks "each locally owned and managed by a local board of directors, and officers who use the funds of the bank legitimately for the development of the community."

Eloquent, earnest, with thirty years of successful banking experience, Gov. Stokes insisted that branch banking is "European, not American." The unit system is "American, not alien or foreign."

To the two arguments always advanced in favor of branch banking (1) that it would improve the mechanics of the banking by creating a more highly specialized body of experts, and (2) that it would tend to prevent bank failures, he replied by saying that such arguments ignore the human side of banking, and the bank failures are due to "depression in the business of the community and not to any fault of the banker."

It was a slashing attack and some believe that this New Jersey banker will emerge as the leader of that large group who oppose the extension of branch and chain banking in the United States.

Hard on the heels of the statement made by E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, that the greatest help the United States could give to Canada would be to consume all of the wheat that it raised, comes the report of the United States Department of Agriculture that white bread is a wholesome nutritious food and should be eaten as part of a balanced diet.

During the past five years the United States Department of Agriculture has found that there has grown up in the United States a distinct fear of white bread, a sentiment created largely by propagandists of wheat substitutes. So the amount of white bread consumed has been gradually diminishing.

But five nationally known authorities on dietetics announce that white and whole wheat bread should be eaten as part of a balanced diet.

Economists and farmers looking to the business side of the picture, see dire disaster facing wheat farmers if antiwhite bread propagandists have their way. The diminishing demand for white bread spells further demoralization of the American wheat farmer.

STATUS OF WOOL MART UNCHANGED

Mill Takings Reported as Some Heavier at Old Level of Prices

BOSTON, May 23. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin of Boston will say tomorrow:

Manufacturers have shown a better disposition to buy wool the past week or two, on the basis now current but any attempt to boost prices has met with failure. The mills are in many cases on much reduced schedules but evidently are getting a little more business than they were. Demand chiefly favors fine wools but some interest is reported in quarter-blood combings, at steady rates.

Foreign markets are generally steady as compared with the close last week-end. London is having good clearances. Evidently the strike in Yorkshire is nearing an end.

Buying in the West is progressing steadily at rates which show little change, on the whole, but which are generally very firm. Interest is chiefly directed toward Texas just now with eight-months wools moving at around 25 cents and twelve-months wools at 25-27 cents for the best types. Prices being paid in the West are generally close to eastern parity. The early passage of the tariff is conceded and will probably help to stabilize the market.

Mohair still is slow with little or no price change.

The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from January 1, 1930, to May 22, 1930, inclusive, were 54,076,000 pounds, against 74,112,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1930, to May 22, 1930, inclusive, were 84,310,800 pounds, against 121,091,600 pounds for the same period last year.

The Bulletin will publish the following quotations:

Wheat Futures Turn Lower on Bearish News

CHICAGO, May 23. (AP)—Reports of unusually favorable prospects for the United States 1930 spring wheat crop had a bearish effect on wheat values today. The outlook for the Canadian crop also was reported as relatively auspicious, and selling was further promoted by nonfulfillment of predictions of widespread frosts last night. Forecasts of frost tonight in Kansas, Nebraska and the Northwest were virtually ignored.

Closing quotations on wheat were weak, 1⅜@2⅛c a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 1⅛@1⅝c down, oats ⅝@⅞c off and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5c.

In connection with the new domestic spring wheat outlook, Chicago crop authorities indicated high conditions figures were to be looked for in the monthly trade summaries on June 1. Even before this information was at hand, the market was tending downward, owing to absence of predicted frosts and because of evidence that exporters of North American wheat were not following advances in prices. Waning of demand from exporters and speculators led promptly to much selling on the part of yesterday's buyers, and the market as a whole acted in decided contrast with yesterday's display of strength.

Corn and oats prices receded with wheat. Provisions were somewhat firmer.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23. (AP)—Sentiment in speculative quarters along Montgomery street ran with the bullish element today. Optimists could not see how business could long remain in the dumps. Students of the market's technical position said recent pessimism had led an unusual number to sell short, and that a moderate pinching would force these sellers to buy back the stock to make delivery. On this background, individual stocks made up a picture of irregularity, with several moving higher. Sales of 23,123 shares brought $1,014,790.

Transamerica notably was a ground-gainer. Under revived demand the rise in this issue added nearly a point to its value at the close of 43½, compared with the close yesterday at 43 even. Fireman's Fund rose 1¼. Bond and Share and Associated Insurance were fractionally higher.

Industrials fared well. Galland Mercantile Laundry emerged from inactivity with a jump of 4 points. Caterpillar and Oliver Filters "B" rose 1 and a sizeable array added fractions. Losses of 1 to 2 points, on the other hand, were forced on Rainier Pulp and Paper, Crown preferred and Magnin preferred.

Utilities were taken by some investors, while speculators held arguments over their outlook. The high ratio of market price to earnings was defended by long-pull holders on the basis of prospects of growth with the further increase in population on the Coast. Pacific Lighting was up 1 and Pacific Gas ⅝.

Oil stocks were neither active nor erratic in price movements. The largest move was a ½-point drop by Richfield. Eyes of speculative holders of oil stocks were fixed on Southern California, where various efforts to restrict output are being closely watched.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, May 23. (AP)—Convertible bonds dominated the trading on the New York Stock Exchange today, in a session which in contrast with the recent dullness was spirited. The demand for the stock privilege issues, particularly the five most active bonds, brought the total volume to a good figure, despite the fact that many bond men were out of town for their annual field day.

Investment issues showed an inclination to go somewhere, but by the close only a few had advanced appreciably. The general tone of the market, however, was satisfactory. Moderate demand for rails firmed prices during the earlier hours, but many yielded ground later to finish steady or only slightly changed.

This was the last day on which the American Telephone 4½s could be converted into common stock carrying rights and the bond's performance was sensational. Sagging 3 points at the start, it rebounded 9 — end the day 6 points above yesterday's close. Offices of the company were besieged by bond holders anxious to make the exchange for stock and only a small proportion of the original $219,000,000 issue remained unconverted at the close of business.

General Theaters 6s of '44 appreciated 3½ points, and a half-dozen other issues gained moderately.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

FLOUR COMPANY IN NEW PRICE ADVANCE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23. (Exclusive)—Sperry Flour Company advanced the price of Gold Medal and Drifted Snow brands of flour 20 cents per barrel, officials of the company announced today. The new prices are immediately effective.

CHINA ORDERS LARGE SHIPMENT OF PLANES

Douglas Aircraft Company will shortly deliver ten military planes valued at $250,000 to the Nationalist government of China, it was reported yesterday. The order is said to be the largest single shipment of planes for Chinese interests ever contracted by an American company.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, May 23. (AP)—The curb market broke out of its narrow trading range with a decided upturn today, centering in a handful of the utility shares. Niagara Hudson was a dominant feature, displacing such recent leaders as Electric Bond and Share, and United Light A. Trading, however, showed little acceleration, the day's turnover falling short of 700,000 shares.

Operations for the advance were resumed on the theory the market had reached an oversold position, and was due for an upturn, on technical grounds alone if for no other reason. The activity in Niagara Hudson was evidently in response to expectations of early consummation of a close alignment with Consolidated Gas of New York. Floyd L. Carlyle, chairman, is expected to be placed on the Consolidated Gas board at the meeting next week.

The industrials, on the whole, were neglected. Deere rallied 4 points, then lost its gain. The Pacific Coast Biscuit issues again were firm, selling up moderately to new peak prices. Fokker Aircraft was in fair demand, and the Van Camp Packing issues, recent weak features, rallied substantially.

Oil and natural gas stocks moved in narrow ranges.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low and both low and close when same as the high.

NEW YORK, May 23. (Exclusive) Detectives of the missing persons' bureau and of the crime prevention bureau are seeking Evelyn Mugford, 15 years of age, of 450 South Wetherly Drive, Beverly Hills, Cal., who left home April 19, last, presumably to seek a career here as a dancer.

Mrs. Wellington P. Binns, mother of Evelyn, wrote in a letter to her sister, Mrs. Charles R. Angus of 780 East Twenty-first street, Brooklyn, that the girl carried all her clothing with her in two suit cases when she left home. Where Evelyn got her money for the trip East is a mystery to her mother, who said that to the best of her knowledge Evelyn had only $15 she had saved.

Pale tints and bright colors will rule in men's straws, along with butter yellow, aquatone green and linen blue.

TRADE AND INDUSTRIAL GAINS MADE

State Commerce Chamber Reports Improvements; Officers Elected

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23. (AP)—Indications that California has passed through the worst of its business depression and may be expected to show material improvement soon were seen in reports of trade and industry from all parts of the State, made public at the annual director's meeting here today of the State Chamber of Commerce.

The annual election resulted in the choice of the following officers: Frederick J. Koster, president; C. C. Teague, first vice-president; Joseph R. Knowland, second vice-president; Arthur S. Bent, third vice-president; Retiring President William May Garland, treasurer, and Norman H. Sloane, general manager.

Economic conditions were reported on the mend, with employment greater and crops promising good returns to growers. The summary of State-wide reports indicated a general belief that improvement of a gradual type should begin in the near future, and that by fall conditions "should be greatly improved."

AUSTIN (Tejas), Mayo 23.—El ex-gobernador James E. Ferguson es inelegible para volver a ocupar puestos oficiales en Tejas, según ha declarado hoy la Suprema Corte al denegarle a Ferguson su solicitud de mandamiento judicial para obligar al Comité Ejecutivo Democrático del Estado a inscribir el nombre del solicitante en las papeletas de las elecciones primarias.

La corte ha declarado sin valor la ley de amnistía aprobada por la legislatura en 1925, con la que se devolvía a Ferguson el derecho de ocupar puestos de gobierno después de haber sido desaforado en 1917 por el senado, y destituído de su cargo de gobernador.

SALEM (Oregon), Mayo 23.—Hoy ha salido aquí de la cárcel Lucas C. Voigt, merced a que pudo conseguir $100 prestados de su actual esposa para pagar pensiones alimenticias atrasadas a su anterior mujer.

La esposa divorciada acusó a Voigt de falta de pago de los $25 mensuales que tiene que darle para la manutención de su hijo. Quedó convenido en el juzgado que pagara $100 para liquidar los pagos insolutos, y siguiera luego dando $20 por mes.

"¿Puede usted pagar los $100?" le preguntó el juez. "No en este mundo", respondió Voigt; pero mi actual esposa los tiene en Portland, y los mandaré tan luego como regrese yo allá. A mi segunda mujer no tengo que sostenerla, pues tiene un empleo.

El californio, cuyas señas no han sido divulgadas, dice haber huido después de atropellar al chiquillo. Agrega en su carta que estuvo enfermo, y que había desesperado de salvar su vida.

PALMER TO QUIT WATER BOARD SOON

Place of Publisher Will Go to O. T. Johnson, Jr., Confirmed by Council

Harlan G. Palmer resigned, and O. T. Johnson, Jr., was appointed in his place as a member of the Board of Water and Power Commissioners in record time yesterday morning. Palmer's resignation is effective the 31st inst. With Councilmen McAllister and Williams in opposition, the City Council confirmed Mayor Porter's nomination of Johnson as his successor.

Palmer explains, in his letter of resignation to Mayor Porter, that his private interests prevent him from devoting the necessary time to the work of the board. Palmer, who is publisher of the Hollywood Daily Citizen, was one of Porter's first appointees, going on the board last July on the expiration of the term of Senator Del Valle, who had served eighteen years. During the time Palmer was on the board he took an active interest in the Owens Valley situation.

Johnson, who comes of a pioneer Los Angeles family, was appointed to the board of directors of the Metropolitan Water District by Mayor Porter six months ago. He has made several trips to Washington during the negotiations over the construction of the Boulder Canyon Dam.

Court Continues $10,000 Bail Allowance Pending New Hearing Arguments

Harold L. (Buddy) Davis, chief deputy under former Dist.-Atty. Keyes, will remain at liberty under a $10,000 bail pending disposition of his bribery conviction, subsequent to a reversal by the Appellate Court, and arguments on a hearing before the State Supreme Court.

Agreement to the bail allowance was made by Chief Deputy District-Attorney Stewart, who appeared when Davis was before the court with his attorney, Jerry Geisler.

Davis appeared before Judge Wilson yesterday to carry out an agreement entered into when he was released from jail after the Appellate Court reversed the conviction of accepting a $7500 bribe. Arguments on the petition for a rehearing will be heard before the Supreme Court here July 8.

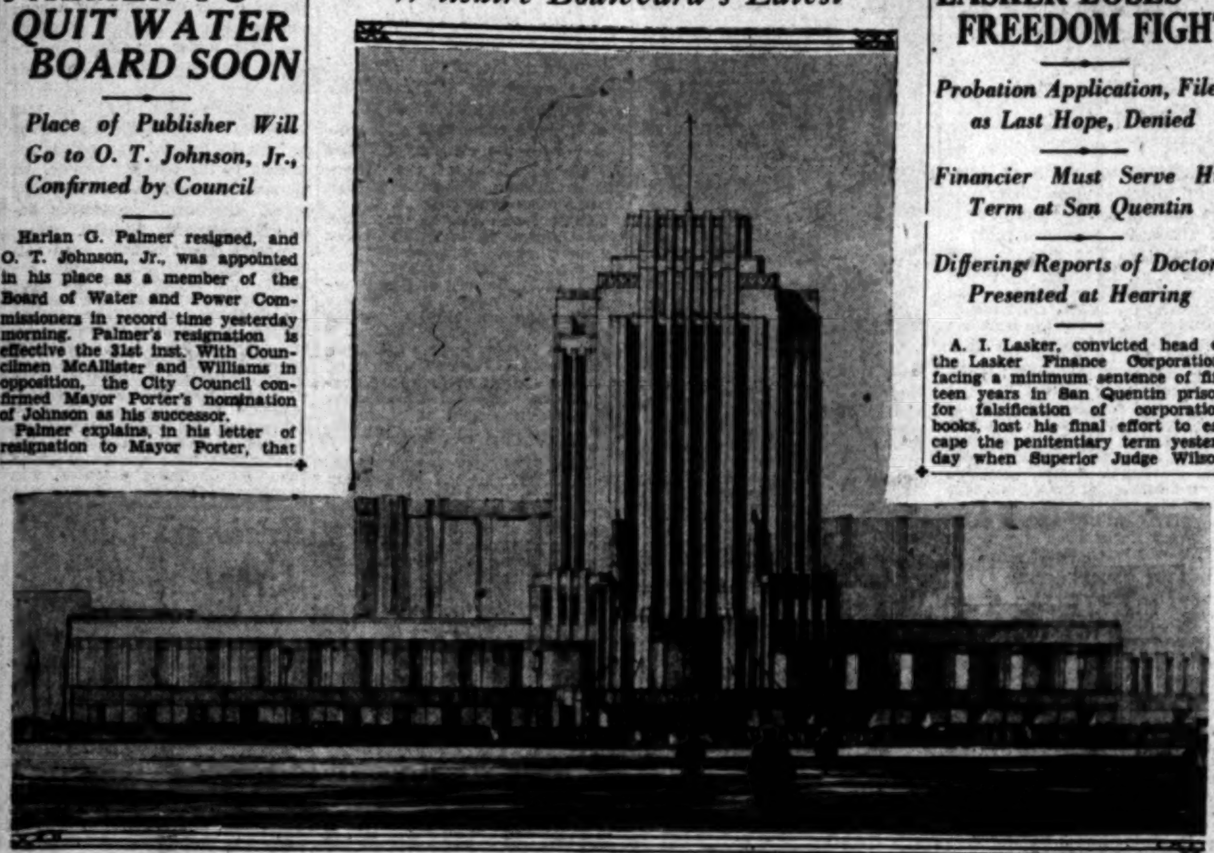
Wilshire Boulevard's Latest



Will Open Next Spring

Architect's drawing of limit-height mercantile, office and theater building to be erected at corner of Wilshire Boulevard and Western avenue.

NEW THEATER PROJECTED

Limit-Height Structure Representing $3,175,000 Will be Reared at World's Busiest Intersection

Construction work will begin September 1 on a limit-height mercantile, office and theater building at the southeast corner of Wilshire Boulevard and Western avenue, the theater to be operated by Warner Brothers, it was announced yesterday by the Henry De Roulet Company, realty brokers who negotiated the deal.

The project involves a total expenditure of $3,175,000, the building, which will extend 300 feet on Wilshire, from Western to Oxford with 220 feet frontage on each of these streets, costing $1,275,000; the theater equipment estimated to cost $300,000, and the land valued at $1,600,000.

At the Western avenue-Wilshire Boulevard corner the office structure will rise limit-height on an area 86 by 51 feet and will be diagonal with the corner, the stores extending along Western avenue, Wilshire and Oxford to be two stories in height.

SET-BACK STYLE

Morgan, Wells & Clements, architects, designed the office and mercantile portion of the building, and G. Albert Landsburgh, San Francisco architect, is in charge of the theater design with Morgan, Walls & Clements as consultants. The William Simpson Construction Company will erect the commercial portion of the project, the theater contractor not yet having been decided upon.

The Serrano Corporation, of which Mrs. Marie Julie Pellissier is president, is the owner and builder.

Modern set-back style of architecture will be used in the design and the structure will be of steel and concrete type construction. A feature will be a steam-heating plant to provide heat for all the shops and offices as well as the theater.

GREAT FOYER

Entrance to the theater will be through a forty-foot wide lobby extending back seventy feet to a wide foyer. This foyer, according to Mr. De Roulet, will be beautifully decorated. The theater itself will be one of the most beautiful in the Southland and will seat 2500 persons. The auditorium, stage and passageways will occupy a space 114x168 feet.

The limit-height portion of the building above the second floor will be devoted to offices, ten on each floor of 15x20-foot average size. Plans provide for two storerooms on Oxford and six on Western of twenty-six-foot frontage, and nine storerooms on Wilshire of twenty-four-foot frontage. Merchants may also include a second story if de-

FARM BOARD GRAPE PLAN TO BE TOPIC

Dr. Macklin Will Speak at Mass Meeting Monday as Signing Up Goes On

The Federal Farm Board program for the stabilization of the grape industry will be discussed by the board's California representative, Dr. Theodore Macklin, at a mass meeting called for Monday night by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

The sign up of growers in Southern California is progressing favorably, according to Dr. George P. Clements, manager of the agricultural department of the Chamber of Commerce, with an appreciable percentage of acreage in the larger producing districts under contract. The Monday meeting will be attended largely by city people owning vineyards in Southern California and San Joaquin Valley.

Reports from Fresno indicate that the sign-up campaign in the Fresno area is going forward satisfactorily, with 25 per cent of all nonresident ownership in the city of Fresno signed at one meeting.

Sun Settles Right Down to Business

Vestless days are here again, the Federal weather man declared night.

And to back up his assertion he showed that the sun settled down to a bit of serious shining yesterday, boosting the thermometer to 88 deg. just before noon—16 deg. above the May normal maximum. The coolest point in yesterday's twenty-four-hour period was 67 deg., 14 deg. higher than the normal minimum for the month.

Today will again be fair and warm, according to the Weather Bureau prediction, and the beaches—haven for thousands of persons yesterday—are expected to continue as the mecca for swimmers.

Preparations are being made along the coast to welcome a record early season crowd of children and grown-ups.

LASKER LOSES FREEDOM FIGHT

Probation Application, Filed as Last Hope, Denied

Financier Must Serve His Term at San Quentin

Differing Reports of Doctors Presented at Hearing

A. I. Lasker, convicted head of the Lasker Finance Corporation, facing a minimum sentence of fifteen years in San Quentin prison for falsification of corporation books, lost his final effort to escape the penitentiary term yesterday when Superior Judge Wilson denied application for probation.

The conviction of Lasker by a jury on January 26, 1929, of five counts of making false entries in corporation books has been carried through to the Supreme Court and the probation matter was the only remaining move for the defendant in the long drawn-out case.

Before denying the application Judge Wilson heard testimony of five doctors as to the physical condition of Lasker, as well as some arguments by attorneys as to the restitution the convicted financier has made to those asserted to have suffered losses through his manipulations.

DOCTORS DIFFER

It was brought out that Lasker is suffering from pernicious anemia, and physicians were divided as to the effect incarceration at San Quentin will have on his span of life. Three doctors who have been treating him held that he will not live many years if sent to prison. Two physicians, named by Judge Wilson to examine the applicant and make a report, contend that his condition is not such that his death is imminent.

In refusing the probation, Judge Wilson said that his only concern was with regard to the probable effect confinement would have on shortening to a great degree the remaining years of Lasker's life. He commented briefly on the testimony adduced at the trial and said that there is no question as to the guilt of the convicted man.

FREE PENDING APPEAL

Lasker had been permitted freedom from the County Jail on $50,000 bail while his appeal was pending. At that time two physicians made affidavits that the financier was suffering from secondary anemia.

With the conviction affirmed by the Supreme Court, Lasker was remanded to jail and has been there approximately two weeks, while awaiting hearing on his probation application.

During the arguments yesterday Lasker's attorneys called attention to the heavy penalty inflicted on their client. In commenting on the sentences, which are to run consecutively and which the attorneys asked be made concurrent, Judge Wilson pointed out that he did not pass sentence on Lasker, although he presided at the trial.

"The sentence was pronounced by Superior Judge Schauer during my absence on account of illness," said the court, "but it met with my approval. I see no reason now for taking a different view of the matter or for changing my mind."

Lasker is 44 years of age, resides at 135 North Orange Drive and has a wife and two children.

FOREIGN TRADE CONCLAVE HITS JAPANESE EXCLUSION

Convention Decries Barring Aliens at Cost of Losing Friendship; Proposed Highway Backed

The National Foreign Trade Convention went on record in closing sessions yesterday as strongly favoring a revision of the Immigration Act of 1924—an act that excludes Japanese from the United States. It declared "the only enduring basis for world trade is founded upon the principle of justice and fair play between nations," and further stated that "international good will can only be maintained through the development of friendship and mutual understanding."

Hearty approval also was given the efforts being made to strengthen friendly relations with Mexico and other Latin-American countries and, although pending restrictive measures were not discussed, unhampered intercourse was viewed as necessary to the broadening of trade horizons to the south.

HIGHWAY INDORSED

For promotion of international amity and economic progress the convention "indorsed and commended" the proposed international highway connecting Mexico and the Latin Americas with the United States and Canada, and foresaw strong links of friendship in the great roadway.

The provision of the Immigration Act of 1924 which bars Japanese was declared "unnecessary," its modification justified and approval was given to any "concerted effort made by the Pacific Coast States, and particularly California, to modify this unfair clause."

It is the third clause of the act which is particularly odious to the Japanese, and which under actual facts adduced at the convention round-tables, becomes an unnecessary affront to the Japanese and a threat to expansion of Pacific Coast trade to the Near West.

QUOTA WOULD BE LOW

The act restricts aliens ineligible to become naturalized citizens, except under existing treaty stipulations. Control previous to the act was imposed on a "gentlemen's agreement" between the nations and Japan limited the entry of its subjects to the United States itself.

"There is no chance of the bars being let down for a flood of oriental labor," Arthur S. Bent, a local engineer and a supporter for modification of the act, said. Wallace M. Alexander of San Francisco, who brought the critical situation to the attention of the convention, estimates that only 146 Japanese could be admitted under quota to America each year.

"Even if the quota were extended to the Chinese and Koreans, but a few hundred would enter the ports of America annually.

"The Pacific Coast feels that the friendship of Japan in particular, is worth much. It is valuable not only in a commercial way, but it is a matter of justice that this proud race be not discriminated against. If the quota were extended Japan, I am sure that only a small number would come to America; the officials would not permit them to come.

"This convention has seen fit to indorse this movement. We would like to see a concerted effort made by the Pacific Coast States, and California particularly, to modify this unfair clause. The exclusion clause was unnecessary and could have been handled just as effectively in a more diplomatic manner."

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

In line with the general attitude expressed by delegates, the convention adopted the following expression as regards the exclusion clause:

"This National Foreign Trade Convention recognizes the fundamental fact that the only enduring basis for world trade is founded upon the principle of justice and fair play between nations and that international good will can only be maintained through the development of friendship and mutual understanding.

"This convention favors strongly a revision of the Immigration Act of 1924 in accordance with these views.

This convention has learned with approval of the efforts now under way to strengthen the friendly relations with the people of Latin America. Essential to this desirable end is the educational work of the convention in the wider dissemination of knowledge of the peoples and countries of Central and South America."

Greater Prosperity Seen as Ultimate Result

Convention Ends Sessions With Thanks to City

Further Ideas Advanced in Commerce Symposium

From Los Angeles goes forth a new impetus to American foreign trade. With this expansion of world commerce will come a new era of universal prosperity, international friendship and peace.

STEPHEN I. MILLER

These happy results are connoted in the official declaration of sentiment indorsed in lieu of resolutions by the National Foreign Trade Convention in concluding its three days of conferences here yesterday. These convention expressions are published in their entirety in another column of today's Times.

Addresses presented on the final day of the convention added importantly to the symposium of ideas advanced to further international harmony and the application of principles that make for a more prosperous international commerce.

The convention was adjourned with expressions of appreciation for the hospitality of Los Angeles, the welcomes extended in behalf of the State, city and Chamber of Commerce, and the preparatory work done under the direction of Henry M. Robinson, chairman of the local general committee, and J. A. H. Kerr, chairman of the local management's executive committee.

AMERICA'S CHANCE

Stephen I. Miller, executive manager, National Association of Credit Men, New York, evoked the enthusiastic response of the convention with a forceful address on "American Investments and Foreign Trade." Mr. Miller spoke at the general session yesterday afternoon at which Wallace M. Alexander, president, Alexander & Baldwin, Ltd., San Francisco, presided.

Tracing through the course of 180 years the outstanding industrial and business developments which marked new economic eras in this country, Mr. Miller described the enormous opportunity for industrial and trade prosperity and influence indicated for this nation by the application of sound principles of international credit and other business factors.

In 1750, he said, occurred the first American industrial revolution which until 1825, materially changed the aspect of the nation's industry and business through inventions and significant events. Great Britain, he pointed out, took advantage of these opportunities and enjoyed a political and economic stability that made that country the mistress of industry for 100 years.

There then occurred a second industrial revolution, he said, involving four major events in the field of economics, namely:

The application of machinery to business, mergers and combinations for the stabilization of business, a great revolution of distribution, and problems found in the field of credit.

Credit now is not the elastic thing it was in 1914, he said. Our credit

TRADE OPTIMISM EXPRESSED

Convention Indorses Efforts for World Peace and Approves Merchant Marine Progress

An optimistic outlook on American foreign trade, indorsement of all efforts that make for international peace and prosperity, satisfaction with the progress in the enlargement of the American merchant marine, and approval of the inter-America highway plan are among the outstanding features of the following declaration sanctioned by the National Foreign Trade Convention which yesterday concluded its work here:

"The present decreased volume of foreign trade of the United States is not peculiar to this country. It is concurrent with the experience of other important nations. This fact reveals, as nothing else in recent years, the economic unity of the world.

"With the development of modern facilities of transportation and communication, the world has become one great market, every part of which is quickly sensitive to conditions in other parts.

"The sixteenth National Foreign Trade Convention at Baltimore last year called attention to the important fact that the international balancing of trade and the legitimate expansion of our merchant marine ought not to be prejudiced by any procedure on our part, which would tend to invite retaliatory action by other nations.

"During last year events in the security market resulting in the large increase of interest rates, operated adversely to the continuance of foreign investment of American capital and reduced the volume of dollar exchange available for payment for American exports; restricted the inflow of merchandise imports and contributed to the slackening of international commerce throughout the world, thus furnishing a demonstration of the effect of foreign loans and investments upon American commerce.

REMEDIAL FACTOR

"Renewal of foreign investments of American capital in its former volume would tend to restore our normal foreign trade by increasing the supply of dollar exchange available in the world markets. We note with satisfaction indications that this renewal may be expected in the near future.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

THE profundity of our statesmen in the Senate is expressed in about equal degree by the passage of the Mexican quota bill and by their inability to master the terrific intellectual problems involved in using a dial telephone.

A MILITARY DANGER

An unfriendly Mexico to the south of us will create a terrible military peril for the United States.

The natural point of invasion is for a foreign foe to land at Mexican ports, plant crops in the lush, tropical soil and drive northward into the heart of this country.

A friendly Mexico would be a valiant Belgium, fighting to obstruct this passage. An unfriendly Mexico means a gate flung wide open.

DOLLAR BOOKS

The day of dollar books has arrived in the publishing house of Doubleday, Doran & Co., and other publishers will have no choice but to follow this pathway.

Everything is hooked up for a national period of book reading and book buying. Magazines are dying on their feet. This is due in some degree to the radio, perhaps; due in greater degree to the fact that the modern Sunday newspaper is better than any magazine published. Book reading, on the other hand, is increasing.

The prices, however, have been so high that book readers are more likely to be book borrowers than book buyers.

THUMBS DOWN

In the movies the public has turned thumbs down on reviews (even when spelled revue;) on murder mystery stories; on operettas and love stories.

The present vogue seems to be for stories about soldiers who knew that the war was the bunk, anyhow; for stories about rebellious brides who tried the double standard; for beautiful, noble young crooks put in prison by mean policemen just for committing a couple of murders; and for shoot-'em-from-the-hip border bandits.

IF RIP CAME BACK

A feature of the Valencia Orange Show at Anaheim is an allegory of Rip Van Winkle dropping in upon Los Angeles after a twenty-year snooze and registering surprise.

If this really happened how many of us would gulp and shuffle when Rip asked us to explain the wonderments?

How many of us could explain to him the mechanical principles of the radio; the television; talking pictures; the airplane; the dial phone; the mechanical ice box, where you turn on the heat to make it cold.

All most of us know about the world in which we live is which buttons to punch.

Milk Inspector Proposal Fails

A report of the Efficiency and Personnel Committee, recommending that five additional milk inspectors be employed to examine milk imported into Los Angeles, failed of adoption yesterday in the City Council when the members divided 7 to 7. The report was returned to the committee.

The committee also recommends that City Health Officer Parrish negotiate with the producers, who are located in the Merced region, whereby they will pay the cost of such inspection.

NEW WAGY SUIT FILED

Irregular Use of Julian Funds Charged as Twenty-four Face Trustees' Action for $217,962.15

Seeking recovery of $217,962.15 asserted fraudulently to have been taken from the treasury of A. C. Wagy & Co., Inc., in a conspiracy between S. C. Lewis and Jacob Berman and "a few favored friends" in Julian Petroleum Corporation stock transactions, trustees of the bankrupt Wagy company yesterday in United States District Court filed nineteen suits naming twenty-four individuals.

The suits charge that Lewis, as principal owner of Wagy, Inc., irregularly used funds of the brokerage house to cover for the defendants' losses they incurred in a downward break in the Julian stock on the local market in October, 1926.

Those named in the actions and the amounts asserted to have been received over and above the market quotations on their securities are:

Sol Zemansky, a loan broker, $66,875; I. L. Rouse, former banker; Mary P. Maddock, Rouse's former secretary, whom he since married; Helen A. Davis, a relative to Rouse, and Richard Tuffli, a friend, $58,857.57.

Charles H. Crawford, politician, $41,250; P. H. Greer, automobile dealer, and W. B. Allen, merchant and Harbor Commissioner, $8625, and Marco Albori, alias Albert Marco, convicted underworld boss now serving in San Quentin, $7500.

Lucien C. Wheeler, operator of a private detective agency and former chief investigator for Dist.-Atty. Fitts, $2750; Ben Blue, former executive in the Wagy firm, $7281.25; Thomas L. Smith, $5687.50.

Morris Lavine, former newspaper reporter, awaiting second trial in a $75,000 extortion plot against Crawford, and his mother, Mrs. Celia Lavine, $5310.08; D. Spurlin, former president of the Julian Stockholder's Committee, $4375.

R. M. Reese, president of the brokerage house, $2287.50; Bertha Kotteman, wife of William C. Kotteman, an accountant, $3000; Wray Bertholf, former employee of the Wagy firm, $762.50; J. R. Yousling, $1010; Alexander W. Levitin, $725; Margaret Alsworth, $547.50; B. F. Horsfall, $375; L. A. Dahl, $362.50, and Samuel Dubin, $280.75.

The suits were filed by Attorneys Tobin, Weller and Sampsell, and A. E. Davies, chief accountant, in behalf of the Wagy firm trustees, Joseph Scott, H. L. Carnahan and William H. Moore, Jr.

EX-POLICEMAN RETURNS WITH $5,000,000 FORTUNE

Like the hero's return in one of Horatio Alger's books was the arrival from Honolulu yesterday of Theodore A. Winston. Mr. Winston, a local policeman for ten years, came back to town yesterday on the Lassco liner City of Los Angeles after having inherited the $5,000,000 fortune of his father, E. C. Winston, pioneer sugar and packing magnate of Hawaii.

THEODORE A. WINSTON.

Mr. Winston has been commissioned by Honolulu to reorganize that city's police force on the same plan as that of Los Angeles, and that is his chief mission here. However, he says, his first move will be to return the favors of his friends in the police department, the newspapers and the courts.

"Everybody was kind to me here when I was a plain copper, without a dime, and above everything else I want to show my appreciation to all my old friends," he declared. "Mrs. Winston and I are going to hold open house at the Biltmore, and, with Ward Fowler's assistance, we want to show everybody a good time."

He explained that he has convinced Honolulu's city fathers that Los Angeles has the best police plan in the world. He, therefore will take back with him the complete plan of organization of the local department, around which will be built Honolulu's new force.

Mr. Winston's father went to Honolulu in 1868 and until his death last November built up one of the island's greatest private fortunes, his son inheriting sugar plantations and factories, tuna fleets and canneries and Honolulu property valued at more than $5,000,000.

Official Says Acts Outside County's Jurisdiction

Monfalcon Reported Seized By Armed Force

Federal Authorities Given Data by Fitts's Aide

Investigation by the office of the District Attorney into reports that five men boarded the gambling ship Monfalcon, lying off the coast, and took charge of the vessel against the wishes of the owners, was closed yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Clark.

Clark explained that no additional information had been supplied by the complaining parties and that his inquiry had revealed the fact that the boat is lying in Orange county waters and is without the jurisdiction of Los Angeles county authorities.

"If any crime has been committed," said Clark, "it took place without the jurisdiction of this office and we would not be empowered to act. I am inclined to believe that the entire matter is a dispute between the owners of the gambling vessel and is an entirely private matter. I have been unable to uncover any indication that any violence was used inside the Los Angeles county limits. I am not concerned with what might have taken place after the so-called raiding party boarded the floating gambling palace."

All information collected by Clark will be turned over to Federal authorities for such disposition as they may deem proper, he said.

Interest of the District Attorney's office in the matter came with a request from Attorney George Blair, acting for one of the owners of the Monfalcon, that the vessel had been raided by five men, who had taken charge after displaying revolvers.

TOKIO PLANE TEST TO BE MADE TODAY

Bromley's Ship to Carry 6070-Pound Gas and Oil Load in Trial Flight

Whether the giant Lockheed Sirius monoplane which Lieut. Harold Bromley hopes to fly nonstop from Tacoma, Wash., to Tokio will be able to get off the ground with 900 gallons of gasoline and thirty-six gallons of oil will be determined at dawn today at Muroc Dry Lake in the Mojave Desert. H. W. Catlin, Lockheed test pilot, is to pilot the huge ship.

The combined load of gasoline and oil will weigh approximately 6070 pounds. The plane is nearly a duplicate of that owned by Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh.

If this morning's test is successful Bromley may leave later in the day for a nonstop hop to Tacoma, according to Carl Squier, Lockheed general manager. Otherwise he expects to depart tomorrow and await favorable weather for the start of his proposed 4777-mile ocean flight.

Another Lockheed, one that Col. Robert Fierro, director of Mexican aviation, expects to fly nonstop from New York to Mexico City and then across the Atlantic from South America to Africa and on to Europe, will be given its full load test at 4 p.m. today from Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport.

WILSHIRE GETS NEW STRUCTURE

sired with private elevator service to the basement automobile storage rooms. There will be room in the basement for 100 automobiles, with entrance by ramps from Oxford avenue.

OPEN NEXT SPRING

Mr. De Roulet reports that approximately six months will be required to complete the structure and that the formal opening of the theater is scheduled for the late spring of 1931. Leases on stores and offices already signed total $2,000,000, according to De Roulet.

Backers of the project declare the structure will be the largest building on Wilshire Boulevard, having a total floor area of approximately six acres.

Warner officials declare that the theater will bring approximately 70,000 additional persons to the Western avenue-Wilshire Boulevard intersection weekly and this corner at the present time is reported to be the most heavily traveled intersection in the world.

Eighth Street Protests Fail Before Council

The City Council yesterday denied all protests against the improvement of Eighth street between Figueroa street and Windsor Boulevard. The street will be improved with a fifty-six-foot roadway and twelve-foot sidewalks, and ornamental lights will be included west of Vermont avenue.

The cost of the improvement, added to the expense of the widening, recently completed, will be in excess of $4,000,000, of which the city will pay $552,000.

Values Listed in Actress' Suit

Expert witnesses for the defense testified yesterday regarding the property values of the apartment houses involved in the trade which resulted in Mae Murray, motion-picture actress, suing J. M. Ferguson and L. R. Eccles, real-estate operators, for $80,000.

The case will be resumed in Superior Judge Sproul's court Monday.

WIFE KEPT GUARDED IN COURTROOM

Threats Reported Made by A. D. Peck as His Mate Seeks and Gets Divorce

Recent threats reported to have been made by her husband that he would do her bodily harm if she got a divorce from him caused court attaches to be extra vigilant yesterday while Mrs. Helen D. Peck was before Superior Judge Archbald getting a legal separation from Albert D. Peck.

Represented by Attorney Charles G. Putnam, the wife said that since her marriage at Decatur, Ill., ten years ago, Peck frequently quarreled with her. The climax came, she said, November 15, 1929, when he threatened to kill her with a knife in their home at Sawtelle. She testified she was forced to call the police at that time for protection.

The wife's testimony was corroborated by her mother, Mrs. Martha A. Johnson.

Mrs. Peck was given a decree of divorce, the custody of three minor children and $50 a month for their support.

SPECIAL TRAINS TAKE RADIO DEALERS EAST

With radio-receiving sets in the baggage coaches and loud speakers in every car, 225 radio dealers of Southern California and Arizona left here at 5 p.m. yesterday in two special trains of the Union Pacific system bound for the convention of Majestic dealers at Chicago. Railroad officials said this is one of the largest trade delegations to leave this city. The delegates expect to be gone two weeks. In the delegation were a band in Spanish costumes, chanters from Hollywood, and a drill team, all comprised of dealers. Microphones in the baggage cars were connected with the loud speakers to permit broadcasting announcements during the trip.

CHAMBER HOST TO IDAHO PARTY

Visiting Delegation Honored at Luncheon

Gov. Baldridge Heads List of Speakers

Travelers Depart Today for Salt Lake City

The $150,000,000 worth of agricultural products which Idaho produces annually can and will be doubled within the next five years if that State can find markets for its produce, Gov. Baldridge of Idaho, told his audience yesterday at the luncheon given at the Chamber of Commerce in honor of the members of the good-will party of business men from his State.

"We look to Southern California as an increasing market for our products, just as the Southland has its eyes on Idaho as a growing market for the ever-increasing output of its factories," said Gov. Baldridge. "John C. Austin, president of your Chamber of Commerce, tells us that last year Los Angeles alone spent $17,000,000 for Idaho's products and it looks as if the figure for 1930 will reach $20,000,000."

LIST OF SPEAKERS

Ludwig Schiff, chairman of the domestic trade committee of the Chamber of Commerce, presided and introduced the speakers, among whom were Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan, T. L. Martin, director of the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce; George Tucker, director of the dairying department of the Idaho Department of Agriculture; W. E. Graham, chairman of the Wholesale and Retail Merchants' Group of Idaho, and Richard Wells, who spoke on "Recreation in Idaho."

"Remember Idaho, when you take your vacation," said Mr. Wells. "You may want to return to California but you will bring back memories o' one of the most beautiful sections of the United States."

"Los Angeles and California are synonyms the world over," said Mr. Graham. "Your city is a name to conjure by. Yet, after all, the prosperity of Los Angeles is bound up with the progress of the great empire of the West."

PURPOSE OF VISIT

"We have come to California to find out what this State has to offer us and to discover if California has any needs that Idaho can supply," said Mr. Martin. "The first object of our tour, however, is to more strongly cement the friendship between California and Idaho."

Following the luncheon, members of the Idaho party were taken to visit the various motion-picture studios, country clubs and golf courses. Last night Gov. Baldridge and his party were given a reception by the Idaho Association of Southern California at Veterans' Hall. The party will leave Los Angeles at 10:30 a.m. today for Salt Lake City.

Constable Gets Hearing Delay in Bribery Charge

The preliminary hearing of Constable Harry Amend, suspended Inglewood officer, accused of bribery in connection with the release of a prisoner and allowing a prisoner to escape, was conducted yesterday in Municipal Court, Department 13, before Judge Eagan, who continued the hearing until June 13 in Division 3. He is at liberty on bail of $1000.

Amend is said to have accepted $150 from Albert Johnson, brother of Clyde Johnson, 19-year-old boy arrested in Inglewood by Deputy Constable Schneider following an accident on December 29, and released the following morning by Amend. Johnson was said to be intoxicated, but the only charge placed against him was "investigation."

The District Attorney's office is also investigating the asserted payment to Amend of $600 in cash and the transfer of $400 in securities by Mrs. Fern Strauss to effect the release of her husband, Norman Strauss, of 702 South Larch street, Inglewood.

Three Women Victimized by Purse Thieves

Purse snatchers terrorized women yesterday in various parts of the city, three being victimized within fifteen minutes. Two men in an automobile robbed Mrs. A. Dudley of 4525 Rosewood avenue as she was walking at Serrano and Oakwood avenues. One man jumped from the car, snatched her purse containing $10, and drove off. Mrs. R. S. Goodholm of 857 North Edgemont avenue, was robbed in front of her home, the thief snatching a purse containing a few dollars. Mrs. A. Bidleman of 1322 Middlebrook avenue suffered a similar fate at Pack street and Redondo Boulevard, losing her purse, containing $2 and a gold watch.

Descriptions of the snatchers vary. The two men who robbed Mrs. Dudley are described as young Americans of sheikish appearance.

Blimp to Greet Fox Managers

Radio telephone messages broadcast from the cabin of the Goodyear dirigible Volunteer will greet 300 sales and exchange managers as they near Los Angeles Monday morning en route to the international convention of Fox Film Corporation, according to plans announced yesterday.

The blimp will contact the special Santa Fe train at Pasadena and radio telephone messages from various production units on location will be relayed to the travelers by amplifiers. A fleet of airplanes will accompany the blimp.

Harley L. Clarke, newly elected president of Fox Films; James R. Grainger, vice-president and general sales manager, and other high executives will be on the train.

said in an explanatory statement of the action, "during the summer and fall of 1926, prior to October 6, the defendants in the various actions bought Julian preferred stock from A. C. Wagy & Co., Inc., on margins or on accounts secured by pledges of equal amounts of Julian stock. The price of the stock gradually increased from day to day to October 6, when it was high at $22 5-8 per share.

"Other brokers took advantage of the market to dispose of their holdings, and for several days preceding October 6 dumped their stock in increasing amounts on the market. Sales on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange October 1 were 12,164 shares; October 2, 25,618 shares; October 4, 46,204 shares; October 5, 35,564 shares, and October 6, 70,021 shares.

"At the same time A. C. Wagy & Co., Inc., to sustain the market was buying direct from other brokers large amounts of stock; October 4, 40,100 shares; October 5, 40,754 shares; October 6, 29,746 shares. At the peak of prices, October 6, these sales on and off the exchange represented a volume of more than $6,300,000.

INTEREST AND COST ASKED

"October 7 A. C. Wagy & Co., Inc., and S. C. Lewis refused to maintain the market and the stock opened at $16 3-4 and dropped to $13 1-4 during the day.

"Following the break in the market entries were made in the A. C. Wagy & Co., Inc., books of pretended and fictitious sales as of October 6 of the stocks bought on margin or collateral security by various customers that the company, Lewis or Bennett wished specially to favor. The pretended sales were entered on the books at prices from $22 to $22 5-8 per share, and ranged from $7 to $9 per share above the market price on the days that the pretended sales were made."

In addition to the recovery of the asserted irregularly paid out funds, the trustees' suit asks also 7 per cent interest on each of the individual sums that aggregate $217,962.15, and court costs.

At court, where he is defending himself on a bribery charge, Lewis denied the assertions of the suit and declared the action without foundation.

"I was the principal owner of the Wagy firm," he said, "and even if such transactions were made—which they were not—it was my own money paid out, and, moreover, if I could recover any money for the Wagy creditors I would do it for the trustees; but there is none to be had."

Attorneys Tobin and Davies made it clear that the suit is not allied with the Sunset Pacific Oil Company, reorganized from the Julian corporation, but is concerned only with the recovery of the funds for the creditors of the Wagy firm, heaviest dealers in Julian stock.

COURT CALLS HALT IN USURY CASE

Outstanding issues in the Julian usury cases went undecided yesterday when Superior Judge Aggeler adjourned court at noon until next Monday morning. The adjournment was taken both to allow the court to read numerous law citations pointed out to him by the various attorneys, and to give the attorneys time to seek more authorities on the many legal questions involved.

Judge Aggeler made no ruling on the offer made by the prosecution Thursday afternoon to place in evidence a portion of asserted photographic copies of the Julian stock pool agreements, a move that was vigorously opposed by the score of defense counsel.

The copies of the pool agreements are the backbone of the State's case and unless they can be placed in evidence acquittal of all sixteen of the defendants is expected. Yesterday was the ninth day of the trial and practically all of the time has been consumed by the State in an effort to have the photographs identified as true copies of the originals.

In an attempt to weaken further the prosecution's case the defense attorneys made a determined effort yesterday morning to have the testimony given previously by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Shelley stricken from the record. Shelley testified that Henry S. MacKay, Jr., one of the defendants, had brought the original copies of the pool agreements to the grand jury rooms in 1927 and that he (Shelley) had examined them carefully and that they were similar to the photographic copies.

Judge Aggeler took the motion to strike Shelley's testimony under advisement.

Attorney Le Compte Davis also made a motion to strike from the record testimony given by Attorney John Cooper regarding certain dealings he had with Motley Flint, banker, at the time the pools were being formed in 1926, but this motion was denied. A similar motion in behalf of H. A. Bell, another defendant, was also denied.

DO THESE PUPPIES LOOK ABUSED?

Separation From Mama Brings Inquiry

Mary Lorraine and the Pekingese Family

WHETHER taking two 2-weeks-old puppies away from their mother is cruelty to animals was a question which humane officers asked City Prosecutor Nix to answer yesterday when they sought a complaint for that offense. The puppies were taken to the prosecutor's office as evidence, as was their mother, Red May, pedigreed Pekingese, belonging to Mrs. Steve Clemente of 1448 Silver Lake avenue.

The prosecutor was told that four puppies were born to Red May a month ago and that by previous arrangement Noemi Benedetti of 2966 Belden Drive, was to have two of them. The puppies were born at Mrs. Benedetti's home, and when the litter was 2 weeks old, Mrs. Clemente took the mother and puppies to her home, leaving the other two motherless.

Instead of issuing the complaint, Nix ordered the mother and two puppies returned to the Benedetti home until June 11, when the humane officers agreed the puppies will be old enough to get along without their mother's care.

MRS. WEIL ADVISED TO TAKE REST

Court Halts Maintenance Suit Trial Against Art Collector Until October

After hearing part of the testimony of Mrs. Annie Weil in support of her separate maintenance suit against Adolph Weil, art collector, Superior Judge Tappaan late yesterday halted the trial and told the plaintiff to go somewhere and rest. He continued the case until October 1, next.

"I want Mrs. Weil to rest until October 1," said Judge Tappaan. "I do not want her to remain at home. She should go some place else."

Pending the next hearing of the case Weil was ordered to pay his wife $200 a month for the support of herself and their minor children.

During the part of the testimony given by Mrs. Weil she accused her wealthy husband of acts of cruelty. One of her complaints was that her husband compelled her, several years ago, to work as a seamstress. In 1918, she said, when she became ill, he forced her to go to the county hospital for treatment, although he had an income of $12,000 a year at the time.

Mrs. Weil asserts that her husband has property valued at more than $265,000, at an annual income of $15,000.

Attorney Leslie H. Kranz represented Mrs. Weil at the hearing while Attorney William Rains is counsel for the husband.

GOV. TAPIA MAKES BID FOR TRADE

Creation of New Office in Baja California Forms Topic of Discussion Here

Increasing trade between California and adjoining Mexico has led to the creation of the new governmental department in Lower California, Northern District, which was announced Thursday on behalf f Gov. Tapia of that district. Formation of this new department was discussed yesterday in a conference of a representative of Gov. Tapia with the foreign trade department of the State Chamber of Commerce.

"The new department has been created to care for a pressing need regionally," said Gov. Tapia's statement. "Our trade has been steadily increasing, our industries are being formed gradually. Our principal business is with the United States, especially with the State of California, and it is deserving of special attention. The district's trade with the United States last year exceeded $18,000,000, and it is expected that this year will show even greater figures.

"There were more than 5,000,000 automobiles registered as crossing the line at Tia Juana during 1929. The government feels the necessity of devoting special efforts to this trade and this traffic, seeking in the meantime the introduction of new industries and new trade centers in Baja California."

The new Department of Commerce and Industry in the northern district of Baja California is headed by Santiago Reachi, who attended the Foreign Trade Convention here as personal representative of Gov. Tapia. It was announced that the new department will clear all its efforts through four divisions, commerce, industrial, tourist bureau and publicity.

Farrell Gives Parting Advice to Convention

The final word to the business interests of Los Angeles and the Pacific Coast from James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation and chairman of the National Foreign Trade Council, on the results to be obtained from the seventeenth convention of the National Foreign Trade Council here, was given in a formal statement by him just before adjournment yesterday.

His statement follows:

"This convention, the seventeenth since 1914, was not held in Los Angeles because Los Angeles is the great convention city that it is. It is being held here because this movement is truly national in scope and seeks to aid, in turn, the various sections of the country which are important to the foreign trade of the entire nation, and whose efforts in the furtherance of their own overseas commerce will be aided by the concentration of the experience and knowledge of delegates from all other sections and from foreign countries.

"The program of this convention has covered practically every problem of foreign trade and in addition it has given impetus to the spirit of the sea. The proceedings of the convention will be a text book valuable to both old traders and new. Those of us who are about to leave for our homes will carry away much information of value and an inspiration for further effort.

"The results of the convention to Los Angeles and the Pacific Coast will depend on the character of efforts which you put forth to capitalize your opportunity."

GUEST WINS IN CONTEST ON ELECTION

Ballot Recount in Court Gives Him 29-vote Margin Over Opponent Williams

W. H. Guest, whose election on April 14, last, as Councilman for Huntington Park was contested, gained six votes, giving him a majority of twenty-nine over his opponent, Howard E. Williams, in the recount of ballots which was finished yesterday before Superior Judge Yankwich. Judge Yankwich confirmed Guest's election and attached the costs to Williams who announced he is satisfied with the poll in court and will not appeal.

Guest was one of three aldermen elected at the last April election following a bitter political fight.

Williams contested the election on the grounds that defective and imperfect ballots had been cast and that persons having no legal right were permitted to vote; also that votes were cast for Guest which should have gone to him.

TRADE OUTLOOK OPTIMISM TOLD

"The adoption of the Young plan for the settlement of the reparations question in Europe and the establishment of the Bank for International Settlements are events of profound importance which should contribute materially to the re-establishment of a reasonable rate of progress in world trade.

"Efforts made by leaders of industry in co-operation with the administration to restore public confidence and to stabilize industrial conditions should prove beneficial.

"The habit common to all trading nations of extolling exports while deprecating imports is the result of failure to comprehend the basic facts of international trade. While the modern machinery of exchange greatly facilitates transactions between widely separated peoples, its intricacy tends to obscure its real purpose, which is the old familiar and easily understood process of barter.

PRICE-FIXING HIT

"It has been clearly demonstrated that artificial fixation of prices in defiance of the laws of supply and demand without effective control of production has proven futile and disastrous.

"In our foreign trade the gains in recent years have been most marked in precisely those lines which are directly responsive to merchandising skill and enterprise, notably in finished manufactures. The merchandising skill and enterprise of our traders have not been impaired by recent events. The services of transportation and communication and our banking facilities have attained their highest point of efficiency.

"All these circumstances furnish sound reason for encouragement with regard to the future, and call for the exercise of courage, confidence and continued activity.

FRIENDSHIP WANTED

"This National Foreign Trade Convention recognizes the fundamental facts that the only enduring basis for world trade is founded upon the principle of justice and fair play between nations and that international good will can only be maintained through the development of friendship and mutual understanding. This convention favors strongly a revision of the Immigration Act of 1924 in accordance with these views.

"This convention records its satisfaction at the progress made during the last year under the Jones-White Act in the development of the American Merchant Marine. Several proposals pending in Congress are designed to improve the law. Provision should be made to extend to cargo ships adequate aid to equalize higher American construction and operating costs. It is essential that the American merchant fleet should be fully developed and that provision shall be made which will insure the maintenance of shipyards capable of building and meeting new needs in design and construction.

SHIP VIEWS REPEATED

"We deplore any competition by vessels of governmental ownership with privately owned established American steamship lines operating efficiently in overseas and intercoastal services. We renew the declaration reiterated at our previous conventions that such governmental competition with private business is a serious handicap to American shipping and to the shipbuilding industry.

"We commend the work of the Postoffice Department in extending the foreign air-mail service, which should be further extended and given adequate frequency, and Congress should be asked to provide the funds necessary for this purpose.

"Our trade with Cuba, greater than that with any other Latin American country, is peculiarly susceptible of development by the parcel post and the establishment with Cuba of this convenient facility, already in effect with practically every other country in the world, is most desirable.

TRAINING STRESSED

"The importance of training for foreign trade requires the closest possible co-operation between business and educational institutions in the placement of young men who select foreign trade as a career and make it the subject of their major studies.

"The proposed international highway connecting all countries to the south with the highway systems of Canada and the United States is indorsed and commended.

"This convention has learned with approval of the efforts now under way to strengthen the friendly relations with the people of Latin America. Essential to this desirable end is the educational work of the convention in the wider dissemination of knowledge of the peoples and countries of Central and South America.

"Improvements in transportation and communication are bringing us into closer contact with the world. We extend to the peoples of all nations our cordial desire for the same peace, stability and prosperity that we seek for ourselves."

FOREIGN TRADE CONCLAVE ENDS

Addresses Stress Ways to Further Harmony

Credit Expert Gives Talk on American Investments

"Some Aids' to Business in Europe" Presented

situation he likened to a great reservoir into which is pumped a larger flow of credit but with no enlargement of the outlet conduits for the flow of production. To equalize and stabilize such a condition, he urged the proper and adequate application of credit to affairs bearing on foreign markets.

"Foreign trade no longer follows the flag," he said, "but follows the power of foreign investment." This country, said the speaker, is in a position to dominate the world if it adequately realizes its great opportunity. Much depends on the recognition of its power and its analysis. Much also rests on the type of mind developed in this land in connection with this opportunity.

Mr. Miller stressed the fact that imports are just as valuable as exports in the welfare of the nation.

OTHER SPEAKERS

Edward A. Sumner, vice-president, American Chamber of Commerce in France, with headquarters in Paris, told of "Some Aids to American Business in Europe," and described methods for promoting good-will and business overseas. He quoted statistics showing the disruption of business by international conflict and said "these figures prove conclusively the utter economic folly of war and disprove positively the idea that business men ever promote wars."

Dr. Neil Van Aken, executive secretary, Netherlands Chamber of Commerce in New York, Inc., in his talk on "International Commerce, a Two-Way Traffic" emphasized the importance of imports as well as exports.

J. M. Eaton, general traffic manager, Pan American Airways, Inc., New York, spoke on "Aviation's Part in Trade Development" and described with the aid of a map the progress of airway communication between this country and its neighbors to the south.

GROUP MEETINGS

Two large group meetings which considered respectively some export problems and trans-Pacific trade, occupied the morning hours. A. T. De Forest, vice-president, United States Steel Products Company, San Francisco, presided at the former and the speakers were:

William L. Cooper, director, Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Washington; Henry F. Grady, dean, school of commerce, University of California at Berkeley, and foreign trade adviser, San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, and Dr. Clyde William Phelps, head of the department of economics, University of Chattanooga, Chattanooga.

The trans-Pacific trade group was presided over by A. F. Haines, vice-president, American Mail Line, Seattle and the speakers were:

R. J. Cromie, publisher, Vancouver Sun Vancouver; Henry K. Chang, Chinese consul-general, San Francisco; Elam J. Anderson, principal, Shanghai American School, Shanghai; James C. H. Ferguson, vice-president, Holland-American Chamber of Commerce, San Francisco.

AT TRADE FRONT

In discussing "Foreign Representation of American Business," Cooper said:

"Every exporter must decide for himself the method he will adopt in each of the markets he desires to enter. If he is going to do busines sin fifty foreign ountries, he has fifty different problems, each of which must be given separate study."

Territory as well as technique concerns the efficacy of foreign representatives, according to Mr. Cooper.

"Many an exporter has been placed at a disadvantage in foreign markets through the ambition, or sometimes the greed, of agents in attempting to obtain representation for greater areas than they can cover."

"Educational Training for Foreign Trade," was the subject of Mr. Grady's address. He expressed optimism regarding opportunities in commerce and described foreign trade training afforded at Berkeley. He said that commercially prepared men "leaving our colleges are prepared to serve any reasonable kind of apprenticeship if the opportunity is there. They will work in factories or they will handle freight on the docks or anything else which holds forth any promise of a career. A few years ago, college graduates expected a good deal. Today they have, with very few exceptions, a good will and an attitude toward their careers which could hardly be improved upon."

BANKING AID

Analyzing the subject of "American Banks Abroad and Our Foreign Trade," Dr. Phelps said:

"How may American banks better promote our foreign trade? No one can deny the very real contribution to the promotion of our foreign trade which has come about during the past two decades, and especially during the past ten years, by the great increase in the number of foreign departments maintained by the banks in our medium-sized and large cities. The installation of foreign departments and the training of employees in the technique of financing foreign trade has been a service of first importance especially to the exporters of our smaller cities."

He commented on the favorable result from the action of banks in establishing many representatives' offices in foreign countries in the last decade.

"But, it is my personal opinion that American banks can best promote foreign trade by the establishment and maintenance of branch banks in the foreign field," he said. "I believe there are at least seven services to our foreign trade that can be better performed by the branches of an American bank than by a foreign correspondent bank or by other types of foreign offices."

TRANS-PACIFIC BUSINESS

In concluding his address on "Far Eastern Trade for America," Mr. Cromie said:

"I have been talking of an area that holds one-half of the world's population. The economic salvation of that area will not be worked out by the victories of one Chinese general over another, nor by the slow natural ferment of modern economic ideas in the Asiatic mind. It is a missionary job for every business man between Los Angeles and Cape Cod; between Vancouver and Halifax.

"To lift 1,000,000,000 people from poverty to comfort, as North America can do in the manner I have pointed out, is a gigantic undertaking, beside which the greatest movements in the world's history, not even excepting the European Renaissance, are shrunk to insignificance and futility. It is the most important duty that civilization has had to perform in the past 5000 years.

"You and I can do it."

"China's Trade With the United States," was discussed by Mr. Chang and he presented an optimistic outline of that nation's progress in various lines of important endeavor.

"In the teeth of frequent disturbances during the last twenty years, China's trade with the United States has grown apace," he said.

In describing "Foreign Training for American Representatives Abroad," Mr. Anderson said:

"Leaders in foreign commerce are recognizing a new change in the foreign peoples of the world. These foreign peoples everywhere are getting a new sense of self-respect and of national pride and their needs must be studied rather than stormed."

Mr. Ferguson, talking on "Trading With the Netherland's East Indies," gave a comprehensive outline of them, presenting facts as to their geography, population, products and trade progress.

To stop hiccoughs a lump of sugar, dipped in vinegar, and allowed to dissolve in the mouth will prove effectual. Inserting a spoon handle far down in the mouth and pressing upon the tongue heavily also stops persistent hiccoughs.

EXCLUSION OF JAPANESE HIT

of stronger relations with the Latin Americas and modification of the Exclusion Act clause than a resolution from the Portland (Or.) Chamber of Commerce favoring the modification move gained favor.

ACT UNNECESSARY

The Portland declaration presents the opinion that "the said Exclusion Act was unnecessary, for the reason that its chief objects could as effectively have been obtained in a far more courteous and friendly manner of putting the Japanese under the 2 per cent quota provisions of the law."

E. W. Frazar, president of Frazar & Co., at Tokio, urged the passage of the resolution recommending changes in the restrictions affecting the Japanese as a profound gesture of amity and in behalf of greater commercial relations. Frazar made the trip especially to Los Angeles and the convention to present the opinion that the exclusion measure is a bar to trade and a constant affront to the racial pride of a proud nation.

JAPANESE SAYS BAN RESENTMENT SURVIVES

TOKIO, May 23. (AP)—The resentment Japan feels toward the United States for passing the immigration law of 1924 excluding Japanese, Masano Hanihara, former Ambassador to America, said today, "will never die out so long as the wound inflicted remains unhealed." The statement was made unexpectedly before the America-Japan Society at a farewell dinner to United States Ambassador Willliam R. Castle, Jr. Prince Tokugawa presided and the guests included four members of the Japanese Cabinet.

Referring to the immigration act which caused him to write a letter to the American government concerning the "grave consequences" which might ensue, Hanihara said: "Naturally the Japanese government and people deeply resented this, and the resentment is felt now as it was then. Nor will it ever die out so long as the wound inflicted remains unhealed. Friendship once marred in this manner can with difficulty resume its wholesome growth unless some effective remedy is administered."

Hanihara, whose letter caused his retirement from the Japanese diplomatic service, said the exclusion incident was the only disturbing element in the long course of Japanese and American friendly relations. Sketching recent developments of friendship of the two nations, Hanihara paid a high tribute to Ambassador Castle, whose mission to Japan is closing with the conclusion of negotiations at London for a naval treaty between Japan, the United States and Great Britain.

Castle, who spoke after Hanihara, said that relations of Japan and America would be increasingly cordial as a result of the London treaty. He said the friendship of the two countries was based upon trust and real understanding.

Castle's only reference to the speech of Hanihara was to reiterate the latter's expression of confidence that "the American people in the long run will do the fair, square thing."

JOHNSON WILL PROPOSE JAPANESE QUOTA

WASHINGTON, May 23. (AP)—Chairman Johnson of the House Immigration Committee announced today that he expects to propose an amendment to the Immigration Act to give Japan its proportionate quota of immigrants.

The Washington member announced his intention in a statement after reading an Associated Press dispatch from Tokio reporting an address of Masahoa Hanihara, Japanese Ambassador to the United States in 1924, in which he broke a six-year silence on the immigration law excluding Japanese.

HORSE SHOW SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

Breakfast Club Event Will Open New Amphitehater on Riverside Drive

The new double amphitheater to be formally opened to the public at 2 o'clock this afternoon with the first spring horse show of the Breakfast Club at 3213 Riverside Drive, has seating accommodations for approximately 2000.

C. R. Bell, committee chairman, announced yesterday that following a club luncheon today to distinguished guests, the out-of-town judges, seated in a coach drawn by six white steeds and escorted by two bands, will be led into the show arena by Marco H. Hellman, chairman of the day, and his staff.

During the afternoon fun will begin with the first burro relay race. Teams of two riders each will represent the Uplifters, Saddle and Sirloin, Flintridge Riding, Sportologue Hunt, Breakfast and other clubs.

Adequate arrangements for motor parking have been provided by the club management.

Opera Will Be Made Available at Low Prices

Citing the fact that persons of moderate means often are among the most enthusiastic patrons of high-class music, David T. Babcock, president of the Los Angeles Grand Opera Association, yesterday said that special pains have been taken to make attendance at next fall's grand opera performances in the Shrine Auditorium possible to almost everybody.

Season tickets to parts of the balcony may be had for as low as $10 each, he said. These will admit to all eleven of the performances.

Among the artists of note who will be heard in the various operas, from September 29 to October 13, are Hope Hampton, Maria Jeritza, Queena Mario, Dorothee Manski, Clare Clairbert, Gaetano Viviani, John Charles Thomas, Beniamini Gigli, Sidney Rayner, Frederick Jagel and Ezio Pinza.

"WIDE OPEN" SPACES

Nevada may be crying for water from the Colorado, but visitors to the divorce State who have a thirst do not complain of any aridness.

INCONGRUITIES OF LIFE

George Eastman is honored with a gold medal for "outstanding service" by the chemists of America. But just ask the opponents of the new calendar plan what they think of him.

INTERNATIONAL STYLE NOTE

Aside from the daring of her exploit, the most surprising result of Amy Johnson's flight from London to Australia is the fact that she could borrow shirts and shorts at every landing.

TEETH PRINTS

Footprints and fingerprints at times may be in demand of the movie stars. But it remained for a Detroit girl to send her favorite chocolate bar to a Hollywood sheik and ask him to sink his teeth into it for remembrance. Ho hum!

NOT IN CALIFORNIA

Every school child is a prisoner five hours a day, five days a week, says the Ohio Health News. In California, however, this does not apply. Our kiddies study in rooms that are all light and air and much of their work is virtually in the open.

PIGEON RACES

Pigeon races are the vogue each Sunday afternoon in Southern California. Next Sunday one will extend from the center of the State to the south. During the war 442 birds were released by the American forces overseas and delivered 403 messages. They were 97 per cent efficient and did not lose a single important dispatch. So our pigeon races are not entirely futile.

POLITICAL PULL

Caught taking more than the legal limit of fish from a stream near Santa Cruz, Cal., a game warden arrested a youth who said, indignantly, "My father is a Senator." Said the warden, "My brother is President of the United States." Dean Theodore Jesse Hoover is a deputy game warden as well as a professor at Stanford.

BIG EARS

The Council has installed individual loud speakers for each member, so he can hear what his mates are saying. He wants to be in on everything the others are framing.

To an ordinary spectator, it would seem that a loud speaker in every home connected with the Councilman would be useful. It might have a subtle and compelling influence upon every ballot. Then possibly a loud speaker in the Council with a mike in every home would be valuable for perfect representation. The Councilmanic body does not always seem to know what the folks back home want. A general interchange of views between the City Hall and the home might bring about worth-while results.

AIRPLANES AND FOREST FIRES

While the chief fire dispatcher of the Angeles National Forest was congratulating a commercial airplane for the valuable aid it afforded in promptly reporting a forest fire, and foresaw in commercial aviation a valuable asset in saving priceless watersheds, State Forester Pratt at San Francisco at the same time was reporting the commercial airplane as an extra fire hazard because of the lighted cigars and cigarette ends carelessly tossed from them by passengers in flight. At first sight there seems here to be a strange contradiction and some will ask whether the extension of air travel is going to increase or diminish the menace of forest fires. That again depends on circumstances outside the airplane itself. The increased use of firearms may be either a help or a peril as the weapons are placed in the hands of law-enforcing officers or left at the disposal of gangsters and racketeers.

AIRSHIP-BASE FIGHT

The controversy in Congress over the location of the Navy airship base is now drawing to a close, so far as the evidence for and against the Camp Kearny and Sunnyvale sites is concerned. The Naval Affairs Committee has already heard and cross-examined all the principal witnesses from the Navy Department. There remains some technical data about weather conditions, which is known strongly to favor Camp Kearny. And the superiority of the Camp Kearny site may be taken as overwhelmingly established.

The unanimous report of the Navy General Board in favor of the Camp Kearny site on strategic grounds has been the hurdle which the Sunnyvale site could not surmount—the fact of Camp Kearny's nearness to the Panama Canal, Achilles heel of American security, and to the fleet base off Los Angeles.

A few lessons in strategy were given the committee by Admiral Reeves, ranking member of the special investigating board of the Navy. Sunnyvale adherents, pointing out that their site is inside San Francisco Bay, tried to make him admit that it could be more easily defended than Camp Kearny. On the contrary, the admiral said, after rejecting the word "defense" as a principle of naval warfare, the nearness of Camp Kearny to the naval airplane station at North Island makes it secure against successful attack. No enemy ship, the admiral pointed out, could successfully bombard Camp Kearny because it could not possibly send "spotters" over it. "No enemy spotting plane," he said, "could possibly remain in the air five minutes over San Diego and Camp Kearny."

Assertions that the war fleet would be based on San Francisco in war time, and that Bremerton Navy Yard needs protection as much as the Canal Zone, were rejected unanimously by the Navy witnesses.

As to weather conditions, the data gathered by Dr. Ford A. Carpenter, expert meteorologist who investigated both sites impartially, were made public some time ago. Dr. Carpenter is still to be called before the committee, but it is unlikely that his testimony will differ materially from his report. That report showed that the climatic differences between the sites were all in favor of Camp Kearny, which has less average temperature change, less average wind velocity, less fog and less rain. While the differences are not great, they are enough to influence materially the efficiency, the economy and the general usefulness of the site. Camp Kearny also has better drainage.

But since the airship base will be useful, if at all, for the protective value of its location, it is plain that the strategic consideration ought to be ruling, even if Sunnyvale were better in other respects. In this connection, Admiral Reeves summed up the consensus for the Navy when he said: "The military value of an operating base at Camp Kearny is infinitely greater than one at Sunnyvale."

"Infinitely greater" is a strong expression and the Sunnyvale adherents will have a hard time showing that it is not justified.

The Navy General Board, which is charged with responsibility for national security, is obviously the body that should have the controlling voice in the site location.

VALENCIA ORANGE SHOW

Rip Van Winkle, had his awakening been in the Santa Ana Mountains instead of the Catskills, and had his first steps taken him to the big tent of the Anaheim Orange Show, would have experienced more surprises and thrills than he did in the story of his creator, Washington Irving. Everyone who witnessed the opening of this striking panorama, arranged as a tribute to the worth of the Valencia orange, though many were conversant with Anaheim's previous shows along these lines, expressed amazement at the novel effect produced by the Southern California citrus growers. How it would have dazzled and bewildered old Rip, could he have ambled in, must have been behind the imagination of those who dedicated the exhibits to his memory.

Whether it be the February navel orange carnival at San Bernardino or the feast of the Valencia at Anaheim, year after year these shows expand in use and artistry and become ever more popular features in the scheme of Southern California attractions. This is only possible because the citrus industry makes annually similar advances in the extent of its commercial operations and the improvement in the growing, packing and marketing of its fruits.

Ever since the Valencia established its standing ten years ago, as second if not equal to the Washington navel with the orange-consuming public, Anaheim has annually held its exposition of this summer contribution to the American breakfast table, which has thus made California oranges available for everyone all the year 'round. From December to May the navel, from May to December the Valencia; a complete balance both for producers and consumers of citrus fruits.

In the infant days of the California citrus culture many experiments were made to fix the brand of orange most suitable to this soil and climate. Mediterranean sweets, St. Michaels, Maltese blood oranges, Tangerines, Sevilles, Australians were all tried out along with the Washington navel and the Valencia. For commercial exploitation the last two have taken the field and the other brands have almost disappeared from California citrus groves. The triumph of the Valencia is exemplified in the Anaheim exposition which for ten days is the center of travel for residents and visitors of our southern counties.

AN INCONCLUSIVE POLL

The "straw vote" taken by the Literary Digest on prohibition has now concluded, with what can only be interpreted as inconclusive results. Of 20,000,000 persons solicited to vote in the poll, about one-fourth responded. Considering that most organizations favoring prohibition followed their usual custom of urging their members not to vote, while the wets campaigned on the other hand for a full expression of wet sentiment, the result is not surprising. It showed 1,943,052, or 40 per cent, for repeal of the prohibition amendment, 1,464,098, or 30 per cent, for its retention and strict enforcement, and 1,399,314, or 29 per cent, for modification of the Volstead law—disregarding fractional percentages.

That the poll is inconclusive as to the genuine sentiment is further shown by the result of the Pennsylvania primary. In the Digest poll, Pennsylvania voters favored repeal with a vote of 243,063, while enforcement mustered 147,557 and modification 136,233. In the much larger primary vote Davis and Grundy, both dry candidates for United States Senator, polled 1,206,000 votes while the wet candidate received only 238,000 votes. For Governor, the race was won by Pinchot, an extra-dry, with Brown, dry, second—their combined total being 1,249,000; the wet vote polled by Phillips was 264,000. The wet vote in the Digest poll and that in the primary was so nearly the same as to lead to the conclusion that the wet sentiment in Pennsylvania was fully represented in both, while the dry sentiment was manifested only at the real polls. And the drys had nearly 1,000,000 majority!

The straw poll gave California 107,868 for repeal, 95,832 for modification and 86,302 for enforcement. No such result has ever been reflected in any California election, and it is an election alone which can furnish a real test. Here, as elsewhere, it must be plain that most of the drys to whom ballots were sent did not return them.

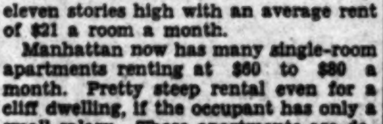
The "middle-of-the-road" votes in nearly every State were sufficient to swing the result either way, according to which column they are added into.

EXODUS OF CLIFF DWELLERS

Manhattan, the proudest section of New York City, has been losing in population at the rate of 65,000 a year for several years, according to Borough President Julius Miller, who has been studying the new census figures. He predicts that unless the hegira ceases the losses will be more than 100,000 within a year. Occupants of apartments have been moving away in large numbers because of high rents. This means a check in trade progress and Mr. Miller is trying to do something to prevent the migration.

Twenty-five of the city's leading builders have been enlisted to carry out a plan of Mr. Miller to provide modern housing at reasonable rentals. Each builder is pledged to construct an apartment building 100x100 feet and ten to eleven stories high with an average rent of $21 a room a month.

Manhattan now has many single-room apartments renting at $60 to $80 a month. Pretty steep rental even for a cliff dwelling, if the occupant has only a small salary. These apartments are described in the advertisements as "homes." But many couples live in them. While they are moving out, those dissatisfied tenants had better come to Southern California, where there is room to stretch one's elbows and expand one's lungs and where a home is a home, not a cell in a honeycomb or a little niche in a skyscraper.



POOR OLD HEN

By James J. Montague

Poultry farmers are now installing burglar alarms in their hen coops

When eggs were cheap and plenty
The hen would often roam,
In search of feed to serve her need,
Far, far away from home.
And if, through dogs or foxes
She came to mortal harm,
Not any word of grief was heard
About the dear old farm.

But when the creature's product
Became of sterling worth,
She could not stray abroad by day
Like rovers of the earth.
No more she sought far pastures
Her daily fare to find,
'Mid alien dust; her wanderlust
Was cabined and confined.

Today she dwells in prisons
Of stoutly woven wire;
The eggs she bears are precious wares
And every day wax higher.
And in the solemn midnight
Great brazen gongs will peal,
With clanging sound for miles around
If thieves break through to steal.

And ere another decade
Shall swiftly wax and wane,
Who seeks again to find the hen
Shall seek for her in vain.
For eggs will rate as rubies
And she will lay alone,
Behind a tall and massive wall,
In vaults of steel and stone.

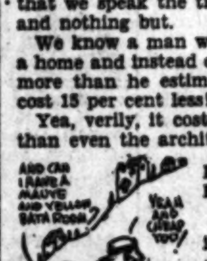
The LEE SIDE o' L.A.
BY Lee Shippey

WE KNOW no one who has built a house in times past will believe this unless we preface it or preamble it to show that we are in solemn and saintly earnest. Therefore, let us become a preamble-ator.

We take solemn oath, with our left hand on a stack of receipted bills, that we speak the truth, the whole and nothing but.

We know a man who has just built a home and instead of its costing him more than he estimated it would, it cost 15 per cent less!

Yea, verily, it cost 15 per cent less than even the architects' estimate!



AND CAN I HAVE A MAUVE AND YELLOW BATH ROOM
YEAH AND CHEAP TOO!

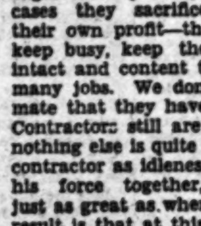
Build and Help Yourself

This certainly is the time of times to take your money out of the cracked teapot and put it into a home, for both the material and the labor markets are down to rock bottom and contractors are so eager to keep busy that in many cases they sacrifice all thought of their own profit—they are eager to keep busy, keep their organizations intact and content to break even on many jobs. We don't mean to intimate that they have sprouted wings. Contractors still are contractors. But nothing else is quite so expensive to a contractor as idleness. He must keep his force together, his overhead is just as great as when he is busy. The result is that at this time even some newspaper workers can afford to build.

In other words, this is the time to buy—homes or nearly anything else. For now you cannot only buy low but can bolster the market so that pretty soon you can sell higher.

Hints for Busted Families

We are not one of those able to build or buy, even in this helpful time, a house big enough for our tribe. But we, too, have profited by the temporary depression and have been able to present our family with a home. We have done this by buying a dear old house which had to be moved to make room for a bigger school, and moving it. There were three houses for sale, pretty good houses, too, and nobody bid on them at all, when bids were asked. "After you move them, they are still old houses," people said. "After they're moved the walls will be cracked and the joints sprung. Not for me." So the school board, rather than pay for having the houses wrecked, finally sold all three of them for less than $500, and we got one of them. For the benefit of others as blessed with children or as unrich as we are, who might feel inclined to do the same thing, we must say that our experience was most satisfactory. Though the house was an unwieldy, old-fashioned thing, very hard to handle, the house movers carried it several blocks and set it on its foundations on the other lot without cracking off a single crumb of plaster. We left all our china and similar belongings in the house, hoping they would be broken up and we could claim damages, but no such luck. A vase of flowers left on a table was not overturned.

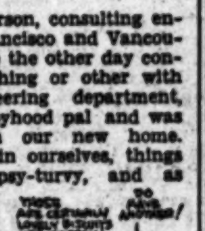


Not only that, but it pays to advertise. Everyone in Ourville saw that house being moved, everyone knows all about it. So over came one neighbor and said: "When you're ready, we're going to get up a garden shower for you—everyone will bring a rooted slip." What a delectable new idea!

Our sincere conclusion is that if you can't build 'em just the way you want 'em, or buy just the ones you want, it pays handsomely to buy an old one and move it.

Johnny Knew

Clark T. Henderson, consulting engineer of San Francisco and Vancouver, who was here the other day conferring on something or other with our city engineering department, used to be our boyhood pal and was the first guest in our new home. Having just got in ourselves, things were rather topsy-turvy, and as Clark's visit was unexpected and the phone hadn't been connected yet, the meal was hardly up to the overeat-or-insult-the-hostess mark so dear to the hearts of housewives. It consisted of salad and biscuit. But there were plenty of biscuit.



THOSE ARE CERTAINLY LOVELY BISCUITS MRS. SHIPPEY

"Won't you have another biscuit, Mr. Henderson," urged our faithful helpspend, somewhere near the middle of the meal.

"Why, thanks, I believe I will," said Clark, "though I don't know how many I've had now."

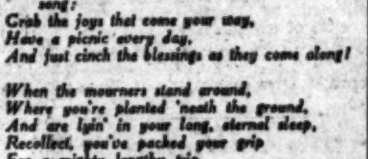
John, our 6-year-old, is just learning to count, and is fond of practicing. "I know," he said, helpfully. "That makes fourteen."

Grab the Blessings

Taken literally, the following earnest lines from Brother E. A. Brininstool urge us not to think till after we're dead, and then to come back and live more wisely. Excellent advice, if you can take it. But maybe he doesn't mean just that:

When you up and turn your toes
On this weary vale of woes,
And you hit the long, dim trail that lies ahead;
When you're planted good and hard,
Just remember this, old pard—
You're a-goin' to be a mighty long time dead!
So, while you're alive and well,
All that grouchiness dispel,
Hit the high spots with a cheery smile and song;
Grab the joys that come your way,
Have a picnic every day,
And just cinch the blessings as they come along!

When the mourners stand around,
Where you're planted 'neath the ground,
And are lyin' in your long, eternal sleep,
Recollect, you've packed your grip
For a mighty lengthy trip,
And on earth again you'll never, never cheep!



So, it's better that you strive
While you're kickin' and alive,
To bust in for all enjoyments good and strong;
Take the pleasures as they fly—
You'll be speechless by and by,
So corral the blessings as you go along.

THE SCHOOL OF PHILOSOPHY

BY DIRECTOR RALPH TYLER FLEWELLING

As the outcome of its revolution in scientific thinking, its metamorphosis of creeds, its revaluation of values, its machine civilization and the new mingling of national cultures through the breakdown of geographic and racial isolation, our swiftly moving age is an era of widespread intellectual and spiritual confusion. This confusion, which is not confined to the classroom and the younger generation, is accompanied by an illusion—that natural science and religion are intrinsically incompatible.

As its logical consequence there has become prevalent a dissipating naturalism and an enervating skepticism unwarranted by sound thought. In the college this tendency is resulting in an overapplication by students to the so-called "practical" and applied fields of study, and a general tendency to engrossment in the trivial supported by a warped and superficial theory of life.

Friends and members of the department of philosophy in the University of Southern California long have recognized that this institution offers an exceptional opportunity for world service to a school of philosophy, adequately equipped in building, library and lecture staff and devoted to a broadly theistic theory of reality and an idealistic and constructive doctrine of life. This objective is entirely in agreement with the ideals of this university. The renowned climate and environment of Southern California are such as to make attractive this location to notable scholars desirable in this educational and scholastic enterprise. The geographic location of this university is also strategic with respect to the Orient, whose students are flocking to this section of the country (this university is fourth in the nation in numbers of oriental students enrolled.) A unique opportunity is thus ours of making a contribution to eastern history and civilization by giving to its visiting students the best in occidental thought.

Some few years ago plans were put under way for the establishing of a school of philosophy which should have the following objectives: (1.) To inspire in the undergraduates a respect for synoptic and basic thinking, a new interest in the cultural, as opposed to the applied, studies in the curriculum and a deeper love of the high values and profounder verities of life. Also to provide the undergraduate with a constructive and idealistic world view and to assist him in resolving the false conflict between science and religion. (2.) To provide graduate students with the power of independent thinking and the materials for original research in the basic problems of truth and existence and to train scholars, leaders and teachers with a constructive and idealistic world view. (3.) To contribute to the dissolving of the general intellectual confusion in fundamental thinking everywhere and to emphasize a broadly Christian and theistic philosophy of life. (4.) To establish a center of serious research which should give genuine contribution to world scholarship. (5.) To influence the Orient by offering to her visiting students the best of western thought and to make contacts with the East by exchange lectureships. (6.) Finally, to contribute to the achievements of the metropolitan community of Los Angeles in its aspiration to become a world center of culture.

The consummation of dreams and plans concerning the school of philosophy were momentarily checked by the untimely death of their chief friend and supporter, the late and lamented Col. Seeley Wintersmith Mudd, who had for the past few years given liberally in money and constructive advice, as well as personal encouragement, in the upbuilding of an adequately stocked philosophical library and an efficiently staffed department. In keeping with his general wishes, however, and as a permanent memorial to his memory, a munificent sum was given in 1928 for the construction and equipping of a building to house the philosophy department and its expansive program. This splendid gift was made by the surviving members of his family.

Regarding the time as now ripe for the forward step in the departmental plans, the school of philosophy of the University of Southern California was established by vote of the board of trustees on May 16, 1929, with Ralph Tyler Flewelling as director.

The Seeley Wintersmith Mudd Memorial Hall of Philosophy was completed and occupied in December, 1929. Its purpose is not to function as a mere classroom structure, but as a thing of beauty which shall symbolise the importance of philosophical thought in the pursuit of culture and in the world order, and shall furnish that classic atmosphere conducive at once to an inspired love of truth and to profound and productive scholarship. The building not only partakes of the beauty and stateliness of the Old World centers of philosophy, but it is equipped with every detail that may be serviceable to the student of philosophy. It contains abundant classroom and office space for the department, a library with a capacity of 200,000 books, seminar and individual study rooms for advanced workers, reading-rooms for undergraduates and graduate students and several spacious lecture halls. Surmounting the cloistered court which constitutes the lower floors of the building is a tower containing clocks, memorial chimes and individual study rooms.

The program of the school, which calls for the assembling of a faculty at once in sympathy with its general program and second to none in scholarly attainment, has already been realized, in part. Two noteworthy philosophers from abroad have accepted regular appointments on its staff: Dr. H. Wildon Carr, former professor of philosophy in the University of London, and, for the second semester of each year, Dr. F. C. S. Schiller, senior fellow of Corpus Christi College, Oxford University.

In recognition of the intellectual importance both to students, faculty and university, of contact with great thinkers from other parts of the globe, the school of philosophy has established as a part of its policy the inviting each year of at least one outstanding philosopher as guest professor. This recently established policy has brought to the university the following men:

In 1926-27, Dr. F. C. S. Schiller of Oxford University; 1927-28, Dr. John Muirhead, formerly professor of philosophy in the University of Birmingham and editor of the International Library of Philosophy; Dr. John E. Boodin, formerly professor of philosophy at Carleton College, now professor in the University of California at Los Angeles; 1928-29, Dr. Joseph A. Leighton, head of the department of philosophy of Ohio State University; 1929-30, Dr. Edmund H. Hollands, head of the department of philosophy in the University of Kansas; 1930-31, Dr. R. F. A. Hoernle, professor of philosophy in the University of Witwatersrand, South Africa.

The Library of Philosophy was founded as a memorial to the late James Harmon Hoose, formerly head of the department of philosophy and for many years an outstanding personality in the university. The initial foundation was provided through gifts of Col. Mudd and his son, Seeley Greenleaf Mudd, and other interested friends. At present the library contains approximately 10,000 volumes, with extensive files of the philosophical and psychological journals of Europe and America. A considerable number of incunabula and rare volumes are included, as well as certain important manuscripts from as early as the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries. Already the Hoose Library has come to be regarded as the most noteworthy philosophical collection in Western America.

The Personalist, a quarterly journal of philosophy, theology and literature, now completing its tenth year of existence, is published by the school. Its purpose is to disseminate personalistic and idealistic philosophy. The school also proposes the inauguration of a series of publications, to be known as the Southern California Classics. This series has as its object the translation of French, German, Italian and Latin classics unavailable in English, and also the publication of original contributions by members of the faculty. It augurs well for the series that Dr. H. Wildon Carr, translator of Bergson and Croce, has consented to act as editor of this series.

The school offers several valuable fellowships and several scholarships. The Argonauts, the philosophical society of the university, provides for student participation in selected topics of interest. The friendly contact between faculty and students is one of the prized features of the school. Unusual opportunity is offered to advanced graduate students to attend the informal philosophy seminar, composed of those university teachers in the vicinity of the metropolitan area taking an academic interest in the subject. Cubicles for the exclusive use of graduate students are also provided in the Memorial Tower.

The school of philosophy has made available to the public occasional lectures by members of the faculty and visiting scholars. It was also directly responsible for the establishing of the free lectures in philosophy given each year at the Los Angeles Public Library. It is planned to make greater contribution to the cultural life of the community by inaugurating several series of lectures, available to the public, by members of the faculty, including one annual series of the type and caliber of the Lowell lectures of Boston. It is also the desire of the school that its library and reading-room facilities shall be available to those in the civic community who would use them to advantage.

GROUND was broken yesterday morning at Occidental College for a $45,000 swimming pool. The ceremonies were witnessed by the entire student body.

With Dr. Remsen D. Bird, president of the college, officiating as master of ceremonies, the first spadeful of earth was turned by Miss Mary Barbara Taylor, a graduate student who gave the first $15,000 for the pool, and others who followed to make the ceremony complete were Leonard Janofsky, president of the student body; Miss Caroline Hodgdon, director of physical education for women; Dudley Dorman, chairman of the campaign for raising $15,000 among the student body; Arthur Buell, president of the freshman class, which under the leadership of Bob Ryan raised more money than any other class; E. H. Krenholz, director of physical education for men; J. Hartley Taylor, father of Miss Taylor and member of the board of trustees, and Mrs. Taylor. The third unit of $15,000 came from the E. S. Field estate.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies, the spade used for the turning had a twelfth notch carved in its handle, indicating that this was the twelfth time it has been used for ground-breaking preceding the erection of buildings on the Occidental campus.

Wright expects to be able to issue the preliminary figures on the budget before he leaves, June 5, on a vacation tour of Alaska.

The hearing had been set for last Tuesday to give opponents of the plan an opportunity to present their views, following a hearing a week ago Tuesday at which the proponents pointed out the necessities and advantages of the plan. In making the innovation of transporting a prisoner by the most modern method of transportation Captain of Detectives Edwards of the Georgia-street division said the cost is no more than that of railway fare with Pullman berth.

He is said by Miller to have represented himself as a motion-picture star and maintained an elaborate apartment in Venice. OIL DISPUTE'S END IN SIGHT

Getty's Signing for Curtailment Expected to Bring Back Former Prices at Santa Fe Springs

Early restoration of former crude oil prices at the well in the Santa Fe Springs oil field is expected, now that George F. Getty, Inc., has signed the State-wide curtailment program that officially became effective the 1st inst., and will remain in effect until November 1, next.

The signature of Paul Getty, vice-president and general manager of George F. Getty, Inc., was attached to the new contract early yesterday and its effect on the oil industry throughout the flush producing fields already has become noticeable.

Mr. Getty could not be reached late yesterday, but the fact that he has signed the agreement was verified by other company officials. The new agreement now is in circulation for the remaining signatures of Santa Fe Springs operators, and officials handling the curtailment program express themselves as being confident that the other "oldouts" are in accord with the new program.

Immediately on his return from Europe, where he had been on a business and pleasure trip for the past six months, Mr. Getty was appealed to by the oil industry as a whole to help bring the State's output down to 596,000 barrels a day. At the time he asserted he would sign if other independent producers would follow suit. A meeting of the State-wide general committee was called to discuss the situation and in the end it adjourned without Getty's signature. This was followed by a cut in the price of crude oil by the Standard Oil Company.

Crude oil prices dropped 50 per cent. Santa Fe Springs oil has been selling for as low as 50 cents a barrel for more than a week. It was expected yesterday that Standard might take early action to restore former prices in that field.

To observe the new curtailment program, George F. Getty, Inc., has killed twenty producing wells. The company now has twenty-two producers at Santa Fe Springs and is putting out approximately 6000 barrels of oil a day, against a potential estimated to be about 11,795 barrels per day.

Getty's decision to join the majority of the operators in a general drive to reduce overproduction in this State, is expected to have an immediate stabilizing effect on other flush oil-producing fields. For many months some of the smaller producers have refused to cut their production because some of their neighbors had not signed to do so.

The effect of Getty's signature to the new contract is expected to have its effect at Signal Hill where Umpire Neil H. Anderson has experienced some difficulty in signing up a few operators.

CITATION VACATED IN INJUNCTION CASE

After indication of a willingness to co-operate and obey the mandates of the gas wastage injunction now in force in the Santa Fe Springs field, by cutting down its natural-gas production from 66,000,000 to 30,000,000 cubic feet a day, the citation order directed against George F. Getty, Inc., oil operator, yesterday was vacated on a motion of Attorney James S. Bennett, representing the State in the proceedings.

An order citing the company to appear next Wednesday and show cause why it and J. Paul Getty, vice-president and general manager, should not be held in contempt of court for asserted violations of the temporary restraining order, was signed by Superior Judge Hazlett on Thursday. Attorney Bennett obtained the restraining order under the State's new Gas and Oil Conservation Act.

The State's attorney informed the court that the Getty concern had cut down its gas production more than one-half and showed in every way its willingness to co-operate with State and court officials in carrying out the injunction order.

TEAM GAMES GET CREDIT FOR HIGH SOCIAL VALUE

Such team games with spectator interest as football, basketball and soccer rate highest in social contribution to the student as contrasted with their recreational value, according to a survey of "The Social and Leisure Time Value of Thirty College Sports and Games," by Prof. William Ralph La Porte, head of the physical education department at the University of Southern California and president of the National Society of Directors of Physical Education in Colleges.

Nearly 500 physical education experts throughout the country assisted the professor in evaluating the merits of each sport on the basis of its physical, social, psychological, safety, skill, recreational and corrective development to the individual.

Sports analyzed by the physical education directors are listed under the major headings of aquatics, combative or defensive sports, gymnastic sports, individual sports and rhythmic and team games.

"Social contribution rates exceptionally high in team games as highly organized play involves so much of social contact and consequently contributes to social adjustment," said Prof. La Porte. "It is evident to men of experience, as coaches or teachers of athletic activities, that the type of results attained is dependent almost entirely upon the nature of leadership, culminating in hero worship among the younger generation."

The couple married at Meudon, France, on August 26, 1919, and came to Los Angeles three years ago. She was represented by Attorney Karl L. Ratzer.

Mrs. Schallitz declared that her family aided in the support of herself and her husband before they left France. He persuaded her to come to America, she said, on the promise he would support her here. He failed, she declared, and an argument started which ended in his leaving her.

The testimony of Mrs. Schallitz, who resides at 3845 Reno street, was corroborated by Mollie A. Brown.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

VALENCIA SHOW THRONGS GROW

Second-Day Attendance Best in Exhibition's History

Holiday Spirit Prevails at Orange Classic Event

This is Children's and Also Sunkist Day There

BY BURTON L. SMITH
"Times" Staff Correspondent

ANAHEIM, May 23.—Never in the history of the California Valencia Orange Show which opened its tenth annual session here last night, has such a great crowd been present at the second day of the exhibition.

Since early this morning a stream of automobiles has been steadily pouring through the decorated streets of this thriving little city, bearing a cargo of living freight which all but taxed the capacity of the huge exhibition tent. Ideal weather conditions have been a factor which has added materially to the attendance and contributed much to the holiday spirit which prevails at the show.

After the elaborate program of music and entertainment staged in connection with the formal opening of the exhibition last night the crowds are just beginning to realize the beauty and the bigness of this year's orange classic. The blending of romance with fact and the artistic with the practical has made of this show an unqualified success in every particular.

AMAZING CHANGES SEEN

Washington Irving's immortal tale of Rip Van Winkle is used with telling effect in the decorative scheme and lends itself very nicely in helping to drive home the amazing changes which have come to Southern California and the citrus industry in recent years. In the twenty years that old Rip is supposed to have slumbered in the Catskills an empire has been born, the beauty and prosperity of which is depicted by the exhibits and booths at the orange show in a manner more striking than they have ever before been emphasized by a like undertaking.

An outstanding feature of this year's show is the great display made by the rack exhibits. Here the marketing associations which have made the products of California's orange groves a staple in all the markets of the world have entered into a friendly rivalry which has resulted in the most beautiful display ever made a part of the many artistic exhibitions for which the Southland is famous.

These companies have made a fine art of displays of this character and this year have outdone all their former efforts. With multicolored wrappers for the thousands of perfectly formed oranges on display there have been woven designs of great beauty which fit perfectly into the fairyland created by the romantic setting of the show.

The story of Rip told in this most unusual and unique manner must be seen to be appreciated.

JUDGING BEGINS

Judging commenced this morning, and by Sunday announcements will be made of the winners, who by the application of their fine imaginations have made seem so true the many chapters in the strange and familiar tale of "Rip Van Winkle."

In connection with the automotive show which forms an important part of the exposition, an all-metal glider, made by the Victor Evans Company of Los Angeles, is attracting much attention. This strange new craft has an uncanny way of remaining aloft indefinitely with no apparent power or propeller. Experimental flights are made part of the regular entertainment program every afternoon, and are proving very popular with show visitors.

As has been true for several years, arrangements are made for an orange-packing contest in which teams of experts from local packinghouses match speed and ability in a race for a series of substantial prizes.

Rivalry in this contest grows more keen year after year until it has become the year's greatest prize to be acclaimed the world's champion orange packer, which is the title bestowed on the winner of the contest each year.

Today was Ventura day, and a special effort was made by the management to provide special entertainment for the visitors from the north.

THIS IS SUNKIST DAY

Tomorrow will be Sunkist day and school children's day, one of the great events of the show.

Sunday one of the greatest crowds ever seen in this city is expected, and every uptown store is preparing to do its best to provide the influx of visitors which yearly comes from Los Angeles and surrounding cities to view the show on the first Sunday of its annual run.

There is much to see and hear out under the "big top," where a show is provided which is much beyond the successes which have crowned the efforts of former years. Every resident of Southern California owes it to himself to be part of the crowd that is making merry at the Tenth Annual Valencia Orange Show.

Peacocks and Parrots Cause of Complaint

REDLANDS, May 23.—Whether parrots and peacocks are noisy and a nuisance will be threshed out in the court of Judge C. G. Potter before a jury next Thursday. A complaint filed charging William C. Daustin of Terra Cina with maintaining a nuisance, noisy peacocks and parrots, was filed by W. L. Thomas, Chief of Police, and Daustin immediately pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial.

The chief filed the complaint because of the demands of officials of the Redlands Community Hospital and neighbors that something be done to relieve the noise of the peacocks and parrots maintained by Daustin.

Daustin told Judge Potter that his birds mean a lot to him and that he does not see how they can bother the hospital patients or any neighbors because they are some distance away. He has agreed to keep them shut up until the trial is held.

Post Vacated by Blodget Filled by W. F. Menton

SANTA ANA, May 23.—Appointment of Attorney William F. Menton of this city as a deputy District Attorney of Orange county to fill the place on Dist.-Atty. Z. B. West's staff left by the resignation of Asst. Dist.-Atty. L. W. Blodget, was announced today.

The change of personnel will be made at once, it was said. Blodget, who announced his resignation early this month, will enter private practice here, it is understood. Menton will immediately assume his post.

His new duties will not be unfamiliar to him, as he served as deputy District Attorney under Dist.-Atty. L. A. West ten years ago.

Retirement of Blodget from the office resulted in the advancement of Deputy Sam L. Collins to the position of assistant District Attorney, with Deputy S. B. Kaufman as chief deputy.

MAN FACES FOUR CHARGES

Robert Payne on Trial in San Diego Court, Accused of Robbery, Burglary, Attack and Grand Theft

SAN DIEGO, May 23.—Facing charges in four counts of robbery, burglary, attack and grand theft, Robert Payne went on trial today before Judge Percy Kane of Napa county, in extra session, Superior Court, for his part in the asserted robbery of the home of Harold and Mrs. Michell, in Chula Vista.

Two youths entered the Michell home on the night of February 6. They found the couple in bed, Michell with a broken leg, and covered them with guns. Then they looted the house in a leisurely manner. Early in the morning, before they left with valuable plunder, and a small amount of cash, they forced Mrs. Michell to cook breakfast. It is then the asserted attack upon her is declared to have occurred.

Pat Patterson, Chula Vista police officer; Deputy Sheriffs Blake Mason and Jack Tillory, made an investigation which ended in the arrest of Payne, and a maid and chauffeur in the Michell household. Payne's asserted accomplice was not apprehended. Although the maid and chauffeur were prosecuted on a liquor-violation charge they could not be linked with the robbery.

The youths accepted a check from Mrs. Michell in lieu of the family silverware at her request. It was this which led to Payne's capture.

A peculiar angle of the case is that Payne is not personally accused of the statutory offense. The District Attorney's office holds him of equal guilt under the law because he is said to have guarded Michell while the other youth, accused of the attack, was downstairs with Mrs. Michell. Michell died several weeks after the robbery and Mrs. Michell is left as the chief witness.

FALL FROM HORSE ENDS MAN'S LIFE

ALHAMBRA, May 23.—Injuries received when he fell from a horse while at a riding academy on South San Gabriel Boulevard proved fatal to Silas Burrows, 26 years of age, of 560 Oakford avenue, Los Angeles. Burrows died in the Alhambra Hospital last night of a fractured clavicle and internal injuries.

Crews Begin on Coast Highway Widening Work

NEWPORT BEACH, May 23.—Construction crews have begun work on widening the Coast Highway west of here. A ten-foot strip of concrete pavement is being added to the north side of the road, making a thirty-foot pavement between Sunset Beach and Newport Beach.

Grading crews are working along the coast from here through Huntington Beach to the Arches in Newport Beach, cutting away side hills and using the dirt for filling sloughs and grading up the right of way to a width of 100 feet. On both sides of the thirty-foot pavement there will be a good dirt road.

Plans for the State, county and this city to participate to the extent of $65,000 each in the projected overhead crossing of Newport Boulevard, over the Coast Highway at the Arches are progressing. The State is willing to share in the expense, but neither county nor the city has done so.

Traffic is extremely heavy at this point at any time of day and often at night and on Sundays, and holidays congestion is as extensive as it is at Broadway and Seventh streets, Los Angeles, at the busiest time of day. Even with traffic signals operating and officers stationed here during congested periods, cars will be lined up for 500 to 600 feet.

BURBANK PLANE PLANT WORKING AT CAPACITY

BURBANK, May 23.—The Lockheed airplane plant here is now employing 200 workers in the various branches of the factory. According to Carl B. Squier, manager, the plant is turning out an average of ten planes each month, by working night shifts. The present output, Squier says, is for the purpose of filling special orders. Most of the planes being made are the low-wing Sirius model, similar to the one owned by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

AVOCADO CROP BREAKS RECORD

Yield Increases 1000 Per Cent Over Last Year

California Growers' Annual Session at Pasadena

Harvest Estimated at Close to 7,000,000 Pounds

PASADENA, May 23. — California will harvest a record-breaking avocado crop this season and the marketing provides one of the major problems with which the growers are now concerned. The avocado crop has increased 1000 per cent over that of last year and between 6,000,000 and 7,000,000 pounds of the fruit will be harvested, it was declared by delegates to the annual convention of the California Avocado Association meeting today and tomorrow at Hotel Maryland. They say that the avocado has taken its place alongside the orange, lemon and other fruit industries of the State.

Tonight at the annual dinner of the Avocado Association, Paul W. Armstrong, assistant general manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, was the principal speaker, telling of the problem of handling the fruit shipments and creating a market for the crop.

Tomorrow's session will be given over to a program and election of officers. Dr. Le Roy S. Weatherby is to speak on "Vitamins in Avocados," while Vincent Blanchard will read a paper on "Fertilization of Soil for Avocado Growing." Dr. S. H. Beckett is to speak on "Problems in Irrigation," C. V. Newman will tell of a trip he took to Atlexco to visit the parent Fuerte tree, and G. B. Hodgkin will speak on "Crop Marketing."

At the afternoon session tomorrow, the annual report of E. B. Dutton of Anaheim, president of the association, will be read and the election of officers will be held.

Burbank Wants Cantaloupe Off Its City Seal

BURBANK, May 23.—City Clerk Webster says Burbank is in need of a new official city seal, and that he will ask that the next fiscal budget provide a sum to buy one. Webster objects to the cantaloupe which now has a prominent place on the seal. He says the melon should come off, and an airplane or something else that more clearly designates the industries of Burbank, should go on.

"Years ago," Webster said today, "you couldn't walk around Burbank without stepping into a muskmelon patch. Then along came the realty subdivider and his bungalows and eradicated all the cantaloupes, coyotes, jack rabbits, peach trees and persimmon groves.

"So far, today, as a cantaloupe designates any part of the present Burbank, it would be much as in keeping if we put a nutmeg or a gooseberry bush on the seal. On the next seal I am going to ask for an airship, because Burbank is the center of several of the busiest airports in Southern California."

Burbank Girls Say Skirts Soon to Touch Floor

BURBANK, May 23.—The graduation class of the Burbank High School this year will have nearly twice as many girls as boys. Out of 126 to be graduated on June 12, seventy-seven are girls and forty-nine are boys.

This year the boys will wear Oxford grey coats, white flannel trousers and blue ties, while the girls will don afternoon white frocks of the latest style in skirt lengths.

A group of girls on the school campus said today: "A year ago all of us said we would never abolish knee-length skirts for the longer kind. But you see how it is. Long dresses are really the mode now and that's the kind we will wear. Within the next two years, Burbank girls will be graduating with the hem of their skirts almost touching the floor."

SANTA ANA BOY IN ORATORICAL FINALS

George F. Munro, Jr.

SANTA ANA, May 23.—George F. Munro, Jr., of 1722 Bush street, this city, is announced as the Pacific district winner of the national oratorical contest of the Presbyterian general assembly on the subject, "Law Observance and Constitutional Loyalty."

The Santa Ana boy is the youngest of the contestants. He will not be 15 years of age until August 24. He was born in Omaha. His mother was a Nebraskan of German antecedents, and his father a Pennsylvanian of Scottish stock.

Contests were held in churches throughout the country and then in presbyteries. Presbyterial winners were considered by Dr. Lewis Seymour Mudge, stated clerk, and other officials at the headquarters of the general assembly in the Witherspoon Building, Philadelphia, and the team was chosen to represent the five areas of the church. In addition to the Pacific district the other winners are:

Eastern district, Miss Elizabeth McKinley, 306 Main street, Brookville, Pa.

North central district, George E. Steele, 2508 Arlington avenue, Davenport, Iowa.

Southern district, Miss Virginia Sullivan, 863 Oak street, Chattanooga, Tenn.

Rocky Mountain district, Miss Margaret McBeth, Delta, Utah.

These five will engage in a final contest for first honors at the national loyalty preassembly meeting of the general assembly at Cincinnati, next Wednesday evening and the final winner will receive an award in gold from the newly elected moderator the following Friday afternoon.

The regional winners were announced by Dr. William Hiram Foulkes of Newark, N. J., executive head of the Presbyterian National Loyalty Commission.

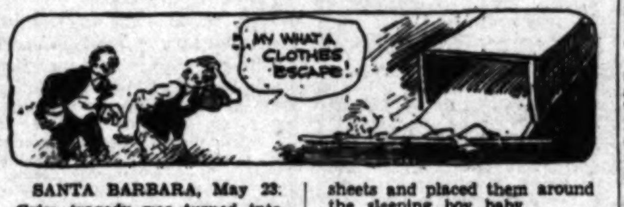
LOST CHILD GOES LAUNDRY

Sleeping Babe Left by Mother in Hotel Room Picked Up Unknowingly by Chambermaid and Dumped Down Chute With Bed Clothes; He's Nonchalant



MY WHAT A CLOTHES ESCAPE!

SANTA BARBARA, May 23. Grim tragedy was turned into comedy this morning in a local hotel, where guests and employees joined in a baby hunt that ended at the bottom of a clothes chute, four floors below the room in which the child had last been seen.

Mrs. Raymond McGill and her 8-month-old baby had spent the night in a room on the fourth floor of the hotel. This morning the baby was still asleep and Mrs. McGill thought it safe to go downstairs for breakfast without her offspring. In order to prevent the infant from rolling off the bed, the mother bundled together the sheets and placed them around the sleeping boy baby.

The maid, finding the room apparently empty, gathered the linen off the bed, taking the child with it, and dumped bedding and baby down the clothes chute. A few minutes later the mother returned and the baby was gone. She grew hysterical and the baby hunt began.

A half-hour later the maid remembered the bedding and a hurried trip was made to the basement. There, in a huge pile of linen at the bottom of the chute, four floors below, young Raymond McGill, Jr., was found, jabbering to himself and seemingly trying to read the laundry mark on a hotel counterpane.

ROTARIANS MAKE POOL AVAILABLE

Inglewood Service Club Takes Liability Policy on Plunge for Summer

INGLEWOOD, May 23.—Through the generosity of the Rotary Club the high school plunges here will be open as a part of the vacation play program being sponsored by civic organizations and the school authorities. For a time this phase of recreation seemed out of reach, due to a limitation on school boards which prohibits their taking insurance on the lives of school children, and the further fact that judgments which might be obtained against the schools for accidents to children are first liens upon the school funds.

"Thus," said George M. Green, superintendent of the Inglewood Union High School, in explaining the board's position, "a claim against the school for any accident to, say, a 10-year-old child, might result in wresting from the district the funds which must pay for the education of the high school boys and girls.

"Judgment in such a case would be a first lien upon the funds of the school, and would take precedence over all other expenditures, including teachers' salaries. So the board, being unable to purchase insurance for the children, does not feel justified in assuming a liability which might affect the high school funds."

The Rotary Club here has, therefore, leased the plunges and will in its own name take out liability insurance, thus making possible the summer swimming for Inglewood children. Ed B. Harris, president of the club, and member of the civic committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which has sponsored the summer play program from its inception, has made this phase of public service one of the outstanding activities of the club.

Student Affairs Election Held at University

REDLANDS, May 23.—There was no "single shooting" in the student affairs election at the University of Redlands held yesterday and the election committee today, in accordance with a resolution passed by the students, counted no ballot in which the required number of candidates were not voted on.

Hilton Bell, prominent athlete and fraternity man, was elected president of the student body. Martha Logan was named vice-president and Inez Case was made secretary. There were no contests for these offices.

There was a sharp contest for the office of editor of the Campus and Jimmie James won the post over Irwin Rust with Stan Wilson and Dave Ackley as managing editors. Mary Lehigh will edit La Letra, the annual. There was another warm contest for finance board member, Betty Glass and Ray Anger winning. John Marvin Dean was named treasurer.

For the Kyle efficiency prizes the students suggested Edwin Espy, this semester's student body president, debater and extemporaneous speaking champion, 244 votes; Roy C. Call, debater, former student body president, and last year's winner of the Kyle prize, 198 votes; Hilton Bell, business manager of La Letra this year and chairman of the Redlands-in-Burma project, 143 votes; John Ackley, debater and member of several scholastic committees, 122 votes, and Ray Anger, chairman of this year's university day and voted one of the most valuable football players, 111 votes.

Betty Glass, manager of the Women's Glee Club; Harry Ford, manager of the men's glee club; Harold Thayer and Bill Little, manager and assistant manager of men's forensics; Dean Bruington, band manager; Delno Gillogly, orchestra manager; Dave Ackley, trophy manager; Maurice Sorrells and Merlyn Miller, junior athletic managers; Dave Ackley, Tillman Johnson and Roger Williams, sophomore athletic managers; Glenn Crawford, business manager of La Letra, and Ernest Boyd, his assistant; Percilee Beck, editor-in-chief of La Letra; Mattie Neel Conally, women's forensic manager; Boyce Van Osdell, yell leader, and A. D. Jacobsen, faculty member of the finance board.

Bishop Company Files Claim to Beach Sandspit

SANTA BARBARA, May 23.—A suit to eject the county from the Goleta sandspit and to claim the land was filed yesterday in the United States District Court by the Thomas Bishop Company against the county, Ray Lyman, Wilbur as Secretary of the Interior, and several other parties.

County Clerk D. F. Hunt, as representative of the county, was served with summons yesterday. The complaint was turned over to Dist.-Atty. Clarence C. Ward. Harold Chase and Peter Cooper Bryce also were made defendants in the suit.

In the complaint, the Bishop company claims title to the land and asks the immediate release by the county.

Supervisor Fred G. Stevens said yesterday that he did not think the county would remain a defendant in the suit, as it does not claim ownership to the property. The Federal government claims ownership to the sandspit, according to Stevens.

INQUEST ON SON HALTED BY DEATH

Inquiry on Shooting of Ray Avery Interrupted by News of Mother's Demise

SAN DIEGO, May 23.—Mrs. Prudence Avery of 1968 Logan avenue died suddenly today while an inquest into the death of her son, Ray Avery, 37 years of age, was in progress, Coroner Kelly announced. Avery was shot to death Tuesday night by G. H. Henderson, a naval intelligence officer. While Coroner Kelly was conducting the inquiry in the case, he received word of the death of the victim's mother in her home.

The Coroner dispatched a deputy to the home and the body was taken to the Goodbody Ivy chapel, where it was placed beside her son's remains. Mrs. Avery's death is believed to have been due to natural causes and advanced years, Kelly said.

After the interruption the inquest was resumed, and the Coroner's jury rendered a verdict exonerating Henderson of criminal blame in the shooting.

Testimony showed that he accompanied a sailor named A. I. White, 25, into a lumber yard at the foot of Columbia street. Henderson, in company with A. M. Walsh, another officer, placed the pair under arrest. While in custody, Avery broke and ran. His flight was halted by a bullet from Henderson's gun. In the verdict, the jury held that Henderson was justified in shooting Avery to death.

Fast Trains to Stop at Burbank

BURBANK, May 23.—Four of the fast Southern Pacific trains which heretofore have scooted through here without stopping, on June 15, next, will make regular stops at the new local passenger station. The information is given out in an announcement made today by J. B. Davis, local agent, which stated that the requests of the Chamber of Commerce, after a number of years, have been granted by the railroad company.

The limited trains that will stop are the Owl and the Sunset, going each way. The Owl, or Train No. 25, will stop going west at 6:28 p.m., and going east at 8:16 a.m. The Sunset will stop going west at 7:07 p.m. and going east at 7:41 a.m. The new schedule means that from now on residents in San Francisco Valley will not have to go to Los Angeles to arrive or depart from Southern Pacific trains.

Freud, the world's most noted psychoanalyst, has just given out a message to the world as "The discontents of civilization."

It will be studied by millions in the hope of self-understanding. I shall analyze this message on Sunday at 11 a.m., at the Ritz Theatre, Wilshire and La Brea Ave., and show its great wisdom and its fatal weakness. Freud is certainly blind to real Religion, but knows the cry: "I want what I want, when I want it."

DIX WILL STAR IN BEACH STORY

Ramon Novarro Given Chief Role in Schnitzler Drama; Spencer Tracy Comes West for Fox Prison Film; William Farnum Wins Role in "Kismet"

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

R.-K.-O. officials are making good their promises to Richard Dix to place him in more serious drama. Their resolutions were crystallized when they viewed the rushes of "Square Dice," his current starring vehicle.

RICHARD DIX

So enthusiastic indeed were the producers over Dix's work in this picture, in which he plays a really dramatic role, that they have decided to star him in Rex Beach's story, "Big Brother."

Oddly enough, both Beach and Dix are willing to give way to each other in the matter of credit supremacy, Beach having a contract which guarantees him billing as author over all stars, while Dix's contract does the same thing for him as star. But Dix wrote Beach recently that he was willing to give way gracefully in the matter of credit, he was so anxious to play the part, and Beach gallantly wrote back that he was perfectly willing to relinquish principal honors in favor of Dix because he was so pleased that the popular actor was playing the hero.

Paul Sloane, who originally wrote the adaptation of the story, when it was formerly to be made, has been assigned to the direction of the picture.

"LAST MILE" STAR IN "UP THE RIVER"

Spencer Tracy, who has been making a big name for himself in New York as the ill-fated youth in "The Last Mile," a play written almost in its entirety by a condemned prisoner, is the latest New Yorker to go into the movies.

The actor will appear as hero of John Ford's next directorial assignment for Fox, a prison story called "Up the River," written by Maureen Watkins, the young newspaper woman who wrote the comically satirical "Chicago."

This will be, I believe, Tracy's first appearance in motion pictures, through he has had considerable stage experience. He was signed by Winfield Sheehan during Sheehan's recent stay in the East.

STRAUS WRITING "DAYBREAK" SCORE

Arthur Schnitzler's "Daybreak" is to reach the screen via Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, we learned yesterday. This is one of the author's most famous stories, and is one which, think M.-G.-M. officials, will lend itself well to talking picturization.

Oscar Straus is writing the musicalization of the drama, which is to be outfitted with a score, and Ramon Novarro will be starred in it. No director is yet assigned. Frances Marion is writing the adaptation.

Speaking of the composer, his son, Irwin Straus, who, though only 19 years of age, has composed an operetta called "Think of Me," which was presented in Berlin with success recently, is arriving today to join his father and mother, who are living in Beverly Hills.

Fred Scott Vacations

Fred Scott, whose fine tenor voice and acting ability gained for him a long-term contract with Pathe, will be absent from home for about ten days.

FRED SCOTT

The young actor left last night for San Francisco, where he is to make personal appearances with "Swing High," directed by Joseph Santley and cofeaturing Scott and Helen Twelvetrees.

Not only is Scott to make personal appearances with "Swing High," but he is also to sing a number or two from grand opera.

William Farnum in "Kismet"

It looks as though "Kismet," the Otis Skinner starring vehicle which Jack Dillon is to direct for First National, is to have an imposing array of names in the personnel of its cast.

William Farnum, no less, is to be featured in the important role of Jawan, according to word received yesterday.

Farnum has just finished an important role in "Du Barry" for United Artists, and is said to have distinguished himself in the film. Indeed, such excellent work did he do that United Artists is planning important things for him.

Comedy is not lacking in "Kismet," and on the shoulders of those two inimitable comics, Ford Sterling and Sam Hardy, rests the burden of the funny side of this oriental drama.

Pair Teamed by M.-G.-M.

A new romantic team on the screen is always of interest to the fans, and so we are pleased to be able to report that Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer is planning the coupling of the names and talents of its most charming young players in two or three pictures.

DOROTHY JORDAN

They are Dorothy Jordan and Robert Montgomery, and Chuck Reisner will direct their first picture, which is to be called "Like Kelly Can." The story is an adaptation, made by Joe Farnham, of Vincent Lawrence's "Spring Fever."

Two other players of note who will appear in the picture are Dorothy McNulty, who played on the stage and in the picture version of "Good News," and Katherine Boylan, recently of the Follies.

Paul Hurst With Tiffany

How some of our former stage actors, lately of pictures, are coming to the fore in talkies.

PAUL HURST

Take Paul Hurst, for instance. Hurst had a fine experience on the stage before coming into pictures some twelve years ago. He became a director, but left the films for a while. Now he is back again, and is making a great success, playing in two or three pictures at one time.

His newest role, according to Phil Goldstone, is the best he has had so far in the talkers. It is nothing less than the comedy lead, which is virtually the lead, in Tiffany's production of "Why Marry," which Frank Strayer will direct. Scott Darling wrote the story.

Eddie Cline to Direct

No less skillful a comedy director than Eddie Cline is to be the guiding hand of "Leather-Necking" when R.-K.-O. produces that story as a talker. The original title was "Present Arms."

Hughes Reveals Magnitude of Air Spectacle

Compilations of production figures of "Hell's Angels" have been given out by Howard Hughes, young producer of the $4,000,000 spectacle.

A total of more than 2,000,000 feet of film was exposed in taking the aerial and ground sequences of the picture, the figures reveal. The total number of air miles flown in screening the thrilling episodes of the picture was 227,000.

The most formidable combat air fleet ever assembled, except by governments, was employed, representing a total of eighty-seven ships manned by 137 aviators. The cost of restored World War equipment used in screening the picture was $560,000. An aggregate of $2,000,000 was expended in the aerial sequences alone. A total cost of more than $800,000 is represented by scenic settings, costumes, set dressing and the actors employed. The technical staff included thirty-five cameramen and twelve editors and cutters.

The world premiere on Tuesday night will be the occasion for a mammoth turnout and celebration on the part of the film industry, which has waited three years to view the drama of air war.

'Dover Road' to Play at Mason

Maurice Colbourne and Barry Jones, now playing in "Arms and the Man" at the Mason Theater, will present their London company in another English play, "The Dover Road," starting Monday evening and continuing three days.

The last half of the week will see their revival of Oscar Wilde's brilliant comedy, "The Importance of Being Earnest." Both Colbourne and Jones have excellent light comedy roles in these two plays, while other members of their splendid company will be seen to advantage.

Million Dollar Opens New Bill

"The Benson Murder Case," starring William Powell, is the current film attraction at the Million Dollar Theater. This Paramount picture is presented with a strong supporting cast, including William Boyd of stage note. Boyd's role is said to approach the type which won him favorable notice in New York.

PATRONAGE RECORD SET AT THEATER

"Divorcee" Surpasses All High-Points of Old Film Successes

The Criterion Theater is bringing out its books to see just how far "The Divorcee" has surpassed the high patronage marks of former successes at the theater, according to an announcement. Results so far show that Norma Shearer's vehicle has set up an all-time record.

About three months ago, "Anna Christie" broke the existing record at the Criterion. It was thought at the time that the mark would stand, according to the management, but "The Divorcee" from its opening day has surpassed all existing marks. Prior to the run of "In Old Arizona" at the Criterion, the two pictures which led all others were "Secrets" with Norma Talmadge and "The Kid" with Charles Chaplin.

A strong cast supports the star in the new film, including Conrad Nagel, Robert Montgomery and others. Robert Leonard directed.

'June Moon' Will Start New Run at Playhouse

The comedy of songs and songwriters, "June Moon," written by Ring Lardner and George S. Kaufman, will have its Hollywood premiere tonight at the Hollywood Playhouse.

The same cast which appeared in the show's eastern itinerary as well as in San Francisco and Los Angeles will appear. The players include James Spottiswood, Edith Van Cleve, Murray Smith, Cleve Moore, Nancy Dover, John Daly Murphy and Cyrena Smith.

Actress Wins Desired Role

Josephine Brown, who appears with George Fawcett, eminent character actor of stage and screen, in "The Great John Ganton" at the Vine-street Theater, is a member of the original cast of the play.

Fifteen years ago, Miss Brown was given the part of Hester Ganton, the debutante daughter of the Chicago millionaire. At that time, she aspired to the role of the society matron. Now she is playing the part.

"High Treason" Feature of California Premiere

Futuristic Developments in Film Interesting

Warm Welcome Extended to Well-Known Producer

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The California Theater has reopened its doors.

This is pleasant news to those who recall with pleasure the entertaintainment proffered there in days past under the management of Fred Miller.

With the bright lights glowing, traffic cleared away from the entrance, a street crowd and a capacity audience, the film playhouse on Main near Eighth streets had a gala housewarming last evening.

Fully five years have elapsed since it was on the first run list of theaters. And in these earlier days it was one of the best-known and best-liked centers of entertainment.

The theater has been brightened up for the renewal of its career, with sound apparatus installed, so that it is now a thoroughly up-to-date showhouse, as well as one that conjures pleasant memories.

GREET RETURN

The interest that was displayed in Mr. Miller's renewal of activities as a showman was marked, and the audience enjoyed the ampleness and variety of the program that he presented. There was only one showing during the evening, but a continuous-run policy is to be pursued henceforward.

The main feature of the program is the English production, "High Treason," this being supplemented by the "Hungarian Rhapsody," musical short subject, "Old Black Joe," a Tiffany short film, and a very clever Aesop Fables cartoon comedy, in which antics of a musical nature are revealed.

I find the English film "High Treason" exceedingly imaginative and clever in its technical devices and its general plan. A story of the future, it runs to fantastic lengths, though logical, in portraying what the world will be like when women wear the trousers as their regulation street garb.

"High Treason" takes place, presumably, in 1940, and it presents all the sights that are in the scientific forecasts. There is television, a tube beneath the English Channel, a jazz band that operates very largely under its own control (although I believe there is one old man who operates it,) airplanes that land on the tops of buildings, motor cars built like a torpedo, doubtless because they go so fast, and various other smart new devices and inventions.

PEACE THEORY

Unfortunately, the plot of the picture is less imaginative than are its trappings, and lacks the appeal of reality. Propaganda for peace is injected, and the leader of the peace movement shoots the president of the federated European states and is sentenced to be hanged. He is the father of the heroine, but there is apparently no last-minute rescue. The film closes with the pronouncement of his execution.

While the war is never actually fought in the story, there are suggestions of what it might be like in the bombing of New York City. These scenes reach uniquely into the spectacular domain, and are filled with explosions, collapses of buildings, and other appropriate pictorial effects, including the maneuvers of the airplanes, and the shooting down of one or two of them.

NOVELTY EFFECTIVE

"High Treason" is distinguished chiefly as a novelty, and is much more interesting than most foreign-made features. Partly this is owing to the fact that it was directed by Maurice Elvey, who spent some time in America.

The cast includes Basil Gill, seen here as the professor in the stage version of "Journey's End," and acclaimed for that particular performance. He appears as the president of the federated European states. The other players include Benita Hume, Jameson Thomas and Humberston Wright, most credit to the first two.

The "Hungarian Rhapsody" was received with such definite applause that one wonders that not more of these short musical features are seen. Dr. Hugo Riesenfeld is the director of this film, which utilizes the familiar music of Liszt, as a background to a story of gypsy life.

Negro spirituals are attractively presented in "Old Black Joe."

Mystery Play to Start Soon at President

With the production of "The Whispering Gallery" at the President, starting June 1, the Henry Duffy Players will offer a mystery comedy that has been a success both in London and in New York. This will be its first presentation on the Coast.

The authors, Percy Robinson and Terence De Marnay, have devised an unusual story, it is said. It contains not only the customary weird events, but also an abundance of comedy. Rehearsals are now in progress under the direction of Edwin H. Curtis.

"Elizabeth Steps Out" is the current play at the President.

Circle Reports Many 'Repeats' for War Film

Celebrated screen folk are viewing "All Quiet on the Western Front" at the Carthay Circle Theater several times. At the recent fifth anniversary of the theater's opening many screen players and directors witnessed the Universal war epic for the second and third times, the management reports.

Popular Actress Plays New Role

Billie Dove
Enacts the part of a French maid, the central figure in "Sweethearts and Wives," which starts Monday at Warner Brothers' Hollywood Theater. Clive Brook has an important role.

DRAMA PORTENDS FUTURE

"Wings Over Europe," Enacted at Pasadena Playhouse, Reveals Fantastic and Engrossing Theme

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

A young scientist appears before the British Cabinet with an amazing discovery. He has found the means to control the atom. The power given him by this is so great that he can annihilate the earth, or if he should wish create an entirely new civilization. He is able to change the form of matter, and its substance. With a lump of sugar he is able to blow a hole in the earth larger than any shell used in warfare.

On this premise is the plot of "Wings Over Europe" founded which is playing currently at the Pasadena Community Playhouse. It is a drama of the future, played by an all-male cast—novel, fantastic and at times unusually engrossing—utterly different from the customary run of plays.

This is one of the bigger productions of the Pasadena Community Season. "Wings Over Europe" was performed in New York by the Theater Guild. It was written by Robert Nichols and Maurice Browne.

All of the action takes place at 10 Downing street, London. It is all centered around the table of the cabinet's meeting-place. Necessarily it is polemical to an extent, but for all that the action is restricted, it involves plenty of dramatic impulses.

I do not care so much for the psychology of this play as for its dramatic ideas. The ravings of the young visionary who is the focal character run to almost maddening lengths at times, and the reactions of the statesmen become rather dully introspective.

But the really meaty situations in the play are singularly potent and call the imagination broadly into play.

There is the one especially where the young scientist makes his threat to destroy the world, and announces that he will return to the cabinet chamber in forty-five minutes to do this. Immediately following there is a vivid picturing of the attitude of the various men facing death that is keen with interest. It is the big situation of the play.

There are other moments that attain brilliance in divulging the spirit and the character of the statesmen. In these the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, the Secretary of State of War, the Lord High Chancellor, and various other figure prominently. Personalities as well as political considerations often are a feature of the discussions.

The statesmen first wish the young scientist to destroy his own invention for the good of the world. He declines this suggestion because he declares that some one else will do what he has already accomplished, that it is inevitable. He threatens to demolish Great Britain if the Cabinet does not draw up a constructive plan for the use of his power. He contends that even if they do not appreciate what it can do for the good, the people will. The statesmen succeed in disillusioning him regarding the people's appreciation of idealistic beauty, and it is then that he resolves to cause the annihilation of the world.

All this might seem very Utopian, and pipe-dreamish from the casual showgoer's standpoint and it undoubtedly is, but the quality of fantasy that pervades "Wings Over Europe" entitles it to attention, especially from those who like the unusual in plays.

In the cast Gilmor Brown, Joseph Sauers and Maurice Wells, as the young inventor, wer the source of the most interest, with Brown and Sauers giving the most uniform interpretations, and Wells at times exceedingly good in his frantic enthusiasm for an idea. Onslow Stevenson, Thomas Henry, Richard Yates, Finlay McDermid, Robert Morkill, Guy R. McComb, Freeman Ambrose, Eugart Yerian, Harvey Eagleson, Arthur Fitzrichard, Ray Glass, Aston Wells, Laddie Knudson, Al Willard, Murray Yeats and Paul Huston are other members of a very large cast.

"Wing Over Europe" is worthwhile.

FILMARTE SCREENS SPECTACULAR FILM

"Miracle of Wolves" Pictures Rescue of France by Second Jeanne

BY ELENA BOLAND

As a historical pageant, massive, sweeping and spectacular, "The Miracle of the Wolves" stands alone in its grandeur among the foreign films released by the Filmarte.

The director of this gigantic war reproduction is M. Raymond Bernard, who with the aid of cinematographers, costumers, set designers and historians has restored the France of the middle fifteenth century. It is a France, already ravaged by the 100 years war, torn between the Bergundians and the Royalist followers of Louis XI; a France weakened and depleted and finally saved by a young girl, a second Jeanne.

Jeanne Fouquet was the girl who supported her king so faithfully that she led an army against her lover and would have killed him had not fate interceded at the last moment. Mme. Yvonne Sergyl gives to Jeanne a lofty courage and an indomitable spirit of battle.

Far too complicated are the various issues important in the picture to relate them here. Sufficient will be the high lights. Among them are the many views of battlefields vast and covered with man fighting to the death. Realism has been accentuated by close-ups gory with torturous agony.

The climactic episode is the defense of the city, high-walled and battlemented. This is a remarkable set and replete with medieval atmosphere. Stress is also laid upon the methods and implements of olden warfare so that interest increases.

Although figuring largely in the title, wolves occupy but a small section of the theme. Pursued by the Burgundians, Jeanne faces before her a hungry pack. Through a miracle they do not touch her, but inflict all their venom on her enemies. These scenes of man against beast are especially graphic in their blood-curdling actuality.

Some of the members of the large cast which acredits itself to a man are: M. Charles Dullin, M. Romauld Joube, M. Vanni-Marcoux and M. Maupain.

PLEASANTRY APPEALING IN COMEDY

"Flirting Widow" Feature at Downtown; Artistry of Short Subject Notable,

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

A. E. W. Mason's comedy of fond memory, "Green Stockings," done in chatty celluloid, is the new major attraction at Warner Brothers' Downtown Theater, where it was Vitaphoned yesterday as "The Flirting Widow." The basis, since its production years ago, of countless stage and screen plays—with and without credit—it still remains one of the brighter variations on the Cinderella theme. As directed by William A. Seiter, and performed by a cast of admirable selectivity, it is informal and pleasing enough to be worth a 1930 once-over—if only to discover how very badly you did it yourself with those other determined thespians back in the old high school auditorium.

But lest the flood of memories which a glimpse of the film version may bring swimming about your eyes cause you to go reeling out of the theater at the very instant the picture closes, I must caution you at once to remain a while longer. Warner's Downtown is this week fortunate in the possession of a short subject which seems to me the most artistic of its kind in the annals of sound. Its name is "Yamekraw," one that is derived from that of a Negro settlement on the fringe of a Georgian city, and its theme a Negro rhapsody by James P. Johnson, set to shimmering gray-and-black pictures by a director known as Murray Roth.

Working with lights and shadows and strange angular settings reminiscent of "Caligari," Roth unites the lazy, sprawling existence of the cotton pickers and the savage haze of a Harlem cafe with a superior symphonic jazz played by an unseen orchestra. The effect is one of haunting beauty.

The story of "The Flirting Widow" is too well known to be set down here. Sufficient that its motif is established by the old English custom decreeing that the eldest daughter in a family must cry to the world of her ignored marriageability, by appearing in hose of verdant hue, whenever a younger sister takes the vows. And Celia (Dorothy Mackaill) is the eldest daughter in the Faraday family.

The arrival of her "late husband," invented on the spur of the moment and then quietly killed off, is the signal for the customary complications. Basil Rathbone impersonates the gentleman with elegance and a sense of humor.

The others, all of them capable (as might be expected,) are Claude Gillingwater, Emily Fitzroy, William Austin, Leila Hyams, Anthony Bushell, Flora Bramley and Wilfred Noy.

Practically the entire round of action is laid in the Faraday home. Director Seiter, however, has achieved a semblance of movement throughout, though his observance of certain stage conventions—such as having Miss Mackaill read a letter aloud as she pens it—is not in the screen lexicon.

"The Cheer Leader," with Tom Douglas, and a comic skit are also on the program.

Roberts Leads Five Bands at Philharmonic

Lieut. Harold Roberts and his five bands presented a demonstration concert at the Philharmonic Auditorium last night which convinced the 2000 assembled listeners of the well-known fact that this city would profit by having a municipal band led by this dynamic young American. The first half of the program, consisting of familiar and difficult numbers, was played by the Golden State and Santa Monica bands, which were later augmented by the Trojan, Elks and One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry bands. The Trojan Glee Club and Elks' Chanters contributed to the varied and interesting program.

The rhythm, attack and volume of tone drawn from these organizations by Lieut. Roberts were excellent and the enthusiasm and verve contributed by the men made the concert a success. Notables in the city's political circles were present and were introduced to the audience. Dr. Bruce Baxter of U.S.C. gave a neat speech advocating a Roberts Municipal Band. The combined effect of the good music and speeches which pointed out the obvious need of the city, was such that the audience was impressed with the privilege of supporting this plan.

CHEVALIER TO CLOSE

Maurice Chevalier, who has been appearing at the Mayan Theater during the week, has been forced to cancel his contemplated second week due to his next picture, which is about to go into production at the Paramount studios. His next motion picture is "The Little Cafe."

Health and Diet ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

ELP YOURSELF TO GOLDEN SUNLIGHT

If you have never taken sun aths you should resolve to begin his year; if you are accustomed taking them you will not need be told to, as you no doubt aleady know the benefits and pleasres of sun bathing.

Spring is the best time of the ear to begin accustoming yourself the sun's rays so that your skin ill have achieved its coating of an before the hottest days. By eginning sun bathing now, with ort exposures and increasing em slowly, by the time summer is ere you will be so accustomed to e sun that you can start right enjoying the outdoor fun and ealth which such activity brings, ithout having to fear sunburn.

The sun treatment should be ken by everyone. The sun is free, e treatments cost nothing, and ow that summer is near, one of e greatest health messages I can ive you is to go out of doors and njoy plenty of sunshine and fresh ir.

Sunlight is one of the oldest and est of health treatments, but we re now just beginning to underand some of the scientific reans why the sun adds to our health nd to our joy of living. If you ke your sun baths properly, by e end of summer you will have good coat of tan and you will ave absorbed much of the radiant nergy of the sun which in some y is picked up by the blood from e surface of the skin.

There is no advantage to sunurn. In fact, you would avoid posing your skin too much at rst, as it is neither the sunburng nor the tanning which does you ood. It is the absorption of the sun's chemical rays. If you allow your skin to become burned, you injure yourself just as much as if you were burned with hot water or in any other way. The ultra-violet rays of the sun enable your body to manufacture a substance similar to vitamin D, which allows your body to use calcium which you need for your bones, teeth, hair and nerves. While the sun is best in some high mountainous region, it is still very good at any place where it can reach you and you may as well enjoy it right where you are living.

You need not be afraid to take sun baths even in cold weather. If it is very cold you should move about to keep warm and if it is warm you need not do so, but you should turn over occasionally to give the sun a chance to reach the body evenly.

Children who are taking the sun cure for tuberculosis may be seen playing in the snow with little or no clothing, and still they are not injured by the cold, once their skin has become accustomed to it.

For most people taking sun baths, it is advisable to keep the head covered, especially on hot days. Begin with short exposures, say three to five minutes, and increase slowly about ten minutes per week. In this way the body tans slowly and evenly and no bad effects are felt.

Not only is the action of the sunlight advisable, but also the action of fresh air. Any exercises or games which are enjoyed while absorbing the sunlight will improve the circulation and general health. The sun is a good tonic. Take all you can get of it. Begin moderately and you will thrive and grow strong in its healing rays.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

ASSOCIATIONS BETWEEN SMALL CHILDREN SELDOM HARMFUL

Mothers willingly admit that hat they fear most is that their upposedly model children will be poiled by association with children ho are "not as good as they should e." Mothers inevitably see great aws in the neighbor children.

Let us look back on our own hildhood, for the gentleman wasn't ar wrong who said, "I know chilren because I was once a child." e'll remember, if we're honest, hat all of our playmates were far om being models. But did that ruin us? Of course, not. We remained pretty much what our parents had made us.

Most children have identical experiences, some of them less ideal than we might wish. Most children, if under the influence of good homes, loving, understanding and sensible parents "turn out" well.

MOTHERS WORRY NEEDLESSLY

We have heard too much of that old saw about the bad apple spoiling all in the sack, so we worry unnecessarily about the effect the behavior of other children will have on our own. Naturally, we are not talking of the child of adolescent age, but of the young child just beginning to run outdoors for long hours and find playmates more satisfying than mother and home.

Suppose the 5-year-old next door uses "bad" words. Suppose she does talk back to her mother, and pound her head on the floor when she wants her own way, and grab your children's toys and rule the playtimes? Suppose! Why should this necessarily "ruin" your own child of this age?

TREAT SITUATION CALMLY

Remember that your child is dealing always with you, and not with the neighbor who is responsible for her child's actions. You have handled your child so differently that he has found it useless to get his way by having a temper tantrum. You have made him understand that you do not talk to him in a mean way, and you do not expect him to talk to you that way. He finds you unmoved by language which he does not hear at home; you may even pretend to find it difficult to understand what he is saying and ask him to explain himself in some other way. You never act shocked, though. No, indeed.

You do not call his attention to the bad behavior of the other child and hold her up as a shocking example. You make friends with this child. You notice and show appreciation of her good qualities and ignore those of which you do not approve.

Your children are under your direct influence from birth. Why should the temporary influence of some other child, no matter how startlingly different his behavior, tear down the character you have been building up carefully for these many years? We know, if we only think, that it is an absurd fear.

SHRINK THEM FIRST

It is always wise to shrink ginghams and materials for house dresses, as they are laundered so often and used so hardly. If soaked in salt or vinegar solution, one cupful of salt or one-half cupful vinegar to each gallon of water, and then hung straight on the line in a shady place, the dress will not only be proof against shrinking, but the colors will be set as well. Then cut out your dress and rest assured it will fit until worn out.

A Firm Seat

If you have some article of food that must cool rapidly and wish to put the dish directly on ice, place a rubber ring from a fruit jar under the dish. The ring will adhere to both the ice and the dish and the contents of the dish will not spill.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

CARAMEL BREAD PUDDING

Take two cupfuls of soft bread crumbs, and mix with them one-half a cupful of seedless raisins, one-fourth of a cupful of sugar, and two well-beaten eggs. Add one cupful of milk, place in an oiled baking dish and bake in a moderate oven until brown. While the pudding is baking, boil one and one-half cupfuls of brown sugar with one-half a cupful of milk and four tablespoonfuls of grated chocolate. When the mixture has thickened, and the pudding is removed from the oven, spread this sugar mixture over it.

EGG AND CUCUMBER SALAD

Cut three hard-boiled eggs into thin slices, peel and cut two medium-sized cucumbers into thin slices. Arrange the egg and cucumber on a lettuce-covered plate in the form of a circle, having the slices overlap. In the center place a small star of pimiento and in the center of that just a few grains of egg yolk that his been put through a sieve. Serve this salad with a French salad dressing.

BANANAS AND BACON

Take twelve slices of thin bacon, place them in a saute pan and fry them gently until crisp. Peel and slice lenghtwise, six bananas. Remove the bacon from the saute pan to a hot plate, and place the bananas that have been sliced lengthwise in the pan and fry gently on both sides. Remove the bananas to oblong slices of toast that have been buttered. Cover the top of the bananas with the fried bacon and serve at once.

CHICKEN A LA CREOLE

Cut a young chicken weighing about three pounds, into eight pieces. Cut into small cubes, one medium-sized onion, one medium-shized green pepper, and two large peeled tomatoes. Add to this mixture one-half a cupful of mushrooms, cut in small pieces. Saute the chicken in oil until well browned, then all the onion, mushrooms, green peppers and one clove of chopped garlic. Add to the mixture one-half a cupful of well-washed rice, and one-half a cupful of stock. Combine this with the chicken, cover the pan tightly, place in the oven and let bake until the liquid has been absorbed, the rice tender and the chicken cooked. Place the pieces of chicken in the center of a platter, surrounded by the rice, pour over the sauce and sprinkle with parsley.

VARIED HINTS

Soft green is a desirable tint for the walls of the nursery.

Strong tea will remove vegetable stains from milady's hands.

A set of square oilcloth pillows would be an excellent present to give the family who picnic a great deal and take trips in the automobile.

Every housewife should have a soft-bristled brush with which to remove the dust from her dainty lamp shades. It is the dust that rots the silk and destroys the color and must be removed every week so it will not do any damage.

Avoid "Seconds"

"Seconds" in table or household linens prove to be more expensive in the long run than perfect goods. Flaws in weaving are bound to impair the wearing life of the linen; holes cannot help but spread in the hard usage most household linens receive.

Sugary Molasses

If the molasses in the pitcher has turned to sugar, set the pitcher in a bowl of hot water for a few minutes and the molasses will soon be returned to its former consistency.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

No loss is there without some gain,
Nor joy so great 'tis free of pain.
—Nanny Meadow Mouse.

TWO HAPPY LITTLE FOLKS

By Thornton Burgess

Nanny Meadow Mouse was up in a tree. She didn't get there herself. Farmer Brown's Boy had put her there, although Farmer Brown's Boy didn't know it. Farmer Brown's Boy had put an old tin can up in the tree for a birdhouse and unknown to him Nanny was in that tin can. When Nanny finally discovered where she really was, she was for leaving at once. She waited only long enough to make sure that Reddy Fox was not at hand and no other enemy was in sight. Then she crept out onto a little branch that was just in front of the little round door and started down to the ground. There was an old stick leaning against the tree and slanting down. It was an easy matter for Nanny, for she had climbed before.

"There!" said she, when at last she was on the ground. "I guess I'm about through with that thing. Now what shall I do and where shall I go?"

She hesitated a bit, for she had never been over here before and it was all new to her. She made her way to the edge of the bushes and tried to make up her mind whether to stay in the bushes or to go out on the Green Meadows. She was still undecided when she heard a little rustling back of her. Nanny's heart leaped right up in her throat. Who could that be? It might be Shadow the Weasel. It might be a strange Mouse. It might be—well, there were a lot of people it might be. Nanny turned her head and looked back. Then she gave a little squeal of joy. There was Danny Meadow Mouse!

Danny was staring as if he had never seen her before. You see, they had been separated so long that Danny had been sure that something dreadful had happened to Nanny, and Nanny had been sure that something dreadful had happened to Danny. So it was hard for either to believe that they were once more together. It was Nanny who moved first. After that first little squeal she turned and rushed straight to Danny. They touched noses and right then and there were two as happy little people as could be found on all the Green Meadows.

"Where have you been?" demanded Nanny.

"Where have you been?" demanded Danny.

"Where have you been?" demanded Nanny

Then each told of the adventures they had had. Danny had been wandering around all this time, not knowing where to go and not caring much where he was, so long as he could not find Nanny. It was just by chance that he had come that way just then. He had been not very far from there when Farmer Brown's Boy had come along.

"Did you see Reddy Fox, too?" asked Nanny.

"No," replied Danny. "Has Reddy been this way?"

"I should say so," exclaimed Nanny. "He ran when he heard Farmer Brown's Boy coming."

"Then he must have run the other way and that is why I did not see him," said Danny. "Well, my dear, what shall we do now? Where shall we go? I suppose we may as well look for the place to make that new home we started out to make. Shall we look around here in the bushes or shall we go out on the Green Meadows?"

"That is the very thing I was trying to decide when you came along," replied Nanny.

Just then a Merry Little Breeze wandered by and tickled the noses with an odor that made little cold shivers run up and down their backbones. That Merry Little Breeze brought the smell of Reddy Fox, and they knew by the strength of that smell that Reddy was very near. He must have seen Farmer Brown's Boy leave and have come back to see if Nanny had left that old can.

Height-Limit Building Linked to Lease Deal

Negotiations are in progress between the Seaboard National Bank and Fred Keeler, holder of the lease on the Grosse Building, southeast corner of Sixth and Spring streets, for the purchase of the lease and if the deal is consummated a limit-height office building will be erected immediately on the site, it was announced yesterday by John Grosse, owner of the property.

Glenn Deuel of the Charles G. Andrews Company, realty brokers, and C. C. Albright, are handling the realty matters.

Keeler's lease requires the start of construction of a limit-height office building by January 1, 1931, if the ground lease is to be renewed for an additional seventy-nine years. The bank is negotiating for the lease with a view of carrying out its terms.

The site fronts eighty feet on Spring street and extends to a depth of 155 feet on Sixth. At a recent meeting of the bank directors purchase of the lease is said to have been authorized, but as yet the actual signing of papers has not been consummated.

Georgia-Street Jail Break Plot Believed Nipped

A jail break plot, believed discovered only a few hours before three prisoners in the "felony tank" intended making a break for liberty, was discovered at Georgia-street police station last night by Jailer Arthur Cullens.

Theodore Anderson, held for suspicion of grand theft; Paul Turaney, suspicion of grand theft, and Richard Rogers, suspicion of forgery, occupants of the tank, refused to talk in the preliminary investigation by Lieut. Church and Jailer Cullens and were locked in individual cells.

Lieut. Church and Cullens further discovered a plumbing locker, secured with a heavy log chain and padlock, had been broken open apparently with the section of pipe, but escape in that direction had been stopped because of a tier of bars.

Trial was set for July 8, next, before Superior Judge Fricke, and at that time the findings of three examining physicians will be made public. Swalley was ordered transferred from the County Jail to a ward in the General Hospital.

Stensland of the Sheriff's robbery and burglary detail. Minser and Hickman, according to Stensland, were involved in a shooting affray more than a year ago at which time Hickman was shot by Minser but refused to prosecute.

New Tuna Ground Discovery Reported at Port

Honolulu Banker Forecasts Huge Pack in 1930

Plans to Study Methods of California Packers

BY WALDO DRAKE

Fisheries of the Hawaiian Islands promise to equal the present scope of the Southern California tuna industry within the next few years, in the opinion of Theodore A. Winston, Honolulu capitalist, who arrived from the islands yesterday for a four month's survey of California fishing and refrigeration methods. So many virgin tuna banks have been discovered during the past year, he declared, that Hawaii's tuna pack for 1930 will total 1,000,000 cases, as against the last year's record pack of little more than 100,000 cases.

Mr. Winston told of the recent discovery of enormously rich fishing banks off Hermes Reef, 1100 miles northwest of Honolulu, which he declares, indicate as great potentialities as any known by California fishermen. His two companies, the Hawaiian Tuna Packers, Ltd., and the Honolulu Fishing Company, have built a fleet of sixty-five-foot Diesel sampans, which carrying 41,000 pounds of ice for preservation of fish cargoes, makes the round trip to Hermes Reef in thirty days. All these boats have always come back with full cargoes, the chief difficulty being sufficient live bait. To overcome this bait shortage, Mr. Winston plans to plant California sardines in Hawaiian waters.

Hawaiian canneries are at present meeting the off-season shortage in local waters, he explained, by packing frozen Japanese tuna, of which they will hereafter import fifty tons weekly.

Verification of the tuna banks off Hermes Reef, local experts believe, will undoubtedly result in Southern California's long range tuna fleet transferring their activities to these banks, due to the present shortage in local waters.

EXPORTS OF BORAX COMPANY SHARPLY UP

Pacific Coast Borax Company in five months this year has exported within 90 per cent of its entire 65,000 tons shipped to foreign ports last year, according to W. B. Hinchman, traffic manager of the company. It will dispatch today 1300 tons, bound for Germany on the Holland America liner Kinderdyk.

"We also ship vast quantities across the continent by rail, and the railway agents call our company the 'white spot' on the coast, in these quiet days of industry," declared Hinchman.

Germany, he said, is proving an attractive market, possibly surpassing even that of the United States.

While the Pacific Coast Borax Company leads, three other concerns ship huge amounts foreign, making this port by all odds the greatest borax port in the world. Africa, South America, Italy and Czecho-Slovakia have fallen far behind in the race for world markets, Hinchman said.

The Kinderdyk will carry out 9000 tons of Pacific Coast products, of which 2600 are being loaded here.

H. F. Alexander, president of the Pacific Steamship Company, and several of his staff arrived yesterday from Seattle and San Francisco on his liner H. F. Alexander for a week here, "attending merely personal business." Mr. Alexander said it was on his arrival here that he first heard the rumor that Paul Chapman, head of of the United States Lines, is en route to this coast to negotigate for the liner H. F. Alexander. With him were W. P. Bannister, operating manager, and John C. Clements, port engineer for the line, and F. Archibald of the United States Engineering Company. The liner disembarked 300 travelers and sailed north last night with 500.

Forty-five hundred measurement tons of Los Angeles cargo await the Panama Pacific electric liner Virginia, due from San Francisco tomorrow and sailing the following day for Havana and New York. She will go out with every inch of available space filled with California commerce, and several hundred passengers. Canned goods, cotton, cottonseed meal, and 8000 boxes of Southland oranges are major items to be taken here.

The Dollar liner President Fillmore, due from New York tomorrow with passengers and freight in the globe-girdling service, will have a trial trip over the measured mile standardization course off Point Vicente, probably Monday. The navy's branch hydrographic office has requested mariners to keep clear.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23. (AP)—With a report received in San Francisco to the effect that Paul W. Chapman and Joseph E. Sheedy, president and vice-president, respectively, of the United States Lines, were on their way to San Francisco, the sale of the Pacific Steamship Company's greyhound H. F. Alexander to the United States Lines, which was in circulation some time ago, and subsequently denied, again became circulated along local transportation row.

No one could be found here who knew anything of the contemplated purchase of the H. F. Alexander by the United States Lines, and, as the report was definitely denied by R. Stanley Dollar, head of the Pacific Steamship Company, several weeks ago, little credence was given the rumor.

Shortly before the Matson liner Malolo sails from San Francisco on September 20 for a ninety-day around-the-Pacific cruise, one of the largest orders for supplies and provisions that has ever been placed on the west coast will be turned in by Chief Steward E. C. [illegible], when he orders supplies for the voyage.

Included in his order will be 100,000 pounds of potatoes, 35,000 pounds of poultry and game, 30,000 pounds of beef, 25,000 pounds of sugar, and many more items.

There are more than 600 items on the list, included in which will also be 10,000 pounds of butter, 1500 pounds of cheese, 13,000 dozen eggs, 12,000 pounds of tomatoes and one of the most expensive items will be 250 pounds of caviar.

In addition to this huge initial store, fresh vegetables and delicacies peculiar to the countries visited will be taken aboard en route. To the menu in the Orient will be added field and crested lark, white grouse, mountain cock, golden pheasant, beaver meat, roebuck, young wild boar and bear.

Nineteen ports in twelve countries will
